PUBLIC PRAISES SUN CAMPAIGN

Clerk Trull Laments Conditions in Present Police Building in Market St.

SCENES IN LOWELL'S ANTIQUATED POLICE COURT BUILDING

The campaign launched by The Sun, seeking to bring about the construction of a new building or rebuilding of the present one to take the place of the antiquated and unsanitary structure which houses police headquarters, the district court, the office of the clerk of court, the license commission, headquarters, the probation officer's rooms, the police electricians' workshop, and sundry other branches of the local administration of justice.

Sneeze! Sneeze! If You Have Hay Fever; Don't Ask Health Board for Help Though

Although hay fever is not a disease reportable to the Lowell board of health under the state health laws, information received indirectly by the department indicates that the disease is very prevalent here at the present time. The health authorities have little to offer in the way of remedies except that the sufferer should endeavor to keep his eyes, nose and mouth as clean as possible and, if feasible, to spend a few days in some elevated location.

Hay fever is a disease of the mucous membranes of the nasal and respiratory passages, also at times involving the eye-ball. It is marked by catarrhal inflammation and abundant lachrymation or tears. Asthmatic attacks and great depression also follows in some instances. The disease is due to the pollen of grains and other grasses and to dust, odors, perfumes and irritating substances or to the influence of microbes floating in the air.

has brought commendation from all sides.

From the public which suffers under present conditions, and from members of the local bar, who also are greatly troubled by the lack of facilities, many complaints are heard. The police, and other occupants of various parts of the venerable building, are also loud in their support of The Sun's move for immediate amelioration of the present situation.

Clerk of the District Court Edward W. Trull voiced the general sentiment today, in lamenting the present conditions. "We are badly cramped here," he stated, "and are in the greatest need of more up-to-date quarters for our ever increasing work. We require

LOWELL SWIMMER ABANDONS TASK

Henry Sullivan in Fourth Attempt to Swim English Channel Forced to Quit

Started Yesterday But Gave up Early Today After Being in Water 10 Hours

Lowell, Mass., who started yesterday to swim across the English channel from Cape Gris-Nez, near Calais, to this city, failed to accomplish the feat. He was obliged to abandon his attempt after swimming for ten hours and ten minutes, by which time he had but reached the middle of the channel.

Sullivan abandoned the swim, because of the choppy sea.

This was the fourth attempt of Henry Sullivan to swim the English channel. In 1919 he started from South Foreland and got to within six miles of the French shore. In August, 1920, he made his second effort, starting from Dover this time he reached within three miles of his goal, where he had to give up owing to the rough sea. The next month he again tried from the English coast, and this time did better than any previous occasion, coming within two miles of his objective off Cape Gris Nez.

Troopers Prepare to Move
CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, Aug. 26.—Regular army troops numbering 500 and 600, including 150 who arrived this morning from Columbus barracks, were held in readiness shortly before noon to leave Camp Sherman for the West Virginia coal fields. Railroad coaches were ready for embarkment upon receipt of orders.

Mayor Thompson to Probe Alleged Suppression of Police News

As the police gave out nothing of the robbery of Mr. Gonzales' store, it was assumed they wanted to keep it quiet, or suppress it altogether. In reference to the case Mayor Thompson stated to a Sun representative that he believed all records of the police department should be open to representatives of the press, except in rare instances in which publicity might interfere with the administration of justice. He said that under no circumstances would he countenance the suppression of the news. He said he would at once begin an investigation to determine if the news had been improperly suppressed by the police in the past.

Economic and Other Sections of Versailles Treaty Put Into Effect

Administration to Seek Ratification as Soon as Congress Reassembles

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Full title to "all the rights, privileges, indemnities, reparations or advantages" specified for the United States under the unratified treaty of Versailles is reaffirmed in the separate treaty with Germany signed yesterday at Berlin. Both by blanket declaration and specific enumeration the treaty recognizes the claim of the American government to these benefits and at the same time disavows on the part of the United States any responsibility for provisions of the League of Nations covenant, the

VALERA POINTS WAY TO PEACE

"Not Seeking War, But if it Comes, We Must Defend Ourselves"

DUBLIN, Aug. 26.—(By the Associated Press)—The reply of Eamon De Valera to Premier Lloyd George sums up Southern Ireland's position on an Irish settlement, which is and must remain unchanged. Mr. De Valera declared in addressing the Dail Eireann today after reading the reply at the public session of that body.

The Dail re-elected Mr. De Valera and the members of the cabinet. It also sanctioned loans of £200,000 in Ireland, and $20,000,000 in America. After reading the letter of Mr. Lloyd George to the Dail, Mr. De Valera said:

"That reply sums up our position. Continued to Page 12

MOSCOW MEN SHOED LIKE HORSES

HARDING IS REALLY A DEMOCRAT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—President Harding has become a rival of Abraham Lincoln as a source of presidential anecdotes.

For 50 years Lincoln has supplied elementary textbooks with scores of personal, human stories. Now comes Harding—like Lincoln, the son of common people, reared in a rural community, democrats—with a small "d." And, like Lincoln, Harding has the kind of personality that breeds anecdotes. Here are some:

The Make-Up Rule

Reaching in his pocket for a coin, the president accidentally drew forth a thin, worn piece of metal. "My make-up rule," he explained. His guests were puzzled until the president explained that a make-up rule is a printer's tool of all work. The printer uses it to pick up type, to scrape dried ink from type—even to open bottles and clean his fingernails. "I never fully dressed unless I have my rule," the president said. "It's the back of my profession."

The Golf Tournament

The president was asked to present a cup at a newspaper men's golf tournament. "That might put me in an embarrassing position," he said. "I might have to present the cup to myself. Of course, I'm going to play. You can't bar me—I'm a newspaper man, am I not?"

The Senate Dinner

After Harding had delivered his message to the senate on the soldiers' bill, he attended a luncheon in the capitol with several of his former senatorial colleagues. "Who's going to pay the check?" asked one. "Let's flip pennies for it," said the president. They did. And Senator James W. Wadsworth of New York had to pay.

The Tower Man

The president was reading the morning papers while taking a railway trip. As he finished each one, he folded it up carefully. Then he gazed steadily out of the window.

"I'm watching for a chance to give these papers to a tower man," he said. "Those fellows get mighty lonesome out here all alone and they'll appreciate something to read."

Helps Painters

A group of painters were making the White House white. "Let me show you how to do that," said the president, seizing a brush. "I used to paint as a boy," he explained. "Painted a whole schoolhouse."

Later as he was washing his hands in the executive office he said: "That's more fun than I've had since I've been president."

White House Open

An old lady from a distant state stood looking at the White House. The president gave orders that she be taken through the whole building. Then she was brought to meet him. "I want the people to consider the White House as their own," he said. "I want it to be open especially to those who don't often get a chance to see fine things."

President as Shopper

The president drove quickly to a store in the heart of Washington's business section, dismounted and went shopping. He selected a gift for one of the executive household. "I haven't had much chance to shop since I've been president," he remarked. "That's one drawback of the presidency. I used to do all the family marketing—and I can drive a pretty keen bargain."

The Owl Story

THIN PEOPLE

There are 20,000,000,000,000 Thin People in Your Blood and Each One Wants to Have Vitamins Before You Can Ever Hope to Weigh Normal

If you are thin, scrawny, haggard and rundown looking, and no matter how much you spend on clothes they fail to make you look dressed up and fashionable and you know the chief contributory cause of your wretchedly poor appearance is lack of normal weight, you should eat more vitamins containing vegetables such as lettuce, spinach and apples, and reinforce them from time to time when eating your meals with a little MEDIC-YEEST, which is rich in vitamins, "the soul of the food," so well spoken of by scientists and chemists as a vital food element.

If you want to put on good solid, firm, lasting flesh and build your body to normal weight, to normal vitality, you should obtain from your druggist a package of palatable, harmless, health-giving nourishment in the form of MEDIC-YEEST. MEDIC-YEEST represents vitamins in such a highly concentrated form that one dose of it is estimated to be approximately equal (in vitamin content) to

MUST DISPOSE OF SEIZED BOOZE

Immediate Disposition of $1,000,000 Worth of Liquor in Storage Ordered

"Moonshine" Adulterated or Low-proof Liquor to be Destroyed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Immediate disposition of liquors seized under the national prohibition act on which storage charges are accruing was ordered today by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

Instructions were sent to federal prohibition directors and internal revenue collectors to request the United States attorneys in their districts to petition the courts for disposition orders for all seized liquors, automobiles, boats or other vehicles taken by the government for violation of the prohibition laws.

Liquor such as "moonshine," adulterated and low-proof liquor having no commercial value, should be destroyed, Mr. Haynes said, while the higher proof and unadulterated liquors should be diverted to commercial, but not beverage, uses.

Incomplete reports from the various districts, Mr. Haynes said, estimated the total value of good liquors held by the government at about $1,000,000.

R. R. Employees Reject Rules for Overtime Rates Promulgated by Labor Board

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Rules governing the payment of overtime rates, promulgated by the United States railroad labor board last week to supplant the overtime rules of the national agreement covering shop crafts employees, were rejected as "unjustified" by a conference of regional executive boards of the Railway Employees department of the American Federation of Labor today.

SHIP AGROUND ON CASTLE ISLAND

City of Atlanta Ran Ashore
During Fog in Inner Boston Harbor Today

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—The steamship City of Atlanta of the Ocean Steamship company, inward bound from Savannah with passengers and freight, went aground on Castle Island, in the inner harbor today.

The steamer struck during a fog, wireless messages from Captain Garfield, her master, informed the company of her distress.

There are 13 passengers and crew of 75 aboard the City of Atlanta. No necessity to land them from the vessel had been reported up to 8.30 o'clock and representatives of the company and a police boat started down the harbor to learn the gravity of her position.

Castle Island in clear weather is in sight of the Ocean Steamship company piers.

Passengers Landed
BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Thirteen passengers on the Steamship City of Atlanta, which grounded on Castle Island on her way up the harbor today, were transferred to tug and landed after a delay of a few hours.

BOOSTED THE TAX RATE

Increase in School Expenditures Was a Potential Factor

The greater cost of running Lowell's public schools together with marked increases in the city's interest charges and payments on city debt are the three major items which caused an increase of 4.50 in the 1921 tax rate as compared with the 1920, according to an analysis of the rate made today by City Auditor J. Joseph Hennessy.

The auditor says that these three items alone have resulted in an increase of $1.50 on the rate. The school department this year had an appropriation of $235,000 more than in 1920. Interest charges have been inflated greatly because of the various large

FEDERAL TROOPS READY TO MOVE

600 at Camp Sherman Under Orders to Prepare to Proceed to West Virginia

Details of Pitched Battle Between 300 Deputies and Armed Men at Blair Lackey

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, Aug. 26.—Between 500 and 600 federal troops were preparing to leave Camp Sherman before noon for the coal fields of West Virginia. Approximately 150 men from Columbus barracks arrived here at 8.30 a. m. and were immediately joined by all available effectives at Camp Sherman.

Marching to Mingo
PRYTONA, W. Va., Aug. 26.—The first of the marching bodies of men who camped yesterday and last night at Racine, five miles east of here, and who say they were going through Boone and Logan counties to Mingo, began passing through Prytona shortly before 9 a. m. They marched in good order and seemed to be in excellent spirits after their rest at Racine.

building projects for which money has been borrowed and this year the city will be called upon to pay out for this purpose $185,000 more than a year ago. Payments on the city debt this year will amount to $66,000 more than in 1920. These three items represent an increase of $437,000 which must be raised by taxation this year.

"The secret of the substantial advance in the rate this year may be found in those charges," the auditor said, "and for further light on the increase as far as city expenditures are concerned, we must remember that soldiers' relief will cost twice as much this year as last year and there will also be much more to be paid out on charity, outdoor relief, etc. The police and fire departments will also need more money than usual this year."

During the last ten years the number of women wage earners has increased 50 per cent.

Novel Break Into Store

police are now endeavoring to locate the intruders, but so far their efforts have proved fruitless.

The break was one of the most ingenious ever committed in this city, for the thieves got their loot without even entering the store and the spot where they worked is almost directly opposite a white way light. As far as can be seen or surmised the only tools used by the culprits in committing the theft were a pool cue, two long pieces of heavy wire and perhaps a pair of pliers. In order to get an idea as to just how the break was committed it may be stated that in the front door of the store is a mail slot about 5 inches long and three or four inches in width, and opposite the door on the right hand side of the store is a showcase, which contains revolvers and cigars.

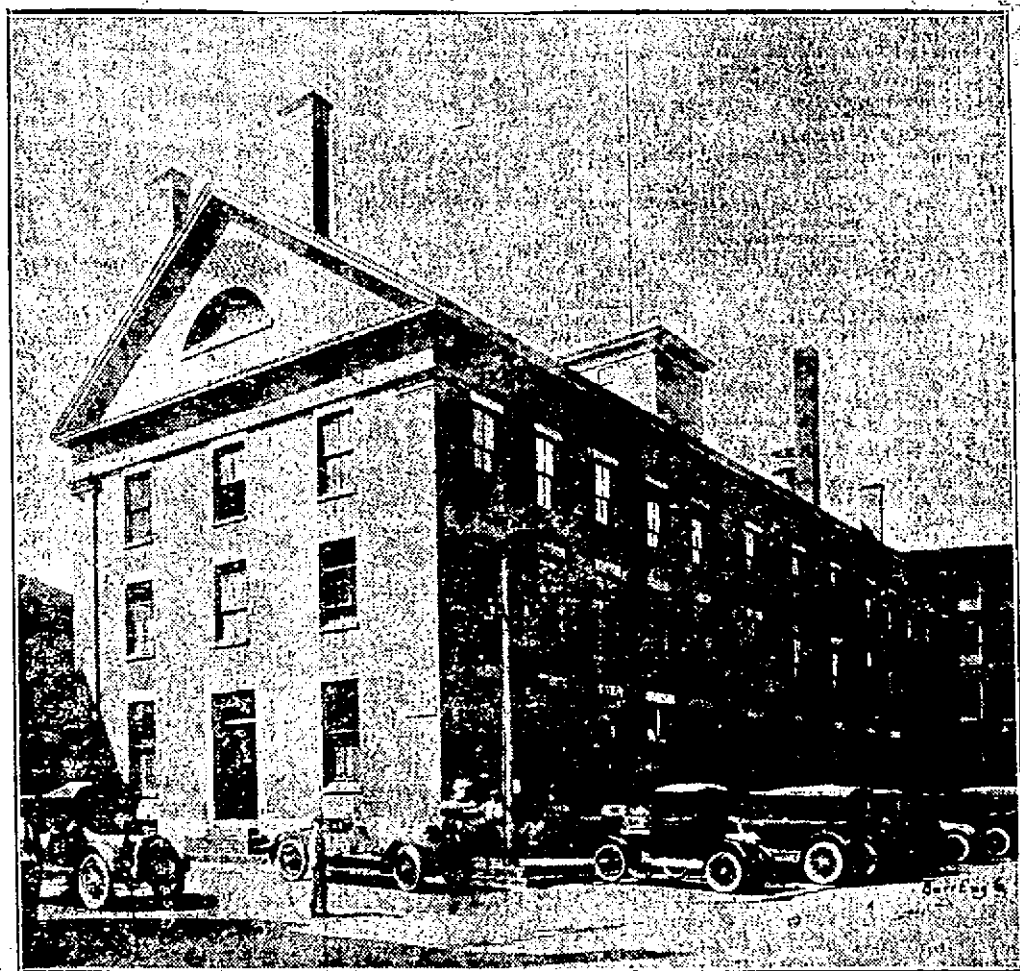

It is believed that the thieves slipped a pool cue through the mail slot in the door and cracked the glass of the showcase. After this part of the work was accomplished they slipped a wire with a hook on the end into the showcase and pulled out four revolvers of the 25-calibre type and then by using a pair of long-handled tongs they got out a bunch of cigars in the same manner.

The theft was discovered shortly after 3 o'clock this morning by Mr. Gonzalez, who upon opening the screen door in the front of his store, found two long pieces of wire between the two doors. As soon as he entered the store he tripped over a broken pool cue and later saw the smashed showcase. He immediately reported the matter to the police and Sergeant McLaughlin and Dwyer were assigned to the case.

In speaking with a Sun reporter this morning Mr. Gonzalez said the police were notified about three weeks ago that plans were under way for a break at his store. He said one day a man came to his store and pointed out to four young men who were standing in front of the store, said he had overheard their conversation and learned that they planned to break into the store. The boys, he said, were discussing the best means of committing the break and they stated the best time to make the break was at 3 a. m. Mr. Gonzalez looked the young men over and as far as he can remember, they were lads about 18 or 20 years of age. The four were tall and thin and all wore caps and blue shirts.

"While my informant, who gave the name of J. C. O'Leary of Middlesex st., was in the store," continued Mr. Gonzalez, "the young men went away. I immediately got in touch with the police and reported to them Mr. O'Leary's statement. That same night a sergeant and two patrolmen came into the store and after looking the place over carefully, gave me some advice about barricading the rear door. The sergeant then informed the patrolmen to be on the lookout and told them that if anything happened they would be held responsible. That is the last I heard about the police activities until this morning when I notified them of the break."

"I feel that if the police had been on their job, the break would not have occurred, and furthermore, I am at a loss to explain why, if the officer on the beat tried the door, as he is supposed to do, he did not detect the pieces of wire which were wedged in between the two doors. It seems to me that we are not getting the police protection we are entitled to, for if we were, my showcase would not have been smashed and today I would not be minus four revolvers and a number of cigars."

MARKET STREET BUILDING

Laments Conditions

better sanitation, and better accommodations for witnesses and members of the public who come here. There is an urgent demand for something to be done. The disagreeable crowding seriously hampers the efficient conduct of business here."

From all corners of the building comes the same story of cramped quarters. The members of the liquor and vice raiding squads are provided with certain lockers on the third floor, supposedly to hang their clothes in, and to use for the securing of other personal effects. However, so insufficient is the space at their disposal, that it is necessary to utilize these lockers for the storage of contraband moonshine, prior to its being sent to the commissioner of public safety at the state house. Liquor has been locked in the closet in the inspectors' room, for lack of better places of safe-keeping, has been enclosed in the vault in the guard room, and yet practically at all times there remains a surplus, which has to be left standing in the corridor on the ground floor.

The policemen have one small room in which to transact their important work. The license board has no adequate place of storage for its records, although it was originally intended, according to Clerk Flaherty of the board, to have part of the vault which extends up through two floors. However, finally one part of the vault was assigned to the police, and the other to the clerk of court's office. That left the license commission to shift as it might in the matter of preserving its records.

There is a lawyer's consultation room now on the second floor (the space being subtracted from the license board rooms); but this is of meagre proportions, considering the volume of the district court business which is constantly being transacted. The bar association of Lowell, comprising all the attorneys of the city, is strong for more fitting quarters. At present it is apparently felt that the accommodations can be described in no less emphatic a fashion than as ridiculous.

As for the police, "Anything that will bring about a remodeling of the police station building will be welcomed by the department," was the statement of a high police official, who tendered enthusiastic praise to The Sun's campaign. "I have hardly a place to hang my hat, so congested are the quarters here. The main corridor is crowded with barrels and other paraphernalia a great deal of the time, as the result of booze raids. There are no adequate places to store the stuff, as conditions prevail at present."

"We have been trying for years to secure these changes," declared a lieutenant of the department, who also hailed The Sun as a benefactor of the department in attempting to bring about the erection of a new building, or at least the complete remodeling of the one now in use.

FISH IN STORAGE
BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Cold storage plants in this state contained nearly two and one half million pounds less fish on Aug. 15 of this year than they did a year ago, Herman C. Lythgoe, director of the food and drug division of the department of health reported today. Fish storage this year amounted to 3,743,261 pounds. Three fish freezers have been shut down indefinitely, Mr. Lythgoe found.

PAIR HANDCUFFED BY GARAGE OWNERS

NORTHAMPTON, Aug. 26.—Two young men, who it is alleged attempted to break into the garage owned by Lewis E. Cook and August F. Winniewasser in the Mr. Tom Meadows district, south of this city, Wednesday, were handed over to the authorities by the garage owners after they had been taken into custody with a display of firearms, and handcuffed.

Peter Starzyk, 20, of Chicopee, was bound over to the grand jury yesterday and the case of William Adrian, 16, was continued for hearing in juvenile court. The young men were heard by the garage owner, who slept in the building, and with a shotgun and pistol Cook and Winniewasser confronted them and marched them to this city. The young men said they were merely seeking oil for their auto.

AUTO INJURIES PROVE FATAL

FITCHBURG, Aug. 26.—Charles E. Gannett, 48, died early last night at the Burbank hospital as a result of injuries received a short time before in an automobile accident on Ashby road.

Mr. Gannett was driving from Ashby to this city, having a load of lumber on an auto truck. A gear broke and the machine turned over, he being crushed beneath the load. His skull was fractured, his nose broken, and he lost one of his eyes.

RAILROAD EARNINGS

Totalled $174,662,167 During the Six Months Ending in June

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Railroads of the country earned $174,662,167 during the six months ending in June as against $31,721,705 during the same period last year, according to figures made public yesterday by the Interstate commerce commission.

The total revenues of the carriers for the period derived from operating their roads was $2,676,497,252, as against $2,741,567,132 for the same period last year. The expenses entailed in operating the roads for the six months was $2,886,741,574, as against $2,575,156,302 for the year before. The operating expenses of the carriers for the period was 88.30 per cent. of the operating revenues as against 93.93 for the six months' period last year.

$22.50

I have three perfectly good reasons for making this unusual offer—

First of all, I want to test the advertising of Lowell papers.

In the second place, I've got a large organization of tailors, cutters and salesmen on my payroll and I am going to keep them busy even if I have to lose money in doing so.

Third, a big Boston woolen house begged me to take 1500 suit and overcoat patterns off their hands at a great sacrifice.

These goods are classed as tailors to the trade samples, real rich designs, in modest colors. Regular $30 to $35 values, in today's market. I place these woollens in made-to-measure garments at the specially reduced price of $22.50, and I'll give you $3.00 off this price if you bring this ad. with you.

My usual guarantee as to quality, trimmings and tailoring goes with this offer.

TAX RATES ARE REDUCED

North Andover Levy Drops
$4 a Thousand—Reduction of $3.20 at Newton

NORTH ANDOVER, Aug. 26.—The North Andover tax rate was announced yesterday as $25 per $1000, a drop of $4 from last year. Large increases in both personal and real estate values are responsible for the reduction. The real estate valuations due to new buildings, has increased $611,000 in the year.

Reduction at Newton
NEWTON, Aug. 26.—The board of assessors yesterday afternoon reported the tax rate for this year to be $24, as against $27.20 last year, a reduction of $3.20. The decrease is due largely to an increase in the number of new buildings in the residential district. Revaluation added to the amount of taxable property.

The total amount to be raised by taxation this year is $2,195,251.20. The valuation of real estate this year is $18,827,600, an increase of $1,659,200 over last year. The personal property valuation is $12,766,200, an increase of $1,158,220 over last year.

WAR PROFITEERS MAY ESCAPE PROSECUTION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The administration's plan to prosecute the profiteers against the government, announced more than two months ago, is in danger of collapse by operation of the statute of limitations, which bars procedure in certain criminal cases after three years from the time of offense. Legislation to meet the situation has been sought by Atty. Gen. Daugherty. Nov. 11 next will be

HOW TO REDUCE VARICOSE VEINS

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunched.

If you will get a two ounce original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it at home as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunched are reduced to normal. Moore's Emerald Oil is very concentrated and a bottle lasts a long time—that's why it is a most inexpensive treatment. It has brought much comfort to worried people all over the country and is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and always bear in mind that anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. the third anniversary of the armistice. It is believed that most of the big offenses on which action was contemplated occurred while the war was in progress.

Among cases which were recommended by the congressional investigating committee on war expenditures, for action through the department of justice, was that of the Standard Steel Car company, in which Secretary Mellon was a leading director. It is not yet definitely known if this is one of the cases in which the statute of limitations is already operative.

Atty. Gen. Daugherty wants the period of limitation in criminal cases increased from three to six years, to apply generally. Representative Graham introduced a bill Monday and the house judiciary committee reported it favorably Tuesday, but it failed of passage. There is little chance now that it will become law prior to Nov. 11 and the chances point toward a clean sweep of the administration's profiteering program to carry on which many lawyers have been gathered here to bring action.

The reason for the delay, it is said, has been inability of the department of justice to get its evidence together in time.

A regularly organized women's club existed in New York in 1747.

U. S. SEN. PAGE OF VERMONT TO QUIT POLITICS

RUTLAND, Vt., Aug. 26.—United States Senator Carroll S. Page announced yesterday at his home in Hyde Park, that he will not be a candidate for re-election in 1922. His statement was as follows:

"The question has been asked me, and I should expect as the weeks multiply it would be often repeated, 'Do you intend to be a candidate in 1922 to succeed yourself as United States senator?' The question is a proper one and in justice to my friends should be finally answered now. My answer is 'No.'"

"It is 52 years since, as representative from Hyde Park, I first entered public life. While my official service has not, of course, been continuous, I have, nevertheless, been actively interested in public affairs all these years. I shall always be proud of the generosity that has made that service possible. I have tried to give the best that was in me, according to my opportunities, for the good of the people who have called me to serve."

"I am today the oldest living United States senator and when my present term expires, shall have entered my 51st year. The time has come when home is the dearest spot on earth and at the end of my present term I want to spend the years remaining to me back with my old friends in Vermont."

DEATH OF EMPLOYEE IN THE CAR SHOPS

While suffering from a temporary attack of insanity, caused by despondency over ill health, Joseph Brodeur, aged 49 years, an employee of the Billerica car shops and father of eight children, hanged himself in the cellar of his home, 501 Gorham street, yesterday. The body was found late in the afternoon by a daughter of deceased, who went down stairs for wood. The remains were taken down by Lieut. Palmer and Patrolman Farley and were later viewed by Medical Examiner T. B. Smith. Deceased was last seen alive at about 8 o'clock, when he left the house, saying he was going to his work.

BAFFLED AGAIN

BY OCEAN TEMPESTS

EXMOUTH, Eng., Aug. 26.—Battered a second time by ocean tempests, the yacht Melora, of 115 tons, which first departed April 12 for the South seas, where its ship's company of 21 souls sought refuge from civilization in a tiny island in the docks here with new passengers in its history of disappointed hopes. Twice the Melora has started from England and twice she has returned. The last time, the little vessel carried 14 men, seven women and three children bound for a paradise on earth where neither tax gatherers nor strikers disturb. "We had to come back because the women could not stand the rough weather," one of the pioneers declared and with this the women agreed. Despite the two unsuccessful departures, the party, with only six seafarers, has remained resolute and determined to complete the journey. Plans now contemplate a new start. This time, however, there will be no women on board. They will take the "overland" route across the American continent and thence to Tahiti in the Society Islands. The exact location of the colony has not yet been determined, but it is understood that T. F. Rhodes, organizer of the expedition, has obtained an option on 1000 acres in Tahiti.

NEW FUEL CUTS COST OF RUNNING AUTO

ROME, Aug. 26.—Through the invention of a gas generating mixture composed of alcohol and a sulphur-carbon combination, the cost of operating automobiles and all internal combustion motors can be reduced one-half, according to the claims of Engineer Sestil, who after exhaustive experiments under the auspices of the Italian government has just completed a report on the possibilities of the new combustion. The use of the new gas generating mixture pre-supposes the employment of a special kind of carburetor, which Signor Sestil has evolved. The experiments have been in progress over a period of almost three years and were begun with a special view of lessening the cost of automobile fuel. The new fuel has a density greater than that of gasoline in the ratio of 225 to 720. It is urged that the adoption of this fuel will considerably lessen the importations of foreign gasoline. Practically all the raw materials necessary for the new fuel can be found in Italy. The inventor claims that the exhaust gas is less obnoxious to the lungs than the fumes of gasoline. The proportion of 70 per cent. is employed in the fuel while the remaining 30 per

ENORMOUS DAMAGE CAUSED BY FLOOD

LONDON, Aug. 26.—A Router cable from Karachi, British India, says that unprecedented floods in the Malir district, which is in the watershed of the Indus, has caused extensive damage. Entire villages have been swept away, 10 persons having been killed and many more are homeless, while cattle have been drowned and crops destroyed.

If you are well bred and are making your home with your son or daughter you will add their names to the invitation to the formal affair for which you send out cards. You will have no bridesmaids at your wedding if you are married in a travelling suit. One attendant for the bride at such a wedding is all that is permissible. And are travelling with a party you will not try to show your knowledge of other localities by holding the floor with long comparisons of other things you have seen. Fires in coal mines of the Hocking Valley in Ohio have been burning for the last 37 years.

RECORD CONVICTIONS UNDER DRY LAW

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 26.—The United States district attorney's office for the district of Hawaii can boast the highest batting average in the attorney-general's department in obtaining convictions under Volstead prohibition enforcement law, according to a letter reaching the district attorney from the attorney general recently. Despite occasional whispers of widespread violations, the district attorney has a record of 66 per cent. convictions in the prohibition cases. Without wasps, fig trees would not produce fruit.

DESOLATION HOVERS OVER KIEL HARBOR

KIEL, Aug. 26.—German-Americans who frequent the lobbies of hotels in Berlin can often be heard remarking that Germany has won the war.

If they were to visit Kiel and other German naval bases they would probably get a decidedly different impression. Nothing could be more complete than the desolation which hovers over Kiel harbor, formerly the port of war for the German navy and probably the best haven in all Europe.

The great shipyards which created most of the craft for the German navy are silent. Rusty sheds mark the scene of former activity. Idle, deserted docks stand as sad reminders of days when Kiel was the port to which all German eyes, and in fact all the eyes of Europe were directed.

All machinery which the allied commissions regarded as useful for war purposes has been dismantled. Floating docks, cranes and other extensive equipment have been moved away to recompense Germany's enemies for the damage done by Admiral von Tirpitz's submarines.

In normal times, Kiel had 50,000 naval officers, sailors and employees in the harbor all the time. Now the naval personnel is less than 1,000. The city which formerly had a population of 250,000 as lost all of its great government payroll and one-fifth of its population.

Fort Falkenstein and the other batteries which covered the Baltic entrance to the Kaiser William Canal have been reduced to piles of crumbled

LONDON'S UNEMPLOYMENT FIRE

"Wanted: 60 men in lumber yard." Four thousand answered this ad in London. After 60 had been accepted the gates were closed. Rioting broke out and soon the lumber yard covering 17 acres was a mass of flames. Here's a general view of the fire. Loss $3,000,000.

concrete and twisted steel. Their great guns have been saved into bits and pitched into scrap heaps.

The naval academy is closed. An empire without a navy has no use for more naval officers. The attendance at the university has dwindled. The castle of Prince Henry, overlooking the naval harbor, has been taken over by the workmen for a club, and there are no warships in the magnificent waterway where the former Emperor William used to review his navy with pomp.

It was here that the flower of the German navy lay, safe behind torpedo nets, during most of the war. At present there are only two antique cruisers lying at the Imperial naval docks. These are so far out of date that the English and French didn't think it was necessary to scrap them, and hesitated to offer such craft to any of the nations which had helped win the war.

Small commercial shipyards are operating and the commercial harbor still has a little business.

The Kiel canal is still quite active. But Kiel derives little benefit from the business passing through the canal and cannot revive materially until exchange conditions become such that it can again buy timber from the Scandinavian countries and resume its importance as a lumber depot for Central Europe.

NEW PHOTOS IN "LUCKY PENNY" MURDER CASE

MADALYNNNE OBENCHAIN

This character study of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain reveals the despondent mood which has claimed her since her indictment for complicity in the ambush murder of her sweetheart, J. Belton Kennedy, Los Angeles broker. Kennedy, for whose sake she secured a divorce from Ralph Obenchain, Chicago Attorney, was shot in her presence while the two were searching for a "lucky penny." Mrs. Obenchain said she had previously buried at Kennedy's secluded summer cottage near Los Angeles. Indicted with her is Arthur C. Burch, her "platonic friend" who had come to her a short time before the murder in response to her summons.

J. BELTON KENNEDY

This is believed to be the only authentic picture in existence of J. Belton Kennedy, 25, Los Angeles broker and the man with whom Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain declared herself ardently in love prior to his murder for which she and Arthur C. Burch stand indicted. Because of Kennedy's mother's objection to a possible wedding, Mrs. Obenchain's love letters reached him through an intermediary in a Los Angeles beauty shop.

ty goldfisher, it was learned on good authority that the escaped man is a dangerous criminal. He is reported to have been serving a term for breaking and entering. For the past few days he had been sullen and restless.

Officer Thompson and constable Mitchell are working with a picked squad on the outskirts of Woburn, while at Ossipee another gang of volunteers is working toward Woburn. The escaped man is said to have been sentenced at the last term of the court and to have remarked at the time that he would never serve his sentence.

WOULD INCREASE STEEL BILL $24,000,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The annual steel bill of the United States will be increased nearly $24,000,000 under import taxes levied by the Fordney tariff bill on certain raw products entering into steel manufacturing. John A. Topping, chairman of the Board of the Republic Iron and Steel company, declared yesterday before the senate finance committee. Speaking in behalf of a delegation representing independent steel companies, Mr. Topping asserted that the steel industry must look to a broad market to keep its plants going, and said the expansion could be accomplished only through low production costs. He told the committee there was an exportable surplus of 20 per cent. of the output, adding that if rates on the alloys were reduced providing cheaper raw materials, the industry would be able to maintain its place in world markets.

Mr. Topping said he was disposed to regard the Fordney measure as a revenue tariff and not as a protective levy insofar as the steel industry was concerned. The discussion turned suddenly to conditions in the steel and other industries and brought from Mr. Topping the statement that the depression now is the worst in his experience of nearly 40 years in the steel industry. He estimated that steel plants with their mines and other component factors are running less than 35 per cent. of their maximum capacity and that only about 300,000 men are employed at present, against a normal employment of 1,500,000.

Asked as to production costs, Mr. Topping declared that undoubtedly the cost of making steel is too high to create a demand.

OPPOSE CHANGE IN FROZEN EGG TARIFF

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 26.—The New England Master Bakers' association at its annual convention yesterday, passed resolutions regarding federal legislation and appointed a committee to confer with the American Institute of Baking on the subject. Resolutions were also passed requesting that the United States senate permit the tariff on frozen eggs to remain at 4 cents, on dried eggs 10 cents.

A clam bake was served the members at Riverside in the afternoon, the program including athletic sports.

POSSE HUNTING FOR ESCAPED PRISONER

SAVING WASHINGTON ELM

Tree surgeons are again at work to prolong the life of the famous Washington Elm in front of the Capitol. Washington is said to have frequently eaten his lunch under the tree during the construction of the Capitol. It has shown signs of decay for many years and only frequent operations prolong its life. Notice three men are at work.

NEW "BLUE SKY" LAW EFFECTIVE TODAY

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—The new "blue sky" law, intended to prevent the sale of worthless securities, becomes operative in this state today. It will be administered by the public utilities commission.

Already the commission had received more than $13,000 in fees for the registration of brokers and salesmen. The fee for an individual or a corporation is $50 a year and that for a salesman is $2 a year.

According to data prepared by the commission, 247 applications have been received from brokers and 747 applications from salesmen. All the applicants have been registered, but should the commission, through investigation, learn facts later which warrant the act, the registration issued may be canceled.

All persons selling securities within the commonwealth, as a broker or salesman, must be registered by the commission, under penalty of a fine of not more than $5000 or imprisonment for not more than 2½ years, or both.

BEER REGULATIONS NOT TO BE ISSUED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Beer, as a medicine, was doomed yesterday by the treasury unites congress, after recusal should fail to enact the Willis-Campbell anti-beer bill.

In conference with Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair, Secretary Mellon decided that the regulations already drawn, which would permit physicians to prescribe a case of beer at a time, with no limit on the number of prescriptions, should be held up by the treasury pending determination of the medical beer question by congress.

In reaching this decision it was explained the treasury took the attitude that issuance of the regulations in the face of what was regarded as certain hostile legislation would be to no purpose, especially as brewers have shown no desire to have the beer rules promulgated or to begin operations before congress finally accepts or rejects the anti-beer bill.

HAVE MADE A RECORD AS GARDENERS

Elmer Clement and Thomas Boyle, two boys residing in West Fifth avenue have a record for fine gardens in the Pawtucketville section. Elmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred F. Clement. Miss Alice T. Lee, supervisor of school gardens, has given him high praise for his agricultural work.

Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyle, also of West Fifth avenue, is another young man whom Miss Lee has deemed worthy of special credit for his hard work and persistence in maintaining a splendid garden.

CRANBERRY CROPS ARE HARD HIT

WAKEFIELD, Aug. 26.—Although Thanksgiving day and Christmas cranberry sauces are not threatened with disaster, May and June frosts, July floods and worms have combined to reduce Massachusetts' cranberry crop to an estimated 265,000 barrels this year, V. A. Sanders, federal crop statistician and I do not think it necessary to deal with it now, particularly as we haven't got a reply from the British government.

"Our position is unchanged. We cannot change our position, because it is fundamentally sound. Just the moment we get off that fundamental rock of right and justice we have no case whatsoever. No fight can be made except on that rock, and on that rock we shall stand."

Mr. De Valera proposed Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Féin, as vice-president and minister of foreign affairs and the re-election of the other ministers, and the Dail adopted his recommendation.

British Offer Rejected

LONDON, Aug. 26.—(By the Associated Press).—The British government's peace proposals were laid before the Dail Eireann, which rejected them unanimously, but is willing to negotiate on the principle of government by consent of the governed. Eamon De Valera says in his reply to Mr. Lloyd George, the British prime minister, "The letter proposes that Great Britain and Ireland appoint representatives with plenary powers to negotiate details on this principle."

"We have not sought war nor do we seek war, but if war be made upon us we must defend ourselves, and shall do so," says Mr. De Valera's letter. "We long to end the conflict between Great Britain and Ireland," he adds.

Text of Reply

The text of the letter, which bears the date of August 24, reads:

"The anticipatory judgment I gave in my reply of August 10, has been confirmed. I laid the proposals of your government before the Dail Eireann and by a unanimous vote it has rejected them."

"From your letter of August 13 it was clear that the principle we are asked to accept was that the 'geographical propinquity' of Ireland to Great Britain imposed the condition of the subordination of Ireland's right to Great Britain's strategic interests, as she conceives them, and that the very length and persistence of the efforts made in the past to compel Ireland's acquiescence in a foreign domination imposed the condition of acceptance of that domination now."

Fatal to World's Peace

"We cannot believe that your government intended to commit itself to the principle of sheer militarism, destructive of international morality and fatal to the world's peace. If a small nation's right to independence is forfeited when a more powerful neighbor covets its territory for military or other advantages it is supposed to confer there is an end to liberty. No longer can any small nation claim the right to a separate existence. Holland and Denmark can be made subservient to Germany, Belgium to Germany or to France; Portugal to Spain.

"If nations that have been forcibly annexed to an empire lose thereby their title to independence there can be for them no re-birth to freedom."

Charge Fundamentally False

"In Ireland's case, to speak of her seceding from a partnership she has not accepted or from an allegiance which she has not undertaken to render, is fundamentally false, just as the claim to subordinate her independence to British strategy is fundamentally unjust. To neither can we, as representatives of the nation, lend countenance."

"If our refusal to betray our nation's honor and the trust that has been reposed in us, the necessity of war by Great Britain we deplore it. We are conscious of our responsibilities to the living as we are mindful of principle or of our obligations to the heroic dead."

Not Seeking War

"We have not sought war nor do we seek war, but if war be made upon us we must defend ourselves and shall do so, confident that, whether our defense be successful or unsuccessful, no body of representative Irishmen or Irishwomen will ever propose to the nation the surrender of its birthright."

"We long to end the conflict between Great Britain and Ireland. If your government is determined to impose its will upon us by force, and antecedent to negotiations to insist upon conditions that involve a surrender of our whole national position and make negotiations a mockery, the responsibility for the continuance of the conflict rests upon you."

Points Way to Peace

"On the basis of the broad guiding principle of government by the consent of the governed, peace can be secured—a peace that will be just and honorable to all and fruitful of concord and inducing to amity."

"To negotiate such a peace the Dail Eireann is ready to appoint its representatives, if your government accepts the principle proposed, to invest them with plenary powers to meet and arrange with you for its application in detail."

"I am, sir,

"Faithfully yours,

(Signed) "EAMON DE VALERA."

The reply to Mr. De Valera's letter probably will be drawn today, the British cabinet having met and considered the communication.

Fitzalan Summoned

DUBLIN, Aug. 26. (By Associated Press).—Viscount Fitzalan, lord lieutenant and governor general of Ireland, was summoned to London last night to confer with the cabinet.

U. S. DESIGNERS HOLD TO STRAIGHT LINES

BY MARIAN HALE

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—While extremists, as well as alarmists, are terribly concerned over the "to be or not to be" of the long, full skirt—smart New York designers go merrily on their way creating the graceful straight-lined gowns. A model of exceeding grace and chic is the Norman & Katz gown of whip-poor-will brocade with its long panel-effect back and front, the panels lined with white silk, semi-detached in the back. Chased metal buttons and a metal belt and the large sleeves are the only trimmings as the brocade speaks for itself. Chenille as a trimming is very much in evidence this fall as is shown in the Realart frock of Roshanara crepe worn by Helen Cunningham. While there is nothing essentially Spanish about the cut of this gown, which is showered with chenille points, the hat is decidedly Hispanic. The gown also has the broad sleeves, and rovers open from a vest of lace. The narrow belt sash has long chenille fringe ends.

$150,000 Loss at Hyannisport

HYANNISPORT, Mass., Aug. 26.—Fire destroyed the summer mansion of Harry T. Dunn of New York, automobile manufacturer, early today with loss of about $150,000. The family was absent at the time but the servants were driven out by the flames. The cause of the fire is unknown. Aid was called from Hyannis and Centerville.

SISTER FROM ASSYRIA

Church Worker From Near Jerusalem is Now Visiting in Lowell

Rev. Sister Mariam Saffy, a member of the Society of Girls of Notre Dame of Saldnaya, Assyria, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Maria, of Suffolk street and Mrs. Fahane Kallina, of 217 Fletcher street. The visiting nun is on missionary work in this country and has been in America for seven years. She expects to return to her country shortly.

Rev. Sister Saffy is connected with the Greek Orthodox church and her mission is to visit every colony of Assyrians and Greeks in this country in an endeavor to raise funds for the maintenance of the monastery of Notre Dame, which is located at Saldnaya, an institution which looks after the welfare of the orphans of Assyria. The monastery is a large stone building situated on a high elevation and is now housing 1000 girl orphans.

Turks Responsible
These little girls, according to Sister Mariam, have been made orphans through the atrocities of the Turks.

ter Mariam, have been made orphans through the atrocities of the Turks. The children of the Greek Orthodox faith are being cared for by the Sisters of Notre Dame, but inasmuch as their revenues are limited they are forced to send out representatives to various countries of the world.

Six or seven years ago Sister Saffy and Sister Mariam Sabbage came to America with credentials signed by Patriarch Gregorius of Damascus and the sister who is visiting in this city reports that they have been well received wherever they went. Sister Sabbage is now in the western part of the country, but it is expected that within a few months both will again meet and embark for the voyage across.

Needs Improvements

The convent which the sisters represent is a fine institution, but the building needs considerable improvements. One of the most important is the establishment of a water system, for at present those in charge of the home are forced to carry water from a spring a distance of over a mile, and when one takes into consideration that there are nearly 1000 children in the home and 40 sisters, one gets an inkling of what it means to keep the home well supplied with fresh water. The monastery is surrounded by a farm, but owing to the poor condition of the land, as the better land has been taken over by the Turks, very little grain and vegetables are being raised.

Saldnaya is located about 500 miles from Jerusalem and is a place visited by thousands of tourists every year. The peasants of the district are mostly poor and although they are willing to do their utmost in aiding the home, they are unable to meet the expenses of such a large institution so that sisters are sent out in various parts of the world to raise funds and their efforts are meeting with success. Rev. Sister Saffy will leave this city next Monday for Manchester, N. H., where she will be the guest of relatives.

Probe of Break in Mexican Petroleum

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—In its investigation of a break in Mexican Petroleum after a fall in the rate of dividend had been disseminated by a ticker service, the New York Stock Exchange today ordered its members to report their transactions in the stock yesterday and the day before, with names of clients, prices and other details. The ticker service declared it had been deceived by a telephone message and in this connection the order of the exchange for information as to short and long commitments was regarded as significant.

Cue Sheets Provide Music to Synchronize With Film Action

Louis Gottschalk. He produced Franz Lehar's "Merry Widow" and composed the music for many stage plays. Now he writes scores to fit action of movies. He's doing that for "The Three Musketeers" and "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

By JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 25—You go to a movie. The picture seems of a fair sort. The action is lively. The camera work is good. The continuity is smooth. Yet something disturbs you. Probably it's the music. The orchestra may be capable, but still there's something about the music that makes you fidget in your seat and grow weary of the picture.

That's because music and the story action don't fit each other. They're not synchronized.

However, these incidents are becoming fewer as producers more and more enter into the business of furnishing the musical accompaniments for pictures.

Almost every film sent out is accompanied by a cue sheet. The cue sheet tells the orchestra director or the organist just where to play certain airs. These are indicated by titles or descriptions of situations in the play.

Most cue sheets for feature pictures call for 30 to 60 changes of tune or tempo.

Special scores are prepared for the bigger pictures.

Louis Gottschalk, who produced

Franz Lehar's "Merry Widow" is preparing special scores for "The Three Musketeers" and "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

Gottschalk wrote an original score for D. W. Griffith's "Broken Blossoms." He had also composed the music for a number of stage plays, among them "The Wizard of Oz."

In 1920 Louis XIII wrote a piece called "Amaryllis." Gottschalk has chosen this piece for the opening bars of the accompaniment he has prepared for "The Three Musketeers."

Many excerpts of old court music will be used in Gottschalk's score some of it dating back to 150. One selection, introducing Margaret de La Motte as Constance was written by Henry IV, father of Louis XIII.

Music of old English masters will be in the synchronization Gottschalk is preparing for "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

Movies in Australia

The total attendance at movies in Australia last year was 67,466,557. That's 13 times the total population of the country. The revenue paid was almost half the sum paid in taxes by all amusements combined.

AUTHOR'S WORKING CLOTHES

Many writers employ as the theme for their stories the temperament of dramatic folk. They might find subjects just as interesting among their own ilk.

Dizack wrote in a dressing gown. Mark Twain, in pajamas. Elinor Glyn receives inspiration by having skins of savage beasts in her study.

And now it becomes known that Rita Weisman, author of "The Aquitain," stage play, and "The Grim Comedian," new movie, works in a kimono of pale green silk embroidered in amethyst.

"Color is a stimulant," she says.

SON IN HUGHES' FILM

Rupert Hughes' son, Rush, 19, will appear as a college athlete in "The Wall Flower," which his dad wrote. Then he will go back to his books at Princeton.

THE MOVIE GRAB BAG

"Lay It Out." Tom Mix's next. Milton Sills is to be Mildred Harris' leading man in "Miss Lulu Bett." Virginia Valli is to play the leading feminine role in "His Back Against the Wall."

Barbara Bedford, just made a star by Fox, is only 12. She has been in pictures a little over a year.

"Riding With Death." That's the stirring title of Buck Jones' next. Betty Francisco plays opposite him.

Ethel Clayton has started to enact the leading role in the screen version of Eugene Brieux's "The Cradle." Olga Printzlau adapted it.

Zane Grey sends a chapter of his story by wireless each day to Ron B. Hampton who is making a film version of it.

A proclamation in 1550 prohibited the erection of additional buildings in London.

CORNS ENDED BY A TOUCH

Pain Stopped Instantly—Corns Removed Quickly and Gently

This is the scientific way, the modern way to end corns. A famous expert evolved it. A world-famed laboratory produces and guarantees it.

With millions it has displaced old methods, harsh and crude.

It is Blue-jay—the liquid or the plaster. Either is applied by a touch. The pain stops at once, and soon the whole corn loosens and comes out.

Thus any corn, old or new, can be ended at your will. No joyful hour need ever be spoiled in this way.

DANISH MARKET FLOODED WITH FOREIGN GOODS

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 26.—There is comparatively little commerce in the Baltic owing to the disparity in exchange rates. Danish dairy products, hams, bacon and other foodstuffs which formerly went to Germany can no longer find a market there because of the unfavorable exchange.

German goods from Warnemunde to Copenhagen find that their crisp thousand-mark notes shrink to 73 crowns and prices are so high in crowns that it is impossible for German merchants to buy Danish butter and cheese for the Danish market. Consequently the Danes must depend for a market on countries which also have high exchange. Recently they have tried butter and cheese shipments to the United States.

The Danish market is glutted with foreign manufactured goods which have been assembled in the hope of invading the Russian market. Shop windows are filled with American goods. California tinned fruits and American shoes of all sorts are especially prominently displayed. Bananas are abundant in the markets and dealers are hawking them everywhere about the streets in striking contrast to the German cities, where bananas are seldom seen.

Shops of all sorts in Copenhagen have much larger and more varied stocks than can be found in the large German cities, where the government import regulations have kept out luxuries which could not be smuggled in through the occupied area.

Danish business men are making desperate efforts to establish satisfactory business relations with the government of soviet Russia in the hope of relieving the depression which has followed the drop in prices, but so far the Russian business has not been satisfactory.

The Great Northern Telegraph company, which owns the direct cables which formerly operated between Petrograd and Copenhagen, is negotiating with the soviet government for a resumption of direct telegraphic communication between Petrograd and Danish cities and has effected a preliminary agreement which will probably be signed before winter.

As the Baltic is still alive with mines, especially in the Gulf of Finland and the cables have been much damaged by years of disuse, it is not likely that they can be repaired before Petrograd is frozen up this winter.

Efforts have been made to locate all these mines but shipping is still very hazardous on the routes leading to Petrograd and the vessels which recently entered that port were protected by small craft which proceeded ahead of them cautiously and removed all obstacles.

Of the more than 5,000,000 women employed in the United States, about 2,000,000 are organized.

REFUSE TO LOOK ON UNVEILED WOMEN

ANGORA, Aug. 26.—Turkish men still refuse to look upon unveiled Turkish women when passing them in the streets or on the roads, despite the attempt of the latter to adopt the preachments of Halide Hanum and other workers for the freedom of woman in Asia Minor.

"According to our customs, it is impolite to stare in public or address or look on the face of our women, and I can't break the custom," explained a Turkish officer traveling with the correspondent.

In the nationalist capital of Angora Halide Hanum Muride Ferid Hanum, the author and wife of the former minister of finance, and many other women who came out from Constantinople to support the nationalist movement, go about the streets or ride horseback with their veils turned back, and folded into a handsome headdress, modeled after the Russian style.

But, outside of Angora, despite the example set by American women of charity organizations, or of the example of Greek and Armenian women, most of the Turkish women strictly maintain the old custom.

This applies not only to women of the households but also to the many women seen working in the fields or along the roads, driving ox carts or donkeys laden with army supplies, or wheat being exported to Russia.

The custom of veiling has long been modified to the extent that the face may be shown freely to the men of the village or of the party with whom the women may be working or traveling, but so soon as a stranger approaches whether Turk or European approaches the veil is drawn. If the stranger is a Turk he looks straight ahead, as if the women were not present. If the European or American turns his head to catch a glimpse of the women, they hurriedly pull the veil closer, so only the eyes can be seen. The older the woman, the closer the veil is drawn.

As the pretty gauze or thin cloth of pre-war days, white, blue, black or brown, cannot be had, the veils are often of coarse white cotton, and in the case of the working women, the cloth may be a stiff heavy cotton which serves as sun bonnet. Sometimes the headpiece drops to the waist or further, and can scarcely be distinguished from the loose, flowing garments so characteristic of the orient. If the veils are very poor, the veil and other garments may be a crazy quilt thing of patches of all colors and thicknesses, pathetically mended and browned by sun and weather.

PISGAH PARK MAY BE RENAMED PERSHING PARK

GENERAL AT BILTMORE

Entertained by the Widow of Late George W. Vanderbilt

By Newspaper Enterprise
ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 25.—From tourists visiting Pisgah national park comes the suggestion that this great scenic preserve be renamed after General Pershing.

Pisgah national park consists of more than 50,000 acres of forest and mountain which the government a few years ago purchased from the estate of the late George W. Vanderbilt. It then was named Pisgah park.
General Pershing several times has visited this region and has expressed particular fondness for it.

Last year he inspected two government hospitals here and also was shown over the Vanderbilt estate, of which Pisgah park formerly made something less than half.

This year he returned, accompanied only by an aid, as the guest of Mrs.
Vanderbilt, a charming widow of about 50. The general was entertained at the million-dollar mansion which when built by Vanderbilt, was the finest private home in America. Few surpass it now.

Mutual acquaintances have wondered whether the mutual appreciation which the general and Mrs. Vanderbilt more bushels of wheat, more tons of machinery, etc.

Total money value of exports continues declining, because prices have not stopped falling.

But export tonnage began to increase in May. So say the experts, including Frederick Todd, secretary of the First Federal Foreign Banking association, 40 Wall street.

Big July Gain
Exports of agricultural products
during July showed big gains over

July, 1920. Here are some of them:

Cotton, bales..... 527,000 211,000

Corn, bushels..... 14,912,000 1,151,000

Cottonseed..... 7,235,000 3,631,000

Oil, pounds..... 24,750,000 23,815,000

Wheat, bushels..... 24,750,000 23,815,000

August is expected to show further increase in export volume.

Germany daily is becoming a better customer. She is steadily increasing her purchases of American-made goods.

But Europe as a whole is taking less than half of all American exports, for the first time in history.

Exported Talks

"The key to the whole situation," as one big exporter puts it, "is that the future of our foreign trade is not in Europe. Already we have as big a market in China, South America and other parts of the world as we have in Europe. This means that a boom in our foreign trade is not as dependent on European recovery as most exporters thought a year or two ago."

A lot of folks have been sitting back, saying that business can't revive until foreign trade picks up. Well, it's on the increase now. Of course, prices are down and exports are bringing us less money. But that's offset by the fact that the exporter can buy more with his dollar than he could when prices were high and foreign trade was enormous on paper.

Take total wheat exports from the United States and Canada. They were 10,671,844 bushels in the week ended August 18. That was far bigger than the corresponding week of any previous year.

Here are the figures showing wheat exports in the week ended August 18, of various years:

1921.....10,671,844 bushels

1920.....8,939,048 bushels

1919.....8,025,372 bushels

1918.....8,574,861 bushels

1917.....6,015,052 bushels

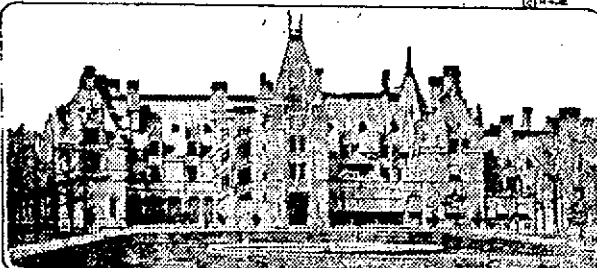

1916.....5,944,513 bushels

1915.....5,165,452 bushels

The steel industry is worse off for export trade than any other basic industry.

Iron and steel exports in January were 64,334 tons. They slumped to 119,051 tons in June, the latest reported.

But the general export business is on the mend.

SKIPPERS IN PROTEST

Staid Old Salts Resent Suspicion of Being Rum Runners

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Staid old aren't taking kindly to all the titillation inspection, official and unofficial, that's going on inside and out the three-mile limit.

"Gettin' so you can't drop a mud-hook without some lubber whispering you're a rum runner," said one sun-tanned skipper who recently breezed into port with his schooner agitter with fish scales.

According to this captain and others of his calling, numberless sleuths who played the "chase-the-spy" game during the war now are bent as zealously on tracking down liquor-laden craft in post-war days.

There were spies during the war and there probably are run runners now operating off the coast, but skippers innocent of more than a strong tea breath are complaining that even their cod and haddock now are falling under suspicion and that a reflection is being cast on the ancient and honorable calling of fisherman.

Several months ago, strange fantastic tales began coming in from the Atlantic of vessels mysteriously missing and of other vessels as mysteriously sighted—the phantom craft that bobbed up out of fogs, circled merchant craft and scooped away as silently as they had come. Pirates was the first verdict.

Then, in July, off Hatteras, was found a stranded schooner, so battered by the waves that even her name had been ground off her stern. She never was identified, but before she was destroyed by a coast guard cutter as a menace to navigation, there was found in her hold a cargo of rum.

This set folks thinking and when there came from Montauk Point, on the tip of Long Island, reports of an English schooner that lay off the three-mile limit and dispensed forbidden drinks to all comers, there were persons afloat and ashore who gave credence to the story.

Atlantic City, too, contributed a tale of a liquor schooner that lay off shore, sold liquor and tauntingly signalled to prohibition enforcement officers to come and get it.

TO MINIMIZE VETERANS' DIFFICULTIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Veterans' aid are expected to be greatly minimized by the consolidation of all governmental agencies administering soldier relief under one head—the veterans' bureau. That is what Col. Chas. R. Forbes of Seattle, director of the bureau, promises. The day of dual responsibility, of divided authority in the government's dealings with former service men is ended, he says, and troubles of long standing among the veterans will rapidly disappear.

Responsibility for adjusting claims, attending to medical needs and of educating disabled veterans, is definitely fixed under the law creating the veterans' bureau. It rests squarely upon the director, rather than between the war risk insurance bureau, the Federal Loan for vocational training and the public health service, the three agencies that formerly administered aid independently.

The problem of providing medical facilities, including hospitals, is regarded as the most difficult of all those coming within the jurisdiction of the bureau. Plans already are underway for its solution. The bureau announces that the $18,000,000 appropriation for hospital construction will be supplemented by use of authority given the director to enter into contracts with state, municipal and private hospitals for the immediate accommodation of veterans in need of hospital care. The announcement says that $500 new beds will be placed in use for soldier patients by January next year.

Other duties of the director include inspection of all hospitals having soldier patients, guardianship of 25,000 war risk patients now being cared for in 800 private and 20 government hospitals, command of all public health service doctors and nurses engaged in soldier rehabilitation work, education of those whose earning capacity was impaired by service and who must be taught new means of support, administration of an insurance business with $25,000,000 of assets and $25,000 term policies with a combined value of $2,500,000,000, and the average $1,000-a-day expenditure by the govern-

WHERE DOES NEW YORK GO AT NIGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—New York. Throughout the length and breadth of America, the name conjures up a vision of bright lights, myriad theatres, dazzling beauties, brilliant restaurants, grand Greenwich Village—in a word the place where "nobody goes home."

But alas—truth, like murder, will out.

New York is only bluffing about being the place "where nobody goes home."

You, Mr. Visitor, do you know whom you will meet along the great White Way?

Nine chances out of ten it will be some one like yourself.

The proof?

Fifteen names were picked at random from New York's voluminous telephone directory. Fifteen persons were called and asked as to how they spent their evenings. The results:

Mrs. Eugene Italy, 150 E. 49th st.: "With the care of six children and the house, there's nothing else to do but stay home. It's thankful I am to get to bed early."

Mrs. D. O'Rourke, 216 E. 15th-st.: "I work all day, and at night I am too tired to go out. Once in a while I'll go to a movie."

Mrs. J. L. Patton, 2182 Valentine-av.: "My husband and I generally take a walk in the evening. Once in a while we go to a theatre, but usually we are in bed by 10 o'clock."

Mrs. M. Pronas, 67 W. 10th-st.: "I like to go to the theatre and to dances, and most of my evenings are spent that way."

Joe Reddy, 2 Marble Hill-av.: "Generally stay at home with the wife and read my paper. Once in a while we go to the theatre."

George Walton, 164 E. 122d-st.: "Usually my wife and I stay at home right after the show and read books together where we can read the paper and I on psycho-analysis, in which I am can smoke in comfort. Now and then we take in a show."

Miss Frances Roset, 420 W. 130th-st.: "Oh, I stay home about half the time in the evening and the rest of the time I go to a dance or to the theatre. I guess, though, I go out more than half the time."

Joseph Hollander, 637 West End-av.: "I go to a theatre once in a while, but stay home most of the time, taking a walk as a rule. I never go to dances."

Miss Anne Sutherland, 123 W. 56th-st.: "As an actress my work takes me out in the evening but I come home right after the show and read books and I on psycho-analysis, in which I am very much interested."

Edward Schneider, 425 Irving-av.: "I stay home nights, where I am out of danger, and read the stock market reports."

Miss Hilda Card, 468 W. 85th-st.: "I go to theatres and dances about every chance I get. We're only young once."

H. J. Carden, 25 Broadway: "I am tired nights and stay home and read detective stories. Find that they take my mind off business better than anything else."

Armand Baer, Jr., 493 Seventh-av.: "When not at home smoking and chatting with my wife, we go for an auto ride. We never go to the theatre except on Sundays."

CHAMBER MAY HAVE A REFERENDUM

According to information given out at the chamber of commerce headquarters today it is probable that the directors of the chamber will order a referendum among the members during the last part of September to see what stand the organization will take upon the new charter issue.

The directors will probably hold a meeting next Monday and among the other subjects taken up the new charter will play a prominent part. It was stated that before any action would be taken in regard to a referendum, there would probably be a number of public meetings at which competent speakers and experts would discuss the merits and defects of the new charter. This is a part of the policy of the chamber which has for its object the hearing of both sides before any decision is arrived at.

No Accident Week
Lowell, together with the other cities of the state, is to have a "No Accident Week" starting Sept. 25. The Massachusetts Safety Council has notified the local chamber of commerce of a "Massachusetts No Accident" week which is to run from September 25 to Oct. 1 inclusive and it has asked the chamber to take charge of the campaign in Lowell. The chamber officials have signified their willingness to cooperate in every way possible for it is their opinion that there are altogether too many preventable accidents taking place in this city.

The safety campaign is to be run concurrently with the annual conference of the National safety council which will convene in Boston. Lewis E. MacBrayne, a local man, who is general manager of the state safety council, is organizing the movement and it is he who asked the chamber of commerce to take care of the local end of the campaign.

The ways in which the council expects to reduce the number of accidents throughout the state are as follows: Safety instruction in the schools, a campaign of publicity which shall reach the general public, co-operation of the police, posters in stores, garages, filling stations and on trucks, the co-operation of industries, civic organizations and churches.

STUFFED EGGPLANT IS EXCELLENT SUBSTITUTE
By SISTER MARY
Stuffed eggplant is an excellent substitute for meat. During the late summer vegetables are so plentiful that it behooves a cook to use vegetables and more vegetables in her menus. But she must keep in mind her needs for a balanced diet.

Stuffed Eggplant
One large eggplant, 1 cup soft, stale bread crumbs, 1/2 cup cooked corn (optional), 2 tablespoons bacon fat, 1/2 tablespoon minced onion, 3 tablespoons grated cheese, 1 egg, salt and pepper. Put eggplant in boiling salted water and cook until tender, about twenty minutes. Cut slice from the top and remove pulp with a big spoon, being careful not to break the skin. Chop pulp and add bread crumbs. Melt bacon fat and add onion. Cook five minutes. Add to first mixture. Cook this thoroughly hot and add cheese. Let cool while beating the egg. Beat in egg and fill eggplant with mixture. Cover with coarse crumbs, dot with bits of butter and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven.

Explant With Poached Eggs
Two small eggplants, 4 eggs, 1 cup tomato pulp, 2 tablespoons chopped ham, 1/4 cup soft, stale bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, salt and pepper.
Cut eggplants in halves, pare and remove seeds. Cook fifteen minutes in boiling water. Drain well. Melt butter, stir in bread crumbs, tomato pulp, ham and parsley. Season with salt and pepper and cook, stirring constantly for three or four minutes. Fill eggplants with mixture. Make a little depression in each filling and put in a hot oven for ten minutes. Put a poached egg on top of each half and serve.

X-RAY SHOWS MUMMIES HAD TEETH TROUBLE

Science has made mummies tell us many interesting things. The X-ray machine has made them complain that they, in their time, suffered from rheumatism, gout and other joint affections. They had also what is now our most common disease—dental caries—or, in plain English, rotting of the teeth. But they say it was not nearly so common with them as it is with us. Lately, their cements have yielded interesting information regarding longevity of the old Egyptians. Carl Pearson, scientist, has studied the inscription on mummy cases as to the time of life when the owner entered upon the state of the embalmed, and, arranging the ages of the mummified mathematically, he discovered that, in the first century A.D., men lived on the average, a much shorter span of years than we of the twentieth century are allotted.

The "expectation of life," as it is called, or the time one may expect to pass on this globe, for the average Egyptian under 50 or 60 years of age, was little more than half as long as that of the average person of that age today.

Beyond 60, however, the ancient was likely to live longer than the average person today. But this seemingly impossible state of affairs was due to the fact that only comparatively few especially vigorous specimens survived the earlier years—had been able to run the more severe gauntlet of disease of that day.

A hundred sexagenarians of the year 1 A.D. were of necessity more tenacious of life than a hundred of the year 1921.

We have learned from the mummy that he suffered from disease because he did not take care of himself and because of his ignorance of the cause of his plagues of contagion.

Today we know more about the latter and have made much progress in their suppression, but our progress in personal hygiene has been slow. Our teeth and our children's teeth are worse than the mummy's and that alone means that we do not know what to eat, and eating is the most fundamental feature in making and keeping the human machine at its best. Shall we learn our lesson from the mummy, or has he raised his voice in vain?

SCENT THEM AT SAME TIME
She launders her fine handkerchiefs with her own hands because she loves to keep them at their dainty best and she fears someone who isn't quite so fond of them wouldn't be quite so careful.

So she has a clever little bag in her room and instead of putting her fine bits of linen in with the remainder of the washing they go into the bag. Once a week she washes them herself.

First she puts them in soapy luke warm water and leaves them about an hour and a half, after which they are rinsed in cool water and then put through the washing process.

In hot water, in which there is a little borax, she puts them and rubs them very gently. Then she rinses them through many waters to be sure that the soap is all out and they'll have a sweet clean fragrance.

Next she introduces a trick which she learned from her neighbor while she lived in Paris. She puts just a little milk into a bowl and scents that with just a little violet water. Then one by one the handkerchiefs are put in and squeezed out. Then they are rolled in a clean dry towel and after standing a few minutes are ironed on a thick pad.

The fragrant little heap of beautifully white handkerchiefs which results quite compensates for the effort.

U. S. Steamer Held on Dangerous Ledge

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 25.—Efforts were made today to pull the United States Shipping Board steamship City of Brunswick, Mobile for Antwerp, from Bear Shoals, a dangerous ledge at the mouth of Halifax harbor, which she struck during the night. Assisted by two tugs, the vessel worked her propeller astern. A life saving crew put out from Dugan's Cove, five miles from the wreck, ready for emergencies.

Consider Treaty Settlement

Shantung settlement, or the political re-alignment of Europe.

By state department officials, the treaty is considered a full settlement, making possible not only a resumption of diplomatic relations but a large measure of commercial intercourse as well, through re-affirmation of the economic and financial concessions of the peace treaty of Versailles.

There was every indication today that efforts would be made by the administration to secure ratification as soon as possible after congress re-assembles after the recess, so that the long-delayed reapproachment with Germany might become an accomplished fact. Such commercial and supplemental treaties as may be found necessary can then be negotiated through the ordinary diplomatic channels.

With the treaty signed and awaiting senate action, there was a renewal of speculation here regarding a possible peace declaration to carry into effect the declarations of the congressional peace resolution. No official word indicates whether the proclamation might be expected to precede ratification.

Another question which remained unanswered from any authoritative source related to the probable duration of the American occupation of German territory. No direct mention is made in the treaty of the withdrawal of American troops from the Rhine, though there is a re-affirmation of the section of the Versailles treaty which permits the recent enemies of Germany to maintain forces on her border at her expense during the period allowed for payment of reparations.

Text of Treaty

PART ONE

"The United States of America and Germany:

"Considering that the United States, acting in conjunction with its cobelligerents entered into armistice with Germany on Nov. 11, 1918, in order that a treaty of peace might be concluded:

"Considering that the Treaty of Versailles was signed on June 28, 1919, and came into force according to the terms of its Article 419, but has not been ratified by the United States:

"Considering that the congress of the United States passed a joint resolution approved by the president July 2, 1921, which reads in part as follows:

Reservation of Rights

"Section 2. That in making this declaration, and as a part of it, there are expressly reserved to the United States of America and its Nationals any and all rights, privileges, indemnities, reparations or advantages, together with the right to enforce the same, to which it or they have become entitled under the terms of the armistice signed Nov. 11, 1918, or any extensions or modifications thereof; or which were acquired by or are in the possession of the United States of America by reason of its participation in the war or to which the Nationals have thereby become rightfully entitled; or which, under the treaty of Versailles, have been stipulated for its or their benefit; or to which it is entitled as one of the principal Allied or Associated Powers; or to which it is entitled by virtue of any act or acts of congress, or otherwise.

Further Terms of Peace Resolution

"Section five. All property of the Imperial German government, or its successor or successors, and of all German Nationals, which was, on April 6, 1917, in or has since that date come into the possession or under control of, or has been the subject of a demand by the United States of America, or any of its officers, agents, or employees, from any source or by any agency whatsoever, and all property of the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian government or its successor or successors and of all Austro-Hungarian Nationals, which was, on Dec. 7, 1917, in or has since that date come into the possession or under control of, or has been the subject of a demand by the United States of America, or any of its officers, agents, or employees, from any source or by any agency whatsoever, shall be retained by the United States of America and no disposition thereof made, except as shall have been heretofore or specifically hereafter shall be provided by law, until such time as the Imperial German government and the Imperial Royal Austro-Hungarian government, or their successor or successors, shall have respectively made suitable provision for the satisfaction of all claims against said governments, respectively, of all persons, whoseever domiciled, who owe permanent allegiance to the United States of America and who have suffered through the acts of the Imperial German government, or its agents, or the

Germany Agrees to Terms

PART TWO

"Being desirous of restoring the friendly relations existing between the two nations prior to the outbreak of the war;

"Have for that purpose appointed their plenipotentiaries:

"The president of the United States of America, Ellis Loring Dresel, commissioner of the United States of America to Germany, and

"The president of the German empire, Dr. Friedrich Rosen, minister of foreign affairs.

Article One:

"Germany undertakes to accord to the United States, and the United States shall have and enjoy, all the rights, privileges, indemnities, reparations or advantages specified in the aforesaid joint resolution of the congress of the United States of July 2, 1921, including all the rights and advantages stipulated for the benefit of the United States in the Treaty of Versailles, which the United States shall fully enjoy notwithstanding the fact that such treaty has not been ratified by the United States."

Rights Under Versailles Treaty

"Article Two.

"With a view to defining more particularly the obligations of Germany under the foregoing articles with reference to the restoration of the Treaty of Versailles, it is understood and agreed between the high contracting parties:

"(1) That the rights and advantages stipulated in that treaty for the benefit of the United States, which it is intended the United States shall have and enjoy, are those defined in Section one of Part four, and Parts 5, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 14 and 15. The United States, in availing itself of the rights and advantages stipulated in the provisions of that treaty mentioned in this paragraph, will do so in a manner consistent with the rights accorded to Germany under such provisions.

"(2) That the United States shall not be bound by the provisions of Part one of that treaty nor by any provisions of that treaty including those mentioned in paragraph one of this article, which relate to the covenant of the League of Nations, nor shall the United States be bound by any action taken by the League of Nations, or by the council or by the assembly thereof, unless the United States shall expressly give its assent to such action.

Reparations Commission

"(3) That the United States assumes no obligations under or with respect to the provisions of Part 2, Part 3, sections 2 to 8 inclusive of Part 4, and Part 13 of that treaty.

"(4)—That, while the United States is privileged to participate in the reparations commission, according to the terms of part eight of that treaty, and in any other commission established under the treaty or under any agreement supplemental thereto, the United States is not bound to participate in any such commission unless it shall elect to do so.

"(5)—That the periods, of time to which reference is made in article 419 of the Treaty of Versailles, shall run, with respect to any act or election on the part of the United States, from the date of the coming into force of the present treaty.

Article Three

"The present treaty shall be ratified in accordance with the constitutional forms of the high contracting parties and shall take effect immediately on the exchange of ratifications, which shall take place as soon as possible at Berlin.

"In witness whereof, the respective plenipotentiaries have signed this treaty and have hereunto affixed their seals.

"Done in duplicate in Berlin, this 25th day of August, 1921."

It Was Lowell Day and Parents' Day at Camp Devens Yesterday

HURDLE RACES AT CAMP DEVENS YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

You can't convince the Lowell people who visited Camp Devens yesterday as guests of the officers of the Citizens' Military Training camp on Parents' day that the noted cantonment has lost any of its old-time effectiveness as a headquarters for the military training of young men of this section.

After seeing the 1200 young soldiers who volunteered to give up the month of August to the government that they might become acquainted with the fundamentals of the soldier's life, the camp visitors felt sure that there is no need for worry as to the preparedness of this country for any future war. When it was realized that the work going on at Camp Devens is but a small part of the system of citizens' camps in operation all over the country, an idea was gained of the magnitude of the preparations which the government is making to establish a trained citizen soldiery.

The Lowell Boys

The Lowell boys at Camp Devens have had one of the most interesting months of their career. Since the first of August they have learned from first-hand experience the life of the soldier and not one of them regrets the time he has given to the government. Indeed, they all feel that broadened chests, tanned bodies and the self-reliance which they have gained have been ample repayment for the time they have given.

The boys from Lowell and surrounding towns who are members of the C. M. T. C., as the camp is popularly known, are scattered all over the three battalions of the regiment. Alpha J. Achin of 381 Fletcher street heads the

$21,000,000 in Spurious Securities and Fraudulent
Notes Seized by Officials

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—The financial failure of at least 48 banks and kindred institutions in the middle west would have resulted had all the operations of Charles W. French and John W. Worthington been carried to a successful conclusion. It was declared today by Assistant United States District Attorney Clinin. The statement was made after an examination of $21,000,000 in spurious securities and fraudulent notes seized from various enterprises sponsored by the alleged heads of the "swindling trust" and the mail robbery group, who with associates are being held here.

NO EXAMINATION TILL
AUGUST, 1923

There will be no civil service examination for the local postmastership until Aug. 1923. Such was the information given out at the post office today. The policy of the Harding administration is to allow each first class postmaster to serve out his appointed term without examination and at the expiration of the term the office will be thrown open to civil service rules. Postmaster John P. Meehan's present term began in August, 1919, and unless there is some change in the present policy of the administration he will serve out his term without being subject to the requirements of an examination.

There has been much local discussion as to whether there would be an examination for the office of postmaster in the near future and the information received today answers the questions. In the latter part of the Wilson administration an order was issued which stated that all first class postmasterships, even of the largest cities in the country, should be subject to civil service examination. The order stated specifically that after the examination was held the man who received the highest rank should be given the office. When the administration changed and President Harding came into power the ruling was changed somewhat and now provides that the postmaster may be chosen from the three highest men on the examination list. It still states, however, that each postmaster shall be allowed to serve out his term before an examination is held.

Postmaster Meehan received his commission as postmaster in 1912. The appointment was to run for four years. The postmaster stated this morning that there was no prospect of an examination until 1923.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT MAKES REPORT

The monthly report of the finance department for the month of July made its appearance today with its usual quota of interesting information concerning municipal expenditures. During the month of July the sum of $225 was paid to Kell's theatre for rental of that house for high school exercises. The water department was paid $141.01 for water furnished to the school department. Prescott Wright received $10 for ringing bells on the Fourth of July. The Thorndike Coal and Grain Co. received $10.54.51 from the water department during the month. Payments on the new high school during the month totalled $56,115.53 and on the memorial auditorium $39,105.52.

GENERAL GUINNY COUNCIL

A meeting of the General Guinny council, A.A.R.I., was held last night in the guild hall on Sixth street, with a large attendance. President Mullin was in the chair. Two communications from the state headquarters were received and read. Mr. Delehanty presented a report for the field day committee. Much enthusiasm over the labor day event is being shown by the members of the council. Other business of routine nature was transacted before the meeting adjourned. The next meeting will be held next Thursday night Sept. 1, at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present, as business of great importance will be transacted.

Booze Sellers Pay in Cash

twice before been found guilty of illegal dealings in booze in this city, was fined $150 on a charge of illegal sale. Pinette, it was stated to the court, has already been fined $100 on two occasions for illegal keeping of il-liquor, and when he made his second appearance in court a jail sentence of two months was ordered in addition to the fine. Today he not only paid $150 for illegal selling, but was assessed $5 more for being present where gaming implements were found. Only the pleas of his counsel, apparently, saved him from another house of correction sentence at the hands of Judge Enright this morning. The defendant's lawyer said that Pinette has now sold out his business and is not likely to fracture the dry laws in the future. It was also pointed out that the defendant is married and is the father of two children.

Wladislaw Taraszkiewicz, who conducts a variety store on Central street, according to the testimony given from by the officers, sold a bottle of Jamaica ginger to a police representative. A subsequent search of the establishment, stated Sergeant Winn, revealed additional bottles of "Jalio" reposing beneath a table. Joseph J. Dwyer, who was fined $100 for illegal sale, was arrested under unusual circumstances, according to the officers. They testified that a representative of the liquor saloon entered a Middlesex street near-beer saloon in an effort to secure a sale. No sale was made, but as the man emerged from the saloon he was followed by a police officer. The officer, who was led to a place on Union street, and here Dwyer sold him a bottle of "Jalio". It is claimed, passed the marked bill which was tendered in payment, to another party. It was, however, recovered.

Kali Kawan appeared not only on a charge of illegal keeping, but also on a complaint of drunkenness. Liquor found in a Middlesex street pool room resulted in his arrest. Officer Joseph Clark took the defendant into custody, after unearthing the booze, which was contained in a bottle and a large jar. These were exhibited as evidence. Recently it was stated, Kawan paid a $15 fine for drunkenness. Apparently he did not scorn to sample his own produce. He was fined $100 on the charge of illegal keeping, while the drunkenness charge was filed.

NO CAMPS BLOWN UP

Difficulties at Montague Magnified, According to Paper Mill Officials

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 26.—Difficulties in Montague, where one of the mills of the International Paper company is located and where disturbances were reported, were not in evidence today. Sheriff Ferdinand of Penobscot county who was summoned to the vicinity to furnish protection to the property of the company stating that all is quiet. The affair has been magnified in the press accounts according to the management of the mill. There has been no camps blown up but some parties unknown on Tuesday night used dynamite in destroying two waste gates in the dam at Montague, presumably to hinder logging operations. The mill management thereupon requested protection of Sheriff Ferdinand who is now at Howland with a posse. Everything is quiet and no trouble is anticipated.

STATE FIRE RULES FOR GARAGES DRAFTED

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—An all-day conference was held at the state house yesterday by Fire Marshal George C. Neal and fire chiefs from cities and towns throughout the commonwealth. Marshal Neal has drawn up uniform regulations for public and private garages and the meeting was held for the purpose of making these uniform in their application. Heretofore each community, with the exception of the Metropolitan district, has made its own rules. Several speakers offered suggestions and the tentative report will be redrafted.

During the discussion the custom of parking automobiles "back of the house" or "in the yard or arca-way" was condemned by several prominent fire-fighters.

E. L. Tierney of the Fire Prevention Bureau declared that the practice exists of parking machines under piazzas, in gardens and alleys and various other places in close proximity to houses. If this is continued, Mr. Tierney said, it is likely to result in a serious loss of life. He added that Police Commissioner Curtis had ordered a "cleanup" and that as a result about 1000 machines had to be taken from make-shift storing places to suitable garages.

MRS. BUNDY WINS IN SEMI-FINAL ROUND

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—In the semi-final round of the women's singles at the Longwood club today Mrs. May Sutton Bundy of Los Angeles won in straight sets from Miss Edith Sigourney of Boston. The former national champion stroked her along and cleverly as at the height of her game ten years ago. She will meet the former national title holder, Miss Mary K. Browne, tomorrow in the finals.

In the junior singles, semi-final round, Arnold Jones of Providence, R. I., by defeating Morton Bernstein of New York, earned the right to meet Vincent Richards of New York in the finals.

Summaries:
Women's singles, semi-final round: Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, Los Angeles, defeated Miss Edith Sigourney, Boston, 6-0, 6-3.

Would Have Ruined 48 Banks

Continued

to be involved, but some of the biggest financial men in the country were listed as prospects. The names of hundreds of prospective victims of the machinations of the financial wizards were found in the possession of Alva Harshman, French's secretary, according to the assistant district attorney. Among the names listed was found that of Coleman Du Pont, United States senator from Delaware, and manufacturer of explosives. Scores of other names prominent in the financial world, were found in this "ledger" of "bombs."

Operated in "Piker's Field"

In contrast to the dealings of the alleged swindlers in millions and their plans to wreck scores of banks, a picture was presented yesterday of the activities of the same group in what federal authorities termed the "piker's field" cleaning War Savings stamps.

Cashier Staub, Jr., a dealer in foreign stamps, told Mr. Clinlin that Worthington had tried to sell him some War Savings stamps and, when shown stamps seized in a raid on Worthington's office, declared they were cancelled stamps and had been cleaned by being washed in acid.

The prime object of the alleged conscience group was to dispose of millions of dollars' worth of notes through many small banks in the west and middle west, according to a statement of Owen T. Evans, made public today by Mr. Clinlin. Evans, a former national bank examiner, was arrested with Worthington in connection with mail thefts and has turned government witness.

According to Evans, all the negotiations that he handled were strictly legal and the notes he disposed of had security back of them. He placed loans in many small banks, according to his statement. Worthington, he said, hired him to examine banks that he intended to purchase for an eastern syndicate, that he represented.

LAND FOR PLAYGROUND

City Must Act Quickly if it Wants the Donovan Land
in Highlands

Unless the city takes definite action toward acquiring the tract of land on the easterly side of Stevens street, which is to form a part of the proposed new Highlands playgrounds, the owners of the land, Daniel C. and Mary C. Donovan, will proceed next Monday to complete the erection of a dwelling there, according to notification received this morning by Mayor Thompson from their attorney, Thos. G. Robbins.

When the city decided to acquire the tract in Stevens, B and Parker streets for the new playgrounds the Donovans had just begun the erection of a dwelling house. Upon instructions from the city solicitor that the city intended to take over the land in question, they caused the contractor who was to build the house to cease operations. That was four weeks ago, according to their attorney's letter. Since then the matter of taking over the land has been hanging fire and the family is anxious to know where their new home is to be located.

By causing the erection of the house to be stopped, the Donovan family committed a breach of its contract with the contractor who was to have done the job and as a result the contractor claims payment for $1000.

Accordingly, unless some indication of activity tending toward the purchase of the land is shown by the city before next Monday morning, the Donovans will proceed to erect their dwelling, not to increase the value of the land, but simply to provide themselves with a home before the winter comes, according to their attorney's letter. The Mayor has referred the matter to City Solicitor William D. Robbins.

Before the council can take definite action toward acquiring the land it must wait for a report from the park commission on a petition of protest against the purchase of the land. This report has not yet been made. After it is made the council will have to pass an order to borrow $12,000 for the acquisition of the land. If it meets for this purpose before Sept. 1 it will not be able to combine the special election on the gas plant petition with the new charter election and will thereby lose $5000 or $6000. The situation is one that promises many interesting developments.

ENJOYABLE SOCIAL

ANTI TOXIN IS MUCH USED IN LOWELL

The greater use of antitoxin in the treatment of diphtheria cases and gradual realization on the part of parents that medical attention should be given a child as soon as he develops any symptoms of the disease has resulted in a 35 per cent decrease in mortality from that cause in Lowell in the past quarter of a century, according to Agent Francis J. O'Hare of the board of health.

However, there is still plenty of opportunity for improvement, according to Agent O'Hare. Many parents are loath to call a doctor until the disease has reached a stage where it becomes alarming and then the administering of antitoxin is practically useless because of the vast amount of poison which has accumulated in the child's system. In order to be effective, the antitoxin should be injected within 72 hours after the infection occurs.

Many people, especially those in poor circumstances, delay calling a physician until the last minute. Mr. O'Hare says, and then they expect him to perform a miracle. As soon as a child complains of a sore throat, a doctor should be called, and nine times out of ten he will be able to effect a speedy recovery. The use of antitoxin in diphtheria cases was begun in 1895. In that year 44 per cent. of the cases of diphtheria reported resulted in deaths. Last year the percentage had decreased to 7.3.

PLAYGROUND TO CLOSE

The local playgrounds will close for the season next Wednesday afternoon and the instructors on each of the playgrounds are arranging individual program to mark the windup of the season. There will be no general program as there has been in years past. In Salem yesterday an elaborate program was given by ten playground children as a demonstration of their season's work. Governor Cox was one of the officials in attendance.

Malden Lane, New York, is the center of the jewelry and diamond business.

Next to Best Postmaster in America is Giving Bill Hays Some Tips

RE INSTALLED GRAPHOPHONE MUSIC TO SPEED UP THE NIGHT SHIFT OF MAIL CLERKS

E. A. PURDY

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 25.—Meet the best postmaster in America—E. A. Purdy. Purdy runs the Minneapolis post-office. He is a democrat—plugged hard for Wilson for president in 1912 and was rewarded with the postmastership in 1914. He has done such a good job of it that not only is Postmaster General Will Hays going to retain him, if possible, but Hays has taken him to Washington to give the department pointers on how postoffices should be run.

"A postoffice ought to be more than a place to buy a postage stamp or call for a letter," said Purdy, the day he took office.

And he started out to make it so.

How He Did It

How? Well, for one thing, he put a quietus on a general movement in the direction of still higher rents to Minneapolis. The rent hogs were clamoring for more; their "wolf cry" was a "housing shortage."

P. M. Purdy just had the mail carriers count the empty houses and flats. They did it in two days—and found 1500. Did rents go up? No. People found it cheaper to move than to pay higher rent.

Any postmaster with the right public spirit and an equal amount of pep can do as much for the rent-ridden tenants of his bailiwick.

Purdy has done a lot of other progressive things to the rusty old post-office machine. Among them he:

Established an information bureau in the postoffice.

Organized a postal employees' band.

Placed all street mail boxes in an exact line to speed collections.

Shot carriers to the start of their routes in automobiles.

Established the postoffice's own garages, thus saving money.

Invented new machinery to facilitate handling of mail.

Started 20-minute collection service in the afternoon in the business district.

Induced railroads to rearrange schedules, speeding up mail four to six hours.

And that isn't all of it. Purdy figured that a special parcel post service to Lake Minnetonka, the summer resort 15 miles from the city, would pay dividends in cash as well as comfort. Answer: Ten trucks carry all kinds of supplies from the city to the resort. Returning, they bring produce from the country to city consumers. More than that, just to overlook no opportunity for service, Purdy instructed the parcel post men to weigh babies for any mothers at whose homes they stopped. So all the babies along the routes can be weighed regularly and their mothers can know definitely whether they are gaining or losing.

Purdy's latest innovation was to install phonograph music for the night force. "They'll not only work faster, but they'll be happier," he said. "From midnight to morning are dismal hours; music will cheer the boys up a bit."

It did—and the work has speeded up 20 per cent.

WOMEN ARE GRATIFIED

Much Pleased Over Achievements of First Year of National Enfranchisement

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Representative women leaders in political organizations here expressed gratification yesterday over the achievements of women of the United States during the first year of their national enfranchisement. The 15th amendment to the constitution was officially proclaimed Aug. 26, 1920.

All agreed that during the year women voters everywhere had begun slowly but surely to find their place in the political councils and organizations of the parties. An awkward political consciousness among both men and women and a new dignity in political affairs generally were among the things accomplished by women in that short time, they said.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt of the National League of Women Voters and the National American Woman Suffrage association said that women have begun to find their place in the management of the affairs of the two dominant political parties of the country.

"While our progress in that direction has not been complete," she said, "we believe that we have accomplished much in that direction. Many women have been somewhat discouraged by the treatment they have received from the professional men politicians in their localities. While women have not been granted political equality and opportunity to take their proper place in the political life of their communities in about half the states, they have been received with sympathy and understanding and accorded full equality in the political organizations in the rest. The women who are more experienced in political matters, especially those who are engaged in suffrage work before national enfranchisement, find nothing discouraging in the situation."

Helen Varick Howell, vice president of the republican county committee of New York, said that the rapidly increasing number of women have become absorbed in the political side of life since the passage of the 15th amendment had caused amazement among the men and satisfaction among the women. In New York state the women became organized into the parties within a few weeks of the actual passing of suffrage.

"The benefit to the country and to women has been great. We feel an assurance, a peace, a security in being a real citizen, with all the functions of helping to create and to maintain the government as our own and in the political life of the country."

Mrs. Edwin R. Sire, president of the Women's Democratic Political League, said that the latest achievement of the year has been the educating of women and men to a new political consciousness.

The work of introducing woman's ideas into our political affairs is necessarily slow, she said, but we are making progress every day and a higher standard of conduct in politics and public affairs is being set up.

"We have learned that not only the political leaders are not sincere with us. They will have to learn to take account of their conduct now and on with their own and political principles of every nature in order to get their point of view across."

"We have not found them to be grateful, either. We are given no recognition, no credit, for which we are well deserved and other political leaders do not so far there has been no shade of other political responsibilities. After we have been of service and benefit to them they try to avoid us for fear we will expect them to return the favor in kind."

Mary Garrett Hay, chairman of the New York City League of Women Voters, said that it was generally conceded that the presence of women at the polls has brought order and dignity.

"Women have started a movement for better candidates," said Hay. "The public is hardly aware of this as yet, but women are throughout the country holding meetings, getting records, circulating questionnaires and preaching the need for more ability and more honesty in public office."

"They have made a persistent effort to educate the electorate through citizenship schools and courses and through the distribution of candidates' records and opinions.

"If American women continue as they have started, they will, in a few years, bring about some startling changes in legislation, election methods and political standards and they will accomplish this in a quiet and unostentatious fashion."

The Aussee Sanding, rising over 5,000 feet, is simply collapsing. Its great cones and plateaus of rock are crashing and tumbling as if undermined by gnomes, the forests that clothed the slopes lie flat or move slowly and steadily downward into the valleys and the turf moves with them.

Over three and three-quarter miles of territory are involved in the movement and hundreds of sightseers view the convulsions from opposite slopes. The phenomenon has been in progress for nearly a year with gradually increasing acceleration.

One scientific explanation is the presence of an abnormal quantity of water in the chalky limestone core of the mountain causing the collapse of great caverns and the slipping of strata.

GEOLOGICAL FREAK IN AUSSEE REGION

VIENNA, Aug. 25.—The geological freak of a great mountain disintegrating so fast that it is discernible day by day—a thing that ordinarily takes thousands of years—is occurring in the Aussee region.

The Aussee Sanding, rising over 5,000 feet, is simply collapsing. Its great cones and plateaus of rock are crashing and tumbling as if undermined by gnomes, the forests that clothed the slopes lie flat or move slowly and steadily downward into the valleys and the turf moves with them.

NATIONAL GUARD AIR SQUADRON

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—New York state has the first air squadron to be organized by the national guard of the country.

The 1024 Observation Squadron of the New York National Guard Air Service, with headquarters at Mitchell field, Long Island, was inspected recently by state and federal officers.

The personnel comprises veteran aviators, many of whom are aces. It is expected that the government will furnish the squadron with standard De Havilland machines.

Lieut. Col. Laurence L. Tourrette Driggs, who organized the squadron has been attached to the staff of Maj. Gen. Ryan, commanding the 27th division. Maj. Kenneth P. Littauer, former commander of the 8th squadron, is commanding officer of New York's squadron.

The roster includes: Captains, Curtis Wheeler, G. De Forest Larner, Geo. A. Vaughn, Jr., Reginald L. Vandewater and Henry B. Smith; lieutenants, Howard Burdick, Alexander McLanahan, Harold Buckley, Kenneth Noble and Corland Grover. The enlisted personnel will be furnished by Company M, former infantry company at Hempstead, Long Island.

The Program
The program arranged for Parents' day yesterday was carried out with true military precision and promptness. The morning was given over to inspection and the bulk of visitors did not begin to arrive until after the noon hour. By 2 o'clock the grandstand on one side of the great parade field near the foreground of the cantonment was filled to capacity. Down the long sweep of the field ran an unbroken line of automobiles, often two and three deep. It was the biggest crowd at the cantonment since the day the Yankee division had its review.

There were officers and soldiers everywhere ready to assist the visitors and seldom has a more courteous and painstaking corps of military men been assembled in one camp. The officers seemed to take a just pride in the work of the young soldiers who have been under their care for the past month and they wanted parents and friends to view the results of their training from advantageous points.

The afternoon's program opened with a cavalry demonstration by Troop C of the Third U. S. Cavalry. All the pranks and stunts known to the trained horsemen were demonstrated, ending in a terrific climax when the troop dashed down the field with sabres flashing in the sun and shouting the warwhoop that is supposed to strike terror in the hearts of the enemy. The cavalry were roundly applauded at the conclusion of their demonstration. However, that was a regular army feature. The visitors were most interested in the work of their own sons and brothers, the students. Promptly at 2 o'clock the long file of khaki-clad soldiers marched on the parade ground and immediately gave an excellent exhibition of the cat-stroke program which they have practised since the beginning of the month. They went through the evolutions in a snappy, enthusiastic manner and it was a pretty picture they formed for the hundreds who watched them.

An Impressive Feature
Another impressive feature was the escort to the colors given by the third battalion, in which there are a number of Lowell boys. With the 13th and 36th Infantry bands furnishing music, the members of the battalion marched about the grounds, escorting the national and state flags. Immediately following this number came the general review by the officers in command at the camp. The young soldiers marched past the mounted officers in double lines of squads and saluted snappily. Not a soldier was out of step and each one carried himself with the poise of a veteran. Following this ceremony the next hour was given over to a series of track events just beyond the drill field and a Lowell man succeeded in landing a place in one event. Private Tzanetakis of Co. M was awarded third place in the broad jump.

Those who were not interested in the athletic events listened to a concert by the 13th Infantry band, Emil Padon, leader. This band has one Lowell regular army man in its roster. Real Parent of 2 Dracut street, who plays the bass horn.

Informal Visits
The latter part of the afternoon was given over to informal visits between the young soldiers and their relatives and to an exhibition of motion pictures of the soldiers taken when they arrived at camp early in August. This was given in the Liberty theatre. Following the evening meal, the visitors were entertained with a concert by the Skirmishers' band of Boston.

Although the young soldiers who are students at Camp Devens during the present month are kept busy every minute of the day, still there are not enough of them to give the cantonment the bustling appearance it had several years ago. Building after building is closed and unused. All of them, except the officers' quarters and special administration buildings, which were painted during the war, present a weather-beaten, desolate appearance.

APPLES BRING A SEASONABLE PRICE

Owing to the scarcity of apples, it is predicted that this delicious fruit will sell for between $3 and $10 a barrel in this city, if not higher, next fall. The scarcity of apples is due to the heavy frosts, which damaged the crop to a great extent in the early part of the season. Apples which are now on the market are selling very high and it is said that in some instances about 100 per cent higher than last year.

Dedham Woman Writes TO CHAMBER

A Dedham woman has written to the local chamber of commerce asking the officials of the chamber to locate an elderly gentleman residing in this city. According to information in the letter sent by the Dedham woman she took a photograph of the gentleman together with her little girl. Since that time she has lost his name and address and since she wishes to give him a copy of the picture she wishes very much to find his whereabouts.

The letter is as follows: "Gentlemen: On August 1, Harding Day, at Plymouth an old gentleman asked me to take a picture of him, which I did cheerfully. Then he insisted on paying me when he gave me the address to which to send it. And now I have lost name and address—remembering only Lowell. Won't you help me find him? He was so very proud that he was going to have it. I enclose the picture. I should like to insert an advertisement if you can find him as follows: 'Will the elderly gentleman of whom I took a snapshot together with my little girl on Harding Day in Court street, Plymouth, please give me his address—once more? I know he would appreciate your help very much. I am holding the film for him.' Yours very eager to find him. ELNA J. MAXWELL."

Information on the envelope containing the letter would seem to indicate that the sender's name in full was Mrs. F. Rollins Maxwell, Jr.

Federal Troops off for Mingo

A deputy in the office of Sheriff Don Chaffin at Logan this morning told the Charleston Daily Mail over the telephone that there had been no fight between Logan county deputies and a body of armed men at Blair, as reported from Madison last night. Sheriff Chaffin was not in his office, the deputy said, but he had ordered that no information be given out except that there had been no fighting.

To Halt March of Miners
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 26.—Frank Keeney, district president of the United Mine Workers, and Secretary Fred Mooney left here in a motor car today for the camp of the marching miners in Boone county with the announced intention of advising the army to abandon its march to Mingo county without delay.

Brig. Gen. H. H. Bandholtz reached Charleston early today and got into communication with Gov. Morgan. The governor, it is stated, laid the situation growing out of the march of miners before Gen. Bandholtz. Later Gen. Bandholtz communicated with President Keeney and Secretary Mooney and asked that they, with Harold Houston, attorney for the United Mine Workers, meet him at the capitol.

Await Investigation
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Positive assertion that no federal troops will be sent into West Virginia coal fields until Gen. Bandholtz has completed a thorough survey of conditions there and reported to Washington, was made today at the war department.

Troop movements in the middle west are being watched with the keenest of routine consequence.

Department officials said the only orders they had issued with relation to the West Virginia situation were those sent yesterday to Brig. Gen. Read at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., directing that troops be held in readiness.

Molla's Husband Her Greatest Admirer

MRS. MOLLA BJURSTEDT MALLORY

BY ROB DORMAN
NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory's husband is a good sport.
He isn't jealous because his wife, queen of America's tennis courts, usurps all the family limelight.
Instead he's the proudest man in New York.
He's so proud of Molla that she has to suppress his enthusiasm sometimes.
Following her sweeping victory over Mary K. Browne at Forest Hills, which again crowned her as the national champion, he was the first to rush across the courts to grasp her hand and congratulate her.
Mr. Mallory is just as anxious as his wife that she should meet Suzanne Lenglen again.
Disappointed
"I was more disappointed than Molla, herself, if that was possible, when Suzanne defaulted," he says.

HITTING IS WINNING PENNANT FOR CHICKS

TOMMY McMILLAN—MAIN COG IN SOUTHERN LEAGUE LEADERS' MACHINE.

By Newspaper Enterprise
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 26.—The old saying that "hitting wins ball games" is true as far as the league-leading Memphis Chicks are concerned.
Spencer Abbott's team has led the Southern league since the second day of the 1921 season.
Memphis didn't take the lead the first day of the season because it rained, but they won the next day.
The Chicks boast of a "Murderers' Row" the same as the New York Yankees. Seven players are slugging over 300.
Pitching
The pitching is nothing to brag over. They sling a good game now and then. The opposing team usually gets enough hits to win an ordinary ball game, but the timely bats of the Chicks work overtime and bang in enough runs to get the fat end on the scoreboard.
Upon the tiny shoulders of Tommy McMillan, diminutive shortstop, lies much of the credit for the great slugging of the Chicks on the defense.
McMillan steadies the team, fields sensationally and hits timely.
The team swings around him as a pivot, much as the old Chicago Cubs did about the midge anatomy of Johnny Evers in his playing days.
McMillan is Abbott's right-hand man. He runs the team when the skipper is away scouting.
Aggressive
Abbott is an aggressive leader.
If a player doesn't fight to the last ditch to win every game he won't last long on the payroll.
The iron bar is put up against rookism.
The Chicks win a lot of games by last inning rallies.
Polly McAllister, first baseman, is pace-maker with the stick for the team. He's tapping along at a .250 or better gait.
Don Blawie, centerfielder, purchased from Little Rock and Howard Camp, rightfielder, are trailing McAllister only by a few points.
Andy High, third baseman, "Bud" Hunsinger, catcher, and "Hibbs" Williams, leftfielder, rank well up in the "Murderers' Row."
Comeback
Zeke Lohman, formerly slated for the baseball ash can, is proving Abbott's best pitcher. He had a hard start at the beginning of the year. Managers were asked for him. Nobody wanted him. Abbott gave him another chance and he started winning.
George Mohr, owned by Brooklyn Paul Zahner, Oscar Suero and Fred Marks have up the Chicks' mound staff.
Bob Dowle and "Bud" Hunsinger are first-class receivers. Dowle is in a batting slump at present.
Outfield
Williams, Browne and Camp are the best outfield in the Southern.
Memphis has been as much as 12 runs in front at one time this season. This is the biggest lead any professional team has held up this season since the inception of the run-away Baltimore Orioles in the International.
Practically all of the remaining games for the Chicks will be played at home.
They ought to walk into Pennantville.

TWO GOOD LOCAL BALL GAMES FOR TOMORROW

Two great ball games are on the program for local fans tomorrow afternoon.
Out at Spaulding park the Lowell council, K. of C. team, which has set up a remarkable record on the diamond this season and is now in line for the state championship, will meet one of the contenders for the title in the James Hayes council of Boston.
The Hayes council team played the locals early this season and lost a fast and bitterly fought game by the score of 2 to 1. The locals did not send across the big run until the final inning. Since that game the Hayes council has played several wonderful games with the Lowell team. The Hayes council team, and a number of other high class aggregations. They are looking forward to tomorrow's contest with great interest and feel confident that they will win. The Hayes council team will put forth their strongest lineup in an endeavor to make it two in a row. Jimmy Davidson will pitch for the locals, while Hays will be in the box for the visitors. The game will start at 3:15 o'clock and Bob Keeler will umpire.

HARRY HEILMANN IS BAD BALL HITTER

Harry Heilmann, leading batter of the American league, is a bad-ball hitter.
He goes after them on the inside, on the outside, high, low.
But he has the courage of them to make him the best hitter in either major league circuit by several points above .400.
It is estimated Heilmann could have driven at least 50 bases on balls if he were not so eager to step into a ball and drive it out.
Heilmann doesn't wait 'em out. He bunts away at them. He has found that it pays. Most bad balls are cringles—easy to hit.
Question: Are many batters making a mistake by being too critical in looking balls over as they float platewards?
Heilmann's record shows they are.
MOLLA
Molla Bjurstedt Mallory wields the strongest racket of any woman in the world.
In one week she played her way through the national women's singles with a power that it was impossible to stop.
She broke Suzanne Lenglen's heart in a single set—like a whirlwind, crushing a helpless butterfly. And she called on all her reserve power to defeat Mary K. Browne in the deciding match that made her America's queen of the courts.
Molla has held the national title six times.
BILL
Bill Tilden will have the battle of his life to hold his national tennis honors the second week of September, against William Johnston.
These two boys have played against each other, with each other, and watched each other many, many times.
Each knows the other's strongest points, also the weak spots.
Tilden has gone stale. Johnston is showing a rare streak of brilliance.
The Californian is an even money bet to pull the great Tilden off his throne just as Molla Mallory crushed the sick Suzanne Lenglen.

ABBOTT TO BE AT HELM OF MAJOR CLUB

SPENCER ABBOTT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 26.—Here is Spencer Abbott, Memphis manager, who is almost certain to be at the helm of the major league club in 1922.
Abbott has already received offers from a few clubs in the "big show," but is waiting till the end of the present season before taking any action.
Spencer came near being the St. Louis Brown manager this season. The field narrowed down to he and Les Biederman, who was chosen. Abbott turned down offers from the Philadelphia Nationals and the Seattle club in the Pacific Coast league.
"When I do go up, it will be with a club that I think I can make a winner out of," says Abbott.
Winning pennants is his specialty. He has been managing about 12 years, and won 10 pennants.
Abbott was a player in the Southern league race.

BRIEF TRAINING PERIOD FOR DAVIS CUP TEAM

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—The preparation study period of the Davis Cup team will be a short one. As a group the players will not get together for regulated practice and training until three days before the challenge matches begin.
The team will be time enough, they think, because all are now playing in the national doubles championship tournament here.
The American team is to meet the challengers—either Japan or Australia, dependent upon the outcome of the play now in progress at Newport—at Forest Hills the following afternoon, Friday, R. Norris Williams, 2nd, said today that he and his doubles partner, W. M. Washburn, would go to Forest Hills as early as possible next week to begin their training.
Tilden 2nd, and W. Johnston, who probably will uphold the defenders in the singles matches, will go to Providence on Monday, to play there in exhibition matches and doubles matches, and then proceed to the scene of the Davis Cup play for joint training.
Tilden remarked that he had not given much thought to the question of training for the forthcoming challenge matches. He said he tried to keep in condition constantly, that each day with him was a day to keep fit, that he was never tired, and that the best condition during the present tour was that and that when the time came to settle into Davis Cup training, he would take whatever steps were necessary.

Downey Credits Scar for Great Kayo Sock

BYRAN DOWNEY—HIS SMILE AND HIS NOSE-SCAR

By DEAN SNYDER
CLEVELAND, Aug. 26.—Bryan Downey is proud of the deeply attended scar across the bridge of his nose. He believes it was this wound that gave him the chance to knock Johnny Wilson as cold as a herring in their recent much-disputed match here.
"It was this way," says Downey.
Wilson grazed me with his head as we were coming out of a clinch. He reopened the cut I received with Ralph Schappert at Dayton over a year ago.
"I saw the blood spur. He thought I was in a bad way. He came in to finish me."
"Before this he was too cautious. He was going away when I hit out at him."
"When he came in to me he left the opening for the punch I had been saving for him."
"He didn't think I had any fight left in me."
"Then it happened. I caught him dush on the jaw with a right. He dropped like a log. I knocked him cold."
"With any other referee in the world he would have been counted out."
"If it hadn't been for the reopening of the nose wound I might not have gotten my big chance."
"So you see why I'm proud of this scar. It was a godsend to me."

TWO MORE PITCHERS FOR WHITE SOX

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Two more pitchers have been added to the White Sox roster. It was announced today that Harold Chase, an independent player, from San Francisco, reported today and Ed Blankenship, a big right-hander, from Boston, Texas, was purchased and will report in a day or two. White Sox obtained the famous Red Russell.

WEST VS. EAST IN BIG TENNIS TOURNAMENT

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—The west against the east—the Kinsey brothers of California opposed the World Tennis Champion William T. Tilden, 2nd, and Vincent Richards, his youthful partner in the semi-final round of the national doubles championship tournament, was the principal match in a day-long program of little play on the courts of the Longwood Country Club today. With this match disposed of first on one of the grand stands, it was arranged that both courts should be given over to the national mixed doubles semifinal play.
In these two matches, set for 3:15 p. m., Tilden and Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, national women's singles champion, were opposed by Mrs. May Sutton, Randy, singles title holder of a decade ago and Robert Kiley and Miss Mary K. Browne and W. M. Johnston, each a former national champion, were to meet Mrs. F. B. Coffey and Miss Wessman, the latter captain of the English Davis Cup team.
The finals in these tournaments, which are being played on the Christ-out Hill courts, will come tomorrow with today's winning pair in the national doubles meeting Williams and Washburn, Davis Cup team members, who advanced yesterday.
Of the Longwood courts the invitation women's tournament and the Junior and Boys' National championship events were continued this morning.

THE DIRIGIBLE DISASTER

Our experience, like that of England, with the dirigible airship is not encouraging. Apparently the German Zeppelins, although condemned by some experts as slow and otherwise objectionable, has not yet been surpassed so far as safety and practical performance are concerned.

The disaster that overtook the R-38 in a trial trip over Hull at the mouth of the Humber near the coast of the North sea, is most unfortunate, in view of the death of so many officials and inventors.

It will cause serious misgivings as to the practical worth of the dirigible and particularly of this type intended to revolutionize sea travel by carrying passengers or other heavy freight with safety across the Atlantic. The R-38 which crossed and recrossed the Atlantic and yet broke up in a gale soon afterward, was supposed to be as perfect as could be constructed under the attained stage of advancement in aviation. But the wreck of the R-38 will cause a loss of confidence in the dirigible as constructed in England.

As a result the United States will probably decline to bid its time for its own dirigible, if such craft are essential to our welfare either in peace or in war.

Apparently, the dirigible can be perfected; but we have not yet reached the point at which we can produce one that can ride safely in the air and encounter the electric and other disturbances in the atmosphere without extreme danger of wreck. Manufacturers of such craft, whether here or elsewhere, will be more cautious in the future when experimenting in order to determine the speed, time and the safety of such aircraft.

Moreover, it would seem the R-38 was altogether too large. She seemed to break in two from her own weight plus the pressure through the atmosphere. Germany has been more successful in the construction and handling of such craft than any of the other countries. The United States made a poor showing, so far as aviation went, during the war; not now that the war is over, time is being made ample time to develop the dirigible and in this way they can probably attain results equal to those of any other country. The loss of life in the British disaster will cause those engaged in developing aircraft to be more cautious in the future.

As to the financial loss of the R-38, the United States had paid $1,500,000 towards the construction; but part of this will probably be refunded as it appears the British agreed to bear the cost. If anything happened to the airship before arriving in the United States.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

The city of Chicago is preparing to celebrate the sixth anniversary of the great fire of Oct. 8, 1871. That was the greatest conflagration in the history of this country with the exception of the San Francisco fire and earthquake in 1906. The total loss was $150,000,000; over 17,450 buildings were destroyed, and 10,000 people were made homeless.

The fire was caused by Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicking over an oil lamp and setting fire to the barn. Many other great conflagrations had a lighted cigar as the cause. It is a little child, will start a blaze that brings disaster to thousands of people.

The Chicago fire was not entirely without its compensations. Every disaster of the kind stirs the people to adopt greater precautions against such dangers in the future. The first effect was to cause cities and towns to organize regular fire departments equipped for stamping out fires in the incipient state. At the time of the Chicago fire Lowell had a very primitive department for protection against fire. It was only nine years before the Chicago fire that the first water works plant with water mains and fire hydrants had been installed at Lockport, N. Y. Attention was also given to the installation of fire escapes, fire protection, fireproof construction and laws enforcing safeguards against fire.

But the greatest safeguards without the exercise of human caution cannot prevent all fires any more than they can prevent accidents. During the last 12 months, the fire losses in the United States averaged about $100,000 a day. Fully half of these fires were preventable by simple precaution in handling matches, gasoline and other combustibles, together with care in not throwing cigarette stubs where they may start a blaze. October 3 will be observed as fire prevention day in commemoration of the great Chicago fire, and it should be celebrated everywhere by increasing the safeguards against fires that threaten the safety of the people in towns and cities and that sometimes destroy whole forests of valuable timber.

A COMMENDABLE ACT

The Trades and Labor Council is to be highly commended for the good judgment and the charitable spirit shown in its decision to turn back to the city the $1200 annually appropriated for the observance of Labor day with the recommendation that the money be expended to help the poor of the city in outdoor relief.

The members of the Trades and Labor Council know perhaps better than most other people in the city, how widespread is the distress resulting from unemployment at the present time. The council has given a demonstration of the right spirit in dealing with the needs of the poor now so very pressing. This is not a time when money can be wasted in public display, or pompous celebrations. Neither should money be spent unnecessarily on special elections where such expenditures can be avoided. For our part, we do not see what objection can be raised to having the water and the gas questions passed upon on the same day. It is very evident that any election has but two issues to be decided by the voters. Usually there is half a dozen or more. Moreover, the city charter and gas issues cannot be confounded in any way. They are so separate and distinct that we cannot see how any voter cannot pass upon both at the same time quite as well as if a special election were held for each.

In view of the demands upon the city, it is well to save $1000 if this can be done by saving this referendum on the same ballot. That $1000 if so saved, can be used for a better purpose if spent for the benefit of the people. We regret the council did not view the gas referendum in this light.

THE TAX RATE

Some weeks ago it was announced from city hall that the tax rate would probably be about $20; but the assessors have fixed the figure at $21.40, which is $1.20 over the rate of last year. The rate last year would have been about $22 but for the increase in the valuation of property which was generally boosted from 15 to 25 per cent. That increase had the result of keeping the tax rate below what it otherwise would have been. The high rate this year is due to the increase of $116,191 in the appropriations, together with a very material increase in the state, county and other charges.

This is the highest rate in the history of the city. The tax rate has been rising gradually for the past ten years as shown by the following figures: In 1911 the rate was $18.50, and the rates for the subsequent years in consecutive order were: $19, $19.40, $20, $20.50, $21.20, $23.40, $23.50, $24, $25.20. The valuation this year is $125,610,196, that of last year $123,803,321. The latter figures show a general increase of 1.4 per cent. on all the property of Lowell, although the increase as made by the assessors in some cases was as high as 25 per cent.

The city of Lawrence had a tax rate of over $31 last year; but this year it has been reduced to $25 without any increase in the assessed value of property over that of last year.

WOMEN FOR DISARMAMENT

Whether or not the women of the world succeed in getting representation on the Washington disarmament conference delegations they are going to have a chance to express their desire for world peace in a way that cannot but be effective.

The National Women's Trade Union League of America has initiated a world-wide demonstration by women for disarmament, to be held on August 26, the day that the Washington conference opens.

It is expected that millions of women in every country in the world will participate in the demonstration, the details of which are yet to be worked out.

The purpose as expressed by Mrs. Raymond Robbins, the president of the league, is "to strengthen the governments in their desire to disarm by giving unequivocal expression of the women of the world."

Inasmuch as the United States leads in this movement, it is fitting, perhaps, that American women should assume a sort of leadership in the expression of sentiment on this great question although we do not believe that the appeals of the women will have much influence with the conference. No true American wants any form of disarmament that would leave the United States at the mercy of other powers.

DOLLAR DAY

It is well known that business has been dull during the past few months, although the Lowell merchants have endeavored to put on the best front possible. They have expended large amounts in advertising in order to encourage buyers and to reduce their stock. To some extent they have been successful; but they have made great sacrifices for results that in prosperous times would be considered trifling. They are now determined to make a still greater effort in providing on "Dollar Day," tomorrow, bargains that must impress the people as reaching the limit in cut prices.

In view of the fact that economy is the watchword, shrewd housekeepers will doubtless take advantage of "Dollar Day" by buying a store of the various articles and commodities to be offered at sacrifice prices by the leading merchants and others engaged in this movement to convince the public that the purchasing power of the dollar has vastly increased, at least in some lines of business, during the last few months.

TO ABOLISH THE LORDS

Ever since the days of Gladstone there has been a growing sentiment in England in favor of reforming the house of lords so as to make it an elective instead of a hereditary body. A bill is now before parliament providing that the upper house will be known as the "second chamber," that it will be an elective body and only half its members will be peers if the present bill passes. The peers will be elected by their fellow peers and the chamber will have much less power than the present body. The house of lords lost part of its powers some dozen years ago when an act was passed by which the commons could overrule the veto power of the upper house by passing the bill in three successive years. The bill is said to be so generally approved that the lords will hardly dare oppose it. This will overcome to a great extent the influence of the aristocracy in politics and legislation.

PRICE OF GAS

A New York gas company has been turned down by the public service commission on its request to raise rates from $1.15 to $1.50 per thousand and to increase its minimum charge from 40 cents to $1 per month.

The investigation conducted by the commission showed that the existing rates yielded 7 1/2 per cent net profit on the investment in 1920 and that the profit this year will be greater.

The New York public seems to have found a way to protect itself against public utility gouging.

There is a lesson in this for the Lowell Gas company, which is showing a spirit of defiance in maintaining the high price of gas. The Fall River gas company has just announced a reduction from $1.25 to $1.15 in the price per 1000 cubic feet. The Lowell price is still $1.60.

Senator Lodge may be relied upon to guard American interests at the disarmament conference. He is not the kind of man that the foreign delegations can bamboozle by any form of diplomatic camouflage.

Boston certainly shows high appreciation for her heroic police officers as she shows detestation for those who slunk on the job. Officer Cuneo is her latest police martyr.

Henry Sullivan has had to give up in his third attempt to swim the English channel. He made a courageous fight but the elements were against him.

SEEN AND HEARD

Took Him Anyhow
Saphend—I know I am not good enough for you.
Miss Sweet—Well, I suppose you will prove it after we are married.—New York Sun.

Dangerous Word
Friend—What's the matter? Been in a fight?
Movie Director (all bandaged up)—No; I engaged a lot of ex-doughboys for a battle scene. I got them all ready, and then I shouted "Camera!" Well, they thought I said "kammera"—Film Fun.

Three Kinds
A teacher in a school asked the other day, "How many kinds of flowers are there?"
Three pupils held up their hands. She chose one to reply.
"Well, Jack, how many kinds of flowers are there?"
"Three, teacher."
"Indeed! And what are they?"
"Wild, tame and collier."—London Opinion.

Try This on Your Wise Friend
Three men, each with a like number of roses met nine women. Each man gave to each woman the eighteenth part of his store. Thus each woman had 12 roses less than each of the three men. How many roses did each man have at first?

Answer to yesterday's: Ten trains: One for each of the five days of your trip and one for each of the five days previous, still on their way.

Robbed Hair
Even some of Lowell's business men are said to object to bobbed hair. Yet if they, or anybody else employing girls can think of a more sensible precaution among the hundreds adopted yearly by their employees than the custom of bobbing the hair, they have been more observant of passing styles than the average citizen. The wonder is that more women have not rebelled earlier against the less sanitary and less comfortable mode of wearing hair in vogue. Bobbed hair is easy to comb, easy to wash, cooler in summer, impossible to disarrange and not disagreeable to look at. The so-called age of chivalry. Even the Chinese are abandoning the practice of foot-binding. The American girl should be allowed to wear her hair the way she likes it.

Vermont Country Life
You'd rather live in your home town And know each family there, I'm pretty sure, than to be known by climbing fortune's stair, Of chasing big game through Broadway With hair oil on your hair.

They're all your friends, you know 'em all, There's isn't one that's cool; With some you played when you was small, With others went to school; There ain't but just one man in town You'd call a farnal fool.

You know the merchant and his clerk, You know old Sid-Judge Sears, And old Aunt Gakes that's took in work, For more than thirty years; You know who's got that Morgan colt And yoke of shorthorn steers.

You know where everybody goes That slips away from home; Ed Smith has come to the college, And she a niece in Rome; You know Ned Price that lost his leg And legacy at home.

You know the preacher, Elder Dean, The miller and his wife, And Allie Gates that never seen No better in his life; And "Doc" seems pretty mighty close A sense he used his knife.

You know Rod Mills that sorts the mail, Although it takes him long, And Sam, that went young Lightfoot's time He stepped in wrong; It's all so fine, if I could sing, This piece would be a song.

There isn't any one in town That's setting up for king, Or killing folks to keep a crown, Or busting down the door; If so, you guess the hens would hide, The sparrers cease to sing.

You're all a happy, healthy band Whose sense of right is clear; You think 'good thoughts and work your land, And prosper through the year; No bangers, raid, no k-k-lux ride, No days and night to fear.

Then prod your pride to reach your height— Your blood is strictly pure; You have no dark, duello blight Or crime or curse or cure; Your family ought to last as long As decent folks endure.

—Daniel L. Cady, in Burlington Daily News.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

I notice that the Lawrence Telegram has the following editorial expression relative to the initiative gas petition: The state citizens of Lowell are becoming alarmed over the possibilities that confront them when the referendum is taken over the Lowell Gas company and running it as a part of the municipal outfit, running it as the Lowell street department or water or poor department is run.

But such citizens of Lowell must run the risk that at the referendum election enough citizens of Lowell will be of the opinion that a municipality can run the gas company all right for enough Lowell voters signed the referendum petition to assure that the question will go on the ballot.

However, there is still some faint hope among the responsible citizens of Lowell that when it comes squarely before the voters enough of them will vote against it to give it its quietus for a period of years.

Knowing the way the majority of the Lowell voters fall for every kind of scheme put over by persons who are looking for soft jobs for themselves, the Lowell people who think and who pay the freight are naturally not over confident of defeating the project. They are placing most of their reliance on defeating the scheme on the fact that the move for taking over of a gas company by a city must be endorsed by the voters at two consecutive elections. Then they also take some confidence in the further fact that as the expenditure for such an undertaking as purchasing the Lowell Gas company would necessitate the city of Lowell borrowing more than two and one-half per cent. of the city's valuation it would have to apply to the legislature for special permission to do so.

The golf bug continues its triumph, biting relentlessly and apparently being no respecter of persons. Here in Lowell the victims lie in scores, and include ordinarily quiet and sane individuals in every walk in life. The talk, where business and professional men gather, is all of mashes and whatnot. Secretive souls, who have not yet unburdened themselves of the terrible news that they, too, are golf nuts, linger on the outskirts of the groups, intruding questions which they seek to make seem casual queries of one not particularly interested.

The professional and business element in the town seems as much engrossed in such things as putting as another has recently become in putting and taking.

MENTAL DEFECTIVES NOT TO BE CRIMINALS

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Mental defectives will no longer be tried and sentenced by the same rules which govern other persons, for, under the provisions of a state law becoming operative this week, the stigma of criminality is to be removed from persons sent to prison for a second and third time when they are, in reality, mental defectives.

This new statute provides that whenever a person has been indicted for any crime or is held for trial before the superior court, after having been previously convicted of a serious offense, the state department of mental diseases shall determine the mental condition of the person in question and decide whether there is any criminal responsibility for his act or not.

The experts in this department, from their long experience in dealing with "repeaters," maintain that many persons now serving prison sentences are really mentally defective and that the punishment meted out to them is therefore no real help.

According to figures just made public by the state department of correction of the 1377 persons who were sentenced to the various penal institutions in the state in the year ending Sept. 30, 1920, 2358 were persons who had been previously committed, and their average number of previous commitments to jails or prisons was in excess of six.

The same report shows that 71 persons confined in the state penal institutions last year were found to be insane and were removed to state hospitals for defectives.

Another feature of the new law provides that in every case where a person is indicted for murder, he shall be examined at the direction of the department for mental diseases, to determine his sanity, and the report of the examining physician shall be given to the court and to the attorneys on both sides, as an impartial finding.

GIRL DRIVES HORSE WITH HER TEETH
FOXBORO, Aug. 26.—Chief of Police E. A. White is still on the lookout for the two young men, who, after they had failed to kidnap Miss Martha W. Pierce of this place Wednesday, robbed her of more than $30 and bound her hands and feet and left her to drive for about two miles to her home in a buggy drawn by a frisky horse, with only her teeth to hold the reins.

The young woman will not entertain the theory that the man only wanted to rob her. She declares that they had carefully planned to kidnap her.

PETER COOPER HEWITT, INVENTOR, DEAD

PARIS, Aug. 26.—Peter Cooper Hewitt, the American electrical expert and inventor, widely known in scientific circles throughout the world, died at the American hospital here last evening. He recently underwent an operation for abdominal trouble, and appeared to be recovering when he was attacked by pneumonia. Mrs. Hewitt and Mr. Hewitt's two sisters were at the bedside when the end came.

Peter Cooper Hewitt, inventor, son of Abram S. Hewitt, one-time representative in congress and mayor of New York, and grandson of Peter Cooper, the philanthropist, was born in New York city on March 5, 1861. He was educated at Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N. J., and at Columbia university, graduating as a mechanical and electrical engineer.

His fundamental inventions of Mr. Hewitt—the vaporized mercury electric lamp, the static converter or rectifier used to convert alternating currents into direct currents, the electrical interrupter and the wireless receiver—were developed by him as the result of years of experimentation with electric currents passing through mercury vapor. He devised the telephone relay and electric wave amplifier, as well as apparatus for use in connection with the wireless telephone and telegraph.

Ordinary incandescent lamps, at the time Mr. Hewitt announced his new method of illumination, wasted 97 per cent. of heat or energy in transforming the remaining 3 per cent. into light. Hewitt forced the current through a long glass tube containing mercury and the result was a relatively "cold" yet bright light of bluish-green color about eight times stronger than incandescent light produced by the same amount of power.

The Hewitt rectifier, a device whose merits were recognized by Lord Kelvin, operates like a check valve in a water pipe, permitting the current of electricity to flow freely in one direction and entirely preventing its flow in the opposite.

Mr. Hewitt was interested in a number of industrial corporations and was a member of numerous clubs. He was a trustee of Cooper Union, founded by his grandfather. In 1916 he was appointed a member of the United States naval consulting board, composed of scientific men in civil life who co-operated with the government in connection with problems growing out of the war. Mr. Hewitt was twice married; his first wife was Miss Lucy Work, a daughter of Frank Work of New York city, and his second Mrs. Maryon J. Brugliere.

EARLY MORNING FIRE

The roof of a large barn owned by Nicholas Kanas, situated in the rear of 170 Suffolk street, was damaged by fire shortly before 1 o'clock this morning. Flames lighted the city for blocks and made people think that a much larger fire was in progress. The barn was vacant.

A concrete arch bridge in the south of France is said to have been in existence since 56 B. C.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

Two Sea Songs

I AM sick, sick, sick for the sea,
For a ship on the trackless trail,
And it's there, there, there I'd be,
In the rush of the salty gale;
I am sick at soul for the heave and roll
When the great waves clamber high
And the engines ring and the mast-heads swing,
It's sick for the sea am I!

Sick, sick, sick for the sea,
For once you hear the call
You'll go, go, go where the salt winds blow
And the deep sea holds its thrall.

(Later)
I AM sick, sick, sick of the sea
As I lean on the vessel's rail,
I don't care, care, care to be
Where my features are green and pale;
And you wouldn't believe what the roll and heave
Of the great waves does to a guy
Of the meals they bring I can't keep a thing
And it's sick of the sea am I!

Sick, sick, sick of the sea!
(Was that the dinner call?)
Yes, I wanted to go, but now I know
That once is enough—that's all!

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 24.—"If you'd be beautiful, have children. If you'd keep both youth and beauty, have many children."

This is the advice given to modern married women by Mrs. William Rothschild, a great-great-grandmother, who within a few months will celebrate her one hundredth birthday.

Mrs. Rothschild is the mother of 12 children. With a dusting of powder over her smile-wrinkled skin, her silver-white hair smoothly coiffed, her blue eyes bright with interest in world and family affairs, she appears unusually distinguished and charming.

"My mother," says Mrs. Rothschild, "was considered one of the most beautiful women in the city of Neuremburg, Germany. She was slender, erect, well and dressed always. And she reared 12 children.

"I had five sisters, all beautiful. Yetta bore 14 children, and lived to 80. Lottie also had 14, and lived past 80. Sophia had only eight, but when she was 50 people used to wonder if she and her daughter were not sisters."

Mrs. Rothschild resides with her oldest daughter, Mrs. Belle A. Pollack, who is a great-grandmother.

"Is the children who have kept my mother and myself so young," says Mrs. Pollack. "With each child, and grandchild, and great-grandchild, our own youth has been revived."

And now that the great-great-grandchild blesses them they just feel as if they can hardly wait for the sixth generation!

act of congress applicable to the District of Columbia, which treats rental property as affected with a public interest and subjects the relationship of landlord and tenant to commission regulation.

"The New York type of statute simply takes away the remedy of eviction where the contract which the landlord claims is breached is considered by the courts to be unreasonable, as, for example, where the rent demanded by the landlord is, in the opinion of the court, excessive. The New York legislature has declared as 'excessive' any rent which is more than 35 per cent. in excess of the rent of the previous year. The landlord can not evict a tenant who pays the reasonable rental."

"The act of congress authorizes the rent commission of the District of Columbia to adopt standard forms of leases, to fix reasonable rentals and terms of tenancy and to determine semi-judicially controversies between landlord and tenant. The authority of the rent commission and its procedure are analogous to that of the interstate commerce commission in the field of interstate commerce. Both types of statutes have now been upheld by the supreme court of the United States as justifiable regulation of public property in the interest of the public welfare during the abnormal housing conditions following the war."

DECLARES THE WHOLE WORLD SHOULD KNOW WHAT A GRAND MEDICINE
TANLAC IS

"At one time I thought I would never live to see the day when I could again sit down and enjoy a good meal; but Tanlac restored me to perfect health, and I now enjoy eating as well as any of my children," said Mrs. J. B. Bergeron, a highly esteemed resident of 25 Hochella st., Springfield, Mass., while visiting relatives in Worcester recently.

"In the past year I had so much trouble from indigestion that I could scarcely eat anything. Often the gas from my undigested food would press up against my heart so bad it palpitated until I thought it would jump out of my body, and many times I suffered until it seemed that my time had surely come. I couldn't eat anything but gruels, soups, a little toast and milk, and even these hurt me. Many times I got so dizzy and weak I couldn't stand up, and at times had such awful headaches I would be in bed for a week or so.

"After suffering so much, Tanlac has proved a god-send to me; for my troubles are all gone and life is a pleasure. I eat like a child, and nothing hurts me. I am glad to give this statement for I think the whole world ought to know what a grand medicine Tanlac is.

"Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's drug store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative; by Wright Drug Co., Bitterica, Mass.; A. D. Falls, Chelmsford, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

WIFE DESERTED THROUGH FUN MAKING

BY RUTH AGNES ABELING

Henry was a continuous joke to her. Henry had a falling for purple socks. He wasn't a bit vain or anything of that sort, but he found an unholy joy in pulling purple socks on his feet at 7 a. m. At least three days out of every week.

And Henry's wife thought purple socks were a joke. And she told Henry so with acid in the laugh which roughened her voice as she scoffed.

Then Henry liked a certain sort of collar. It wasn't the close, smart one that most men wore but something that gave his neck "room to breathe," as he said.

Henry's wife tittered over that collar and used to call the company's attention to it and poke fun at it until the part of Henry's neck which showed in the crack was purple and he stumbled off up stairs on some silly pretext or sat silently in a corner of the sofa looking intently at the monstrous toes of his monstrous shoes.

And Henry's feet—they were outrageously large and, just like his hands, he didn't use them with any too much grace. His wife wouldn't dance with him, and openly offered her sympathy to every woman who came back from a session of laboring over the

Here are snapshots of the steamer San Jose wreck, picturing what might have been another marine tragedy save for capable seamanship, the cool courage of all passengers and prompt rescue by a government relief ship.

After the Pacific Mail liner San Jose had been driven upon San Roque Island reef by a freak tide, passengers were landed in cable baskets and lived for two days on the fantastic "Isle of Penguins," off the Mexican coast, among millions of sea fowl. They were brought to San Diego by the U. S. destroyer Farragut.

"Luckiest wreck" of many seasons. To preserve the record of "not a

SOLD WATER FOR BOOZE
AND GOT $2300

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 26.—The group of men who were responsible for the 12 prominent Portland men parting with $2300 for seven kegs containing 95 gallons each of Sebago lake water, have been making their headquarters at Old Orchard, according to information received here from a reliable source yesterday.

The men went to Old Orchard early in the season, from a large New England city, where each hired a cottage. They have been working independently of each other, it is claimed, in order not to excite the suspicion of the police.

The scheme to sell a quantity of water, for choice whiskey, to Portland citizens, was conceived in an Old Orchard cottage, and a man went to Portland, where he met citizens telling them he had a quantity of liquor that he would dispose of at a reasonable figure, for the prohibition period.

The deserted house was hired at Stroudwater, and the kegs and siphon arranged for the Portland man, who was to bring the money to the cottage to pay for the "liquor."

Five gun men were engaged to come to Portland. It is said, by the lake liquor group, and they were at the cottage on the night the transaction of Sebago lake water was made for the $2300. It is stated that the gang of men behind the scheme were determined to have the $2300, and had the scheme failed to work, the money would have been taken from the men by force.

The man responsible for the deal returned to Old Orchard, where they have been located until this week, when it is reported that they went to the Bangor fair.

FINISHING HONEYMOON
IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26.—A fashionably dressed couple describing themselves as Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Hoover of Montreal and Boston, are finishing their honeymoon in a police station cell here while authorities investigate their standing in Canada and New England.

Pleading that she, a graduate of a fashionable New England finishing school, was duped into marrying Hoover, the woman created a scene in the police station when she stripped off her wedding ring, other jewelry and a fur piece, after her husband had admitted stealing them.

While Mrs. Hoover explained that she thought her husband was a wealthy man, a graduate of Harvard and socially acceptable, until after they had been married and started on their honeymoon to Havana, Hoover declared she had known his past and

Camels are made for Men who Think for Themselves

Such folks know real quality—and DEMAND it.

They prefer Camels because Camels give them the smoothest, mellowest smoke they can buy—because they love the mild, rich flavor of choicest tobaccos, perfectly blended—and because Camels leave NO CIGARETTEY AFTERTASTE.

Like every man who does his own thinking, you want fine tobacco in your cigarettes. You'll find it in Camels.

And, mind you, no flashy package just for show. No extra wrappers! No costly frills. These things don't improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons.

But QUALITY! Listen! That's CAMELS!

floor with Henry madly clutching the back of her gown.

It became a regular thing with Henry's wife—this laughing. She never blessed his great big old-diamond-in-the-rough-heart and left him that she knew he wasn't meant for a parlor ornament and that they didn't need anything like that around their neat little flat, anyhow.

She never told him that she loved him, just because he was different and made her laugh—and then took the barb out of her laugh.

And so Henry became a self-conscious, silent man, who clung with sullen tenacity to purple socks, collars which set away, and awkward ways as to feet, until one day a little butterfly swooned down and just loved the purple socks, and thought the collars made him look strong and original, and liked big, awkward hands and feet on men because they made them look so nice and sturdy.

Henry, suddenly changing all of his awkward self-consciousness for something called mastery, went silbering after the gay little butterfly and left his wife with nothing to laugh at, and a great, big, empty place in her heart, that she didn't even know was there, until she stopped laughing.

SOLE AMERICAN SURVIVOR TALKS

Norman Walker Who Escaped
ZR-2 Disaster Unscathed
Gives Interview

Recites Terrible Experience Through Which He Passed to A. P. Man

HOWDEN, England, Aug. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Norman Walker, sole American survivor of the wrecked airship ZR-2, today gave The Associated Press the first circumstantial account of the disaster which last year swept out the great super-dirigible and every American member of the crew on board except himself.

Walker was seen at the Howden air base, near Hull, where he has just been brought after the terrible experience through which he passed unscathed. He comes from Commerce, Texas, and was a rigger on the failed airship. He is of boyish appearance, twenty years old, and of a wiry build which carried him through the ordeal almost without a scratch.

After describing the speed trial which he said went "without a hitch," Walker said:

Tremendous Crash

"A test of the ship's control then began. I was at the lower rudder, proceeding back to the aft, and had just reached the cockpit when there was a tremendous crash. The riggers amidships broke and the ship split in halves.

"Both the tail and the nose immediately pointed downward and the halves started to descend toward the Humber.

"I certainly cannot describe my sensation, but I thought my time had come.

"I made a rush for the tail to get a parachute, but I found two of the Englishmen, Harry Bateman and Walter Potter, were already there. I knew there was only one chute there for the three of us. Bateman had the chute and jumped, but it fouled and he hung to the tail of the dirigible.

"Both Potter and I started to run forward for other parachutes, but just as I got in the tail there was an explosion of either a petrol tank or hydrogen and flames immediately began to sweep the forward part of our half of the ship.

"What was happening to our comrades in other parts of the dirigible I don't know. Most of the officers and crew were amidships, either seated or lying in their bunks, when the riggers broke. At least one man dropped through the gap made by the break. Possibly others did, but probably most of them rolled forward when the airship's nose went down.

"I ran back to the tail to get away from the fire in the bag. Bateman, Potter and I got into the cockpit. By this time the gas was becoming depleted and the ship was shooting down rapidly. The forward half had already broken up toward the water. We couldn't use a parachute then, as we were too low—only a few hundred feet up.

"I saw we were going to land in the water, so I climbed on the fabric forward of the tail cup. I couldn't tell how fast we were falling, but when I thought we were going to strike I jumped.

"I was surprised to find my feet striking the bottom. I had landed in four feet of water near shore. Both my comrades stuck to the ship and continued to cling to her as she struck. I managed to scramble aboard the wreckage, and the three officers were picked up."

Not Authorized By Admiralty

HULL, August 25.—It was learned today that the admiralty had not authorized the American attempt to accompany the ZR-2 on its fatal trip. Air Commodore Matland took the responsibility in his own hands. He invited the American officers and crew to take up positions upon the ship in order to give the future navigators the greatest possible opportunity for obtaining experience.

HOLD PIEDRO GUSSMAN

Man Whose Marriage is Said to Have Caused Murder of Priest Arrested

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 25.—Acting at the request of Peoria, Ill., police, local authorities today arrested as a suspect in the murder of Father James E. Coyne, Catholic priest, by the bride's father, Reverend Edward Stephenson.

Murder of Wife Charged

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 25.—Piedro Gussman, arrested in Birmingham today, is wanted by the Peoria police for the alleged murder of his wife here early last winter. The woman was found lying dead across a bridge in a house in which the couple lived, with her throat cut. Gussman disappeared immediately. Neighbors told police the two had quarreled frequently.

VILLA FLEES TO ENLIST AID FOR REVOLT

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 25.—Francisco Villa has fled from his half-million-acre ranch at Canutillo, Durango, to Parral to enlist aid of the Mexican government in putting down a revolt among his followers, according to an officer of the Mexican army who returned to Juarez today from Parral.

MASKED BANDITS HELD UP AND ROBBED TRAIN

DENVER, Texas, Aug. 25.—Two masked bandits held up and robbed the mail coach of a Missouri, Kansas and Texas limited train as it entered Denison early today. Postal authorities estimated that the robbers' loot might reach half a million dollars.

A greater variety of birds is to be found in South America than in any other part of the world.

GERMAN TROOPS PARADE

Crowds Looked Coldly on as Thousands of War Veterans
March in Berlin

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—Great crowds looked coldly on while thousands of soldiers who fought during the great war marched before General Ludendorff, Prince Eitel Friedrich, Count von Waldersee and General Von Der Goltz at the old Berlin stadium yesterday. The lack of enthusiasm among the spectators was notable, only a few persons uncovering when "Die Wacht Am Rhein" was played by a veteran band.

A message from former Emperor William was read. "With proud and warm gratitude I think today of my brave comrades who perished in the field," it said. "With true German loyalty they achieved against a world of enemies deeds such as history never has known before. The heroism of the dead will live on unforgotten to the honorable memory of the living and for the inspiration of the living and future generations. May the pallor of the days of the past be the beacon for the victorious illumination still in the dark future. God protect the fatherland and its people."

Count von Waldersee was the principal speaker at the demonstration, which was characterized by radicals as a "monarchist attempt to revive the dying war spirit." His address was fiery in character, the old military chieftain declaring:

Prepare For Revenge

"There will come again a day when we will stand together for the Kaiser and the Fatherland. We must train our children to use the rifle and sword. So long as Germans suffer under a foreign yoke, and the French stand guard on the Rhine, we must prepare for revenge."

The only enthusiasm shown during the day was brought forth by the appearance of General Ludendorff, and the outburst on that occasion was but slight.

General Ludendorff, in his address, said the will to victory must again rise in the German people and that now was the time for the Germans to turn their thoughts to Prussianism. In which their strength was embodied. General Von Der Goltz denounced "the traitors who declared the supreme war lord had been deposed" and said the old soldiers from the trenches were ready at any time to defend the fatherland from the Poles and Bolsheviks.

MAY BE CONTINUOUS TAG DAY FOR AUTOISTS

Every day will be Tag day for Lowell autoists, unless the new headlight laws are observed. Police headquarters here have received a shipment of tags from State Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank R. Goodwin, and a communication accompanying them contains the following information: "A warning tag similar to the one enclosed, a large number of which will be sent to you under separate cover, should be checked in a manner to indicate the particular violation, and tied to the car. This may be done in the daytime. The coupon should also be checked and detached and returned to the registrar. Special care should be exercised in writing the registration number of the car on the coupon. The make and type of car should also appear on the coupon for checking-up purposes. The coupon will be filed in this office by registration number, and subsequent complaints of the same car may result in revocation of the registration."

The tags are of large size and yellow in color. The seal of the Commonwealth is stamped at the upper left hand corner, and below this are the words "The Commonwealth of Massachusetts." Then in large capitals is printed the word "Warning," followed by the statement "The Headlamps on this Motor Vehicle do not Comply With the Law for the Reason Checked Below."

The remainder of the wording is as follows: 1.—No Approved Device 2.—Device Wrongly Applied 3.—Bulb Not 21 C.P. 4.—Bulb Glass Blackened 5.—Reflector Defective 6.—Not Properly Focused 7.—Not Properly Aimed 8.—(Blank) This violation will be reported to the registrar of motor vehicles. Remedy the defect at once. Each of the eight numbers. It may be seen, is followed by some variety of violation of the headlight law. The specific offense or offenses in which the autoist is found remiss may be checked off by the officer. Below the word "Stub," separated by vertical lines by means of which it can be torn off. The stub has a space for writing the registration number of the car, the make, the type, the date and place, the exact form of violation, and the name of the complaining officer.

As stated in the instructions mailed by the registrar, the tag will be tied on cars where the law is being violated. A string is attached for this purpose. The stub will be torn off and despatched to Mr. Goodwin, who will keep it on file for reference. Mr. Goodwin, in his letter, says:

"It is not intended at this time to prosecute violations of the headlight regulations, but we hope you will aid us.

"Under Section 2 of Chapter 50 of the General Laws the registrar has the power to revoke the registration of a motor vehicle if it is not properly equipped, and he will do so if any owner persistently refuses to obey the regulations. In order to discover the persistent offenders, the plan outlined below has been devised. We are asking your assistance in carrying out this plan.

FIXING WAGES ON BASIS OF LIVING COST OPPOSED

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 25.—The American Federation of Labor seeks to abolish the practice of fixing wages solely on a basis of the cost of living.

The federation's executive council today had practically decided on under an investigation to develop a new policy by which workers would also be rewarded for their social usefulness and productivity. "There are but two avenues leading to permanent higher standards of living for our people as a whole," says the report. "One of these is the elimination of waste, either in the form of management or of under-exploitation and misdirection. The other is increased productivity. Both must be travelled simultaneously."

SHE HAS BRAINS, BEAUTY AND PERSONALITY

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Cynics, you may not believe it, but it's true. They've found a girl here who's not only a real beauty, but who also combines with it brains and personality. You've seen lots of girls with beauty, many with brains, and quite a few with that elusive thing called personality. But how A local paper here launched a contest to find such a combination and the young lady pictured above was the winner. You can see for yourself how she lived up to the first requirement. She is Miss Faye Parrish, a Texas girl living in California. And she proved she had the other two requisites by ably reporting a prominent murder trial, and daily news events. She then went out and proved her versatility by securing a feature dancing engagement. King Vidor has agreed to give her a try-out in the movies, and, if she makes good, to employ her permanently.

OFFICIAL PROBE OF AIR DISASTER

U. S. to be Represented by Naval Attache at Inquiry at
Howden, Eng., Tomorrow

Workmen Employ Powerful
Cranes in Attempt to Salvage Wrecked Dirigible

HULL, Aug. 26. (By the Associated Press.)—Workmen engaged in salvaging the wreckage of the ill-fated ZR-2 from the turbulent waters of the Humber, where it fell with its human freight on Wednesday evening, employed powerful cranes today to lift the skeleton of the airship. It was believed that as soon as the twisted and tangled framework was raised it would be possible to recover the bodies of many of the men who died when the dirigible crashed and caught fire.

The work of lifting the wreckage was a herculean task, for in addition to the great weight of the aluminum framework and the pendant gondolas carrying the driving machinery, the swift current of the river had already begun to cover the interested ruins with deposits of sand. Divers who went down yesterday found the current so strong that their work was attended by great danger and they finally declined to take further chances because of the water.

Official inquiry into the cause of the disaster will begin tomorrow morning at Howden. The United States will be represented by a naval attache, who will sit with the court.

Refuses to Suspend Tariffs

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 26.—The public utilities commission today refused to suspend the tariffs increasing fares on the Providence, Warren, Bristol and Fall River Line of the New Haven road, effective September 1, the petition of the Fall River chamber of commerce being denied. The commission says that this line was operated at a loss of $106,524.70 for the first six months of the year and that to suspend the rates would continue a loss upon the company, whose existence appears to be very seriously endangered by the condition of its financial showing.

MISS SKILTON TELLS OF VICE RING

Policewoman Tells of Unfortunate Conditions Said to Exist in the Vicinity of Lowell

Automobile vice in Lowell has reached alarming proportions, and is on the increase rapidly. This surprising information became known this morning at the office of the local policewomen. Miss Emily Skilton, head of that department of the force here, declared today that the situation constitutes a "serious menace," and added that it bids fair to grow worse as time goes on.

Shadow of Evening
After the shades of evening fall, the boulevard and other thoroughfares are literally jammed with automobiles. It was learned, and many of these contain couples who indulge in improper conduct. A determined effort is being made by the policewomen, aided by Officers Moore and Conroy of the vice squad, to remedy the conditions, which in many instances involve young girls not out of their teens.

Probation Officer
Mrs. Mary Ileana, woman probation officer of the local district court, is also active in seeking to suppress the threatening indications of a loosened morality among the younger generation in this city. Girls who have

MARCHING MINERS ARE TURNED BACK

MADISON, W. Va., Aug. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—The advance guard of the marching miners on their way from Marmet to Mingo as a protest to Governor Morgan's martial law was turned back by Charles P. Kenney, president of district number 12, United Mine Workers, and Fred Mooney, secretary, after it had passed through Madison shortly after noon.

As the men marched toward the city, the leader told the correspondent that he had been "an army man for nine years" and that his forces were organized along the lines of all armies. The commissary department he said was in charge of a chief who had all the assistants he needed and there was no fear but that the men would be followed.

The leader absolutely refused to

TWO BODIES TAKEN FROM WRECKAGE OF ZR-2

HULL, Aug. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Two bodies were recovered this afternoon from the wreckage of the ZR-2. One was identified as that of Albert L. Lotin, an American mechanic on the ship, and the other that of Flight Lieut. Rye of the British crew.

FLEAS
Reading in the local newspapers about this newest Lowell affliction—The arrival in the City of a new kind of flea, makes us itch to say or do something that will set all our people SCRATCHING to better their future and to make that future reasonably safe. Any one and everyone can do this if they will but adopt a habit of systematic saving of a portion of what is earned. It need not be a large amount at beginning, for as the habit is continued, THE AMOUNT IS BOUND TO INCREASE. That is just why systematic savings ALWAYS HAVE and always will win comfort, protection, ease.

LOWELL SWIMMER ABANDONS TASK

Henry Sullivan in Fourth Attempt to Swim English Channel Forced to Quit

Started Yesterday But Gave up Early Today After Being in Water 10 Hours

DOVER, Aug. 25.—Henry Sullivan of Lowell, Mass., who started yesterday to swim across the English channel from Cape Gris-Nez, near Calais, to this city, failed to accomplish the feat. He was obliged to abandon his attempt after swimming for ten hours and ten minutes, by which time he had but reached the middle of the channel.

Sullivan abandoned the swim because of the choppy sea.

This was the fourth attempt of Henry Sullivan to swim the English channel. In 1913 he started from South Foreland and got to within six miles of the French shore. In August, 1920, he made his second effort, starting from Dover this time he reached within three miles of his goal, where he had to give up owing to the rough sea. The next month he again tried from the English coast, and this time did better than any previous occasion, coming within two miles of his objective off Cape Gris-Nez.

Mayor Thompson to Probe Alleged Suppression of Police News

As the police gave out nothing of the robbery of Mr. Gonzales' store, it was assumed they wanted to keep it quiet, or suppress it altogether. In reference to the case Mayor Thompson stated to a Sun representative that he believed all records of the police department should be open to representatives of the press, except in rare instances in which publicity might interfere with the administration of justice. He said that under no circumstances would he countenance the suppression of the news. He said he would at once begin an investigation to determine if the news had been improperly suppressed by the police in the past.

NOVEL BREAK INTO STORE

Thieves Stole Revolvers and Cigars Through Door Slot

Mr. Gonzales, on Appleton Street, the Victim of Theft

Had Been Notified That His Store Was to be Robbed

Despite the fact that three weeks ago the police were notified that four young men were planning a break in the store of Harry Gonzales at 10 Appleton street, the place was broken into some time last night and the thieves made their escape with four revolvers valued at $15 each and close to 100 cigars of favorite brands. This

"Not Seeking War, But if it Comes, We Must Defend Ourselves"

DUBLIN, Aug. 26.—(By the Associated Press)—The reply of Eamon De Valera to Premier Lloyd George sums up Southern Ireland's position on an Irish settlement, which is and must remain unchanged. Mr. De Valera declared in addressing the Dail Eireann today after reading the reply at the public session of that body.

The Dail re-elected Mr. De Valera and the members of the cabinet. It also sanctioned loans of £500,000 in Ireland, and £20,000,000 in America.

After reading the letter of Mr. Lloyd George to the Dail, and the reply, Mr. De Valera said:

"That reply sums up our position."

ERZBERGER MURDERED
Was Former Vice Premier and Minister of Finance in Germany

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—(By the Associated Press)—Mathias Erzberger, former vice-premier and minister of finance, was murdered today.

Herr Erzberger was assassinated near Offenbach, Baden, where he was sojourning with his family. His body contained twelve bullet wounds.

Herr Erzberger had left Bad-Griesbach, where he was taking the cure, in company with the Reichstag Deputy Dietz for a foot tour of the Black Forest. An hour later both men were confronted by two youths who separated them and then emptied revolvers into Herr Erzberger, who was killed instantly by

HARDING IS REALLY A DEMOCRAT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—President Harding has become a rival of Abraham Lincoln as a source of presidential anecdotes.

For 50 years Lincoln has supplied elementary textbooks with scores of personal, human stories. Now comes Harding—like Lincoln, the son of common people, reared in a rural community, democrats—with a small "d." And, like Lincoln, Harding has the kind of personality that breeds anecdotes. Here are some:

The Make-Up Rule

Reaching in his pocket for a coin, the president accidentally drew forth a thin, worn piece of metal. "My make-up rule," he explained. His guests were puzzled until the president explained that a make-up rule is a printer's tool of all work. The printer uses it to nick up type, to scrape dried ink from type—even to open bottles and clean his fingernails. "I'm never fully dressed unless I have my rule," the president said. "It's the badge of my profession."

The Golf Tournament

The president was asked to present a cup at a newspaper men's golf tournament. "That might put me in an embarrassing position," he said. "I might have to present the cup to myself. Of course, I'm going to play. You can't bar me—I'm a newspaper man, am I not?"

The Senate Dinner

After Harding had delivered his message to the senate on the soldiers' bonus, he attended a luncheon in the capitol with several of his former senatorial colleagues.

"Who's going to pay the check?" asked one of the senators.

"Let's flip pennies for it," said the president.

They did. And Senator James W. Wadsworth of New York had to pay.

The Tower Man

The president was reading the morning papers while taking a railway trip. As he finished each one, he folded it up carefully. Then he gazed steadily out of the window.

"I'm watching for a chance to give these papers to a tower man," he said. "These fellows get mighty lonesome out here all alone and they'll appreciate something to read."

Helps Painters

A group of painters were making the White House white. "Let me show you how to do that," said the president, seizing a brush. "I used to paint as a boy," he explained. "Painted a whole school-house."

Later as he was washing his hands in the executive office he said: "That's more fun than I've had since I've been president."

White House Open

An old lady from a distant state stood looking at the White House. The president gave orders that she be taken through the whole building. Then she was brought to meet him. "I want the people to consider the White House as their own," he said. "I want it to be open especially to those who don't often get a chance to see fine things."

President as Shopper

The president drove quickly to a store in the heart of Washington's business section, dismounted and went shopping. He selected a gift for one of the executive household.

"I haven't had much chance to shop since I've been president," he remarked. "That's one drawback of the presidency. I used to do all the family marketing—and I can drive a pretty keen bargain."

The Owl Story

A family of owls took up their abode on the White House lawn. The president summoned a jury of children from a nature study class to pass on the fate of the night-hooters. The children decided the owls should stay. They're still there.

THIN PEOPLE

There are 30,000,000,000,000 Red Corpuscles in Your Blood and Each One Must Have Vitamins Before You Can Ever Hope to Weigh Normal

If you are thin, scrawny, haggard and rundown looking, and no matter how much you spend in clothes they fail to make you look dressed up and fashionable and you know the chief contributory cause of your wretchedly poor appearance is lack of normal weight, you should eat more vitamins containing vegetables such as lettuce, spinach and apples, and reinforce them from time to time when eating your meals with a little MEDIC-YEEST, which is rich in vitamins, "the soul of the food," as well spoken of by scientists and chemists as a vital food element.

If you want to put on good solid, firm, lasting flesh and build your body normal weight to normal with plenty of real nerve force, strength and vitality, you should obtain from your druggist a package of palatable, harmless, health-giving nourishment in the form of MEDIC-YEEST. MEDIC-YEEST represents vitamins in such a highly concentrated form that one dose of it is estimated to be approximately equal (in vitamin content) to

Immediate Disposition of $1,000,000 Worth of Liquor in Storage Ordered

"Moonshine" Adulterated or Low-proof Liquor to be Destroyed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Immediate disposition of liquors seized under the national prohibition act on which storage charges are accruing was ordered today by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

Instructions were sent to federal prohibition directors and internal revenue collectors to request the United States attorneys in their districts to petition the courts for disposition orders for all seized liquors, automobiles, boats or other vehicles taken by the government for violation of the prohibition laws.

Liquor such as "moonshine," adulterated and low-proof liquor having no commercial value, should be destroyed, Mr. Haynes said, while the higher proof and unadulterated liquors should be diverted to commercial, but not beverage, uses.

Incomplete reports from the various districts, Mr. Haynes said, estimated the total value of good liquors held by the government at about $1,000,000.

SHIP AGROUND ON CASTLE ISLAND

City of Atlanta Ran Ashore During Fog in Inner Boston Harbor Today

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—The steamship City of Atlanta of the Ocean Steamship company, inward bound from Savannah with passengers and freight, went aground on Castle Island, in the inner harbor today.

The steamer struck during a fog. Wireless messages from Captain Garfield, her master, informed the company of her distress.

There are 13 passengers and crew of 75 aboard the City of Atlanta. No necessity to land them from the vessel had been reported up to 3.30 o'clock and representatives of the company and a police boat started down the harbor to learn the gravity of her position.

Castle Island in clear weather is in sight of the Ocean Steamship company piers.

FEDERAL TROOPS READY TO MOVE

600 at Camp Sherman Under Orders to Prepare to Proceed to West Virginia

Details of Pitched Battle Between 300 Deputies and Armed Men at Blair Lackey

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, Aug. 26.—Between 500 and 600 federal troops were preparing to leave Camp Sherman before noon for the coal fields of West Virginia. Approximately 150 men from Columbus barracks arrived here at 3.30 a. m. and were immediately joined by all available effectives at Camp Sherman.

Marching To Mingo

PEYTONA, W. Va., Aug. 26.—The first of the marching bodies of men who camped yesterday and last night at Rutledge, five miles east of here, and who say they were going through Boone and Logan counties to Mingo, began passing through Peytona shortly before 9 a. m. They marched in good order and seemed to be in excellent spirits after their rest at Rutledge.

BOOSTED THE TAX RATE

Increase in School Expenditures Was a Potential Factor

The greater cost of running Lowell's public schools together with marked increases in the city's interest charges and payments on city debt are the three major items which caused an increase of $4.20 in the 1921 tax rate as compared with the 1920, according to an analysis of the rate made today by City Auditor J. Joseph Hennessy.

The auditor says that these three items alone have resulted in an increase of $3.80 on the rate. The school department this year had an appropriation of $235,000 more than in 1920. Interest charges have been inflated greatly because of the various large building projects for which money has been borrowed and this year the city will be called upon to pay out for this purpose $185,000 more than a year ago. Payments on the city debt this year will amount to $66,000 more than in 1920. These three items represent an increase of $487,000 which must be raised by taxation this year.

The secret of the substantial advance in the rate this year may be found in those charges, the auditor said, "and for further light on the increase as far as city expenditures are concerned, we must remember that soldiers' relief will cost twice as much this year as last year and there will also be more to be paid out on charity, outdoor relief, etc. The police and fire departments will also need more money than usual this year."

During the last ten years the number of women wage earners has increased 50 per cent.

RULES "UNJUSTIFIED"

R. R. Employees Reject Rules for Overtime Rates Promulgated by Labor Board

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Rules governing the payment of overtime rates, promulgated by the United States railroad labor board last week to supplement the overtime rules of the national agreement covering shop crafts employees, were rejected as "unjustified" by a conference of regional executive boards of the Railway Employees department of the American Federation of Labor today.

Novel Break Into Store

police are now endeavoring to locate the intruders, but so far their efforts have proved fruitless.

The break was one of the most ingenious ever committed in this city, for the thieves got their loot without even entering the store and the spot where they worked is almost directly opposite a white wall. As far as can be seen or surmised the only tools used by the culprits in committing the theft were a pool cue, two long pieces of heavy wire and perhaps a pair of tongs. In order to get an idea as to just how the break was committed, it may be stated that in the front door of the store is a mail slot about 8 inches long and three or four inches in width, and opposite the door on the right hand side of the store is a showcase which contains revolvers and cigars.

It is believed that the thieves slipped a pool cue through the mail slot in the door and cracked the glass of the showcase. After this part of the work was accomplished they slipped a wire with a hook on the end into the showcase and pulled out four revolvers of the 35-calibre type and then by using a pair of long-handled tongs they got out a bunch of cigars in the same manner.

The theft was discovered shortly after 8 o'clock this morning by Mr. Gonzales, who upon opening the screen door in the front of his store, found two long pieces of wire between the two doors. As soon as he entered the store he tripped over a broken pool cue and later saw the smashed showcase. He immediately reported the matter to the police and Sergeants McClaughrey and Dwyer were assigned to the case.

In speaking with a Sun reporter this morning Mr. Gonzales said the police were notified about three weeks ago that plans were under way for a break at his store. He said one day a man entered his store and pointing out to four young men, who were standing in front of the store, said he had overheard their conversation and learned that they planned to break into the store. The boys, he said, were discussing the best means of committing the break and they stated the best time would be 2 a. m. Mr. Gonzales looked the young men over and as far as he can remember, they were lads about 18 or 20 years of age. The four were tall and thin and all wore caps and blue shirts.

"While my informant, who gave the name of Bert O'Leary, of Middlesex st. was in the store," continued Mr. Gonzales, "the young men went away. I immediately got in touch with the police and reported to them Mr. O'Leary's statement. That same night a sergeant and two patrolmen came into the store and after looking the place over carefully, gave me some advice about barricading the rear door. The sergeant then informed the patrolmen to be on the lookout and told them that if anything happened they would be held responsible. That is the last I heard about the police activities until this morning when I notified them of the break.

"I feel that if the police had been on their job, the break would not have occurred, and furthermore, I am at a loss to explain why, if the officer on the beat tried the door, as he is supposed to do, he did not detect the pieces of wire, which were wedged in between the two doors. It seems to me that we are not getting the police protection we are entitled to, for if we were, my showcase would not have been smashed and today I would not be minus four revolvers and a number of cigars."

The policewomen have one small better sanitation, and better accommodations for witnesses and members of the public who come here. There is an urgent demand for something to be done. The disagreeable crowding seriously hampers the efficient conduct of business here."

From all corners of the building comes the same story of cramped quarters. The members of the liquor and vice raiding squads are provided with certain lockers on the third floor, supposedly to hang their clothes in, and to use for the securing of other personal effects. However, so insufficient is the space at their disposal that it is necessary to utilize these lockers for the storage of contraband moonshine, prior to its being sent to the commissioner of public safety at the state house. Liquor has been locked in the closet in the inspectors' room, for lack of better places of safekeeping, has been enclosed in the vault in the guard room, and yet practically at all times there remains a surplus which has to be left standing in the corridor on the ground floor.

room in which to transact their important work. The license board has no adequate place of storage for its records, although it was originally intended, according to Clerk Flaherty of the board, to have part of the vault which extends up through two floors. However, finally one part of the vault was assigned to the police, and the other to the clerk of court's office. That left the license commission to shift as it might in the matter of preserving its records.

There is a lawyer's consultation room now on the second floor (the space being subtracted from the license board rooms); but this is of meagre proportions, considering the volume of the district court business which is constantly being transacted. The bar association of Lowell, comprising all the attorneys of the city, is strong for more fitting quarters. At present it is apparently felt that the accommodations can be described in no less emphatic a fashion than as ridiculous.

As for the police, "Anything that will bring about a remodeling of the police station building will be welcomed by the department," was the statement of a high police official, who tendered enthusiastic praise to The Sun's campaign. "I have hardly a place to hang my hat, so congested are the quarters here. The main corridor is crowded with barrels and other paraphernalia a great deal of the time, as the result of booze raids. There are no adequate places to store the stuff, as conditions prevail at present."

"We have been trying for years to secure these changes," declared a lieutenant of the department, who also hailed The Sun as a benefactor of the department in attempting to bring about the erection of a new building, or at least the complete remodeling of the one now in use.

FISH IN STORAGE

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Cold storage plants in this state contained nearly two and one half million pounds less fish on Aug. 15 of this year than they did a year ago, Herman G. Lythgoe, director of the food and drug division of the department of health reported today. Fish storage this year amounted to 9,743,261 pounds. Three fish freezers have been shut down in Lowell, Mr. Lythgoe found.

FIRST PHOTO OF HAYWOOD IN RUSSIA

This is the first picture of Bill Haywood, the American I. W. W., in Russia. It was taken at the Third Internationale Communist Conference at Moscow. That's Bill on the right. The fellow in shirt sleeves is T. Watkins, representative of the British miners. They are reading a communist paper between sessions of the Internationale.

PAIR HANDCUFFED BY GARAGE OWNERS

NORTHAMPTON, Aug. 26.—Two young men, who it is alleged attempted to break into the garage owned by Lewis E. Cook and August F. Winnel, were taken into custody by the authorities after they had been taken into custody with a display of firearms, and handcuffed.

Peter Starzyk, 20, of Chicago, was bound over to the grand jury yesterday and the case of William Adrian, 18, was continued for hearing in juvenile court. The young men were heard by the garage owner, who slept in the building, and with a shotgun and pistol Cook and Winnel confronted them and marched them to this city. The young men said they were merely seeking oil for their auto.

AUTO INJURIES

PROVE FATAL

FITCHBURG, Aug. 26.—Charles E. Gannett, 48, died early last night at the Burbank hospital as a result of injuries received a short time before in an automobile accident on Ashby road.

Mr. Gannett was driving from Ashby to this city, having a load of lumber on an auto truck. A gear broke and the machine turned over, he being crushed beneath the load. His skull was fractured, his nose broken, and he lost one of his eyes.

RAILROAD EARNINGS

Totalled $174,662,167 During the Six Months Ending in June

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Railroads of the country earned $174,662,167 during the six months ending in June as against $171,721,706 during the same period last year, according to figures made public yesterday by the interstate commerce commission.

The total revenues of the carriers for the period derived from operating their roads was $2,676,437,352, as against $2,741,567,192 for the same period last year. The expenses entailed in operating the roads for the six months was $2,665,747,374, as against $2,575,185,307 for the year before. The operating expenses of the carriers for the period was 68.39 per cent of the operating revenues as against 63.93 for the six months' period last year.

$22.50

I have three perfectly good reasons for making this unusual offer—

First of all, I want to test the advertising of Lowell papers.

In the second place, I've got a large organization of tailors, cutters and salesmen on my payroll and I am going to keep them busy even if I have to lose money in doing so.

Third, a big Boston woolen house begged me to take 1500 suit and overcoat patterns off their hands at a great sacrifice.

These goods are classed as tailors to the trade samples, real rich designs, in modest colors. Regular $30 to $35 values, in today's market. I place these woollens in made-to-measure garments at the specially reduced price of $22.50, and I'll give you $3.00 off this price if you bring this ad. with you.

My usual guarantee as to quality, trimmings and tailoring goes with this offer.

TAX RATES ARE REDUCED

North Andover Levy Drops $4 a Thousand—Reduction of $3.20 at Newton

NORTH ANDOVER, Aug. 26.—The North Andover tax rate was announced yesterday as $3 per $1000, a drop of $1 from last year. Large increases in both personal and real estate values are responsible for the reduction. The real estate valuations due to new buildings, has increased $611,000 in the year.

Reduction at Newton
NEWTON, Aug. 26.—The board of assessors yesterday afternoon reported the tax rate for this year to be $24, as against $27.20 last year, a reduction of $3.20. The decrease is due largely to an increase in the number of new buildings in the residential district. Revaluation added to the amount of taxable property.

The total amount to be raised by taxation this year is $2,195,251.20. The valuation of real estate this year is $73,827,600, an increase of $4,050,200 over last year. The personal property valuation is $12,766,209, an increase of $1,155,220 over last year.

WAR PROFITEERS MAY ESCAPE PROSECUTION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The administration's plan to prosecute the profiteers against the government, announced more than two months ago, is in danger of collapse by operation of the statute of limitations, which bars procedure in certain criminal cases after three years from the time of offense. Legislation to meet the situation has been sought by Atty. Gen. Daugherty. Nov. 11 next will be the third anniversary of the armistice.

HOW TO REDUCE VARICOSE VEINS

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches. If you will get a two ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it at home as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal. Moone's Emerald Oil is very concentrated and a bottle lasts a long time—that's why it is a most inexpensive treatment. It has brought much comfort to worried people all over the country and is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and always bear in mind that anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist or Fred Howard can supply you.—Adv.

Among cases which were recommended by the congressional investigating committee on war expenditures, for action through the department of justice, was that of the Standard Steel Car company, in which Secretary Mellon was a leading director. It is not yet definitely known if this is one of the cases in which the statute of limitations is already operative.

Atty. Gen. Daugherty wants the period of limitation in criminal cases increased from three to six years, to apply generally. Representative Graham introduced a bill Monday and the house judiciary committee reported it favorably Tuesday, but it failed of passage. There is little chance now that it will become law prior to Nov. 11 and the chances point toward a clean sweep of the administration's profiteering program to carry on which many lawyers have been gathered here to bring action.

The reason for the delay, it is said, has been inability of the department of justice to get its evidence together in time.

A regularly organized women's club existed in New York in 1747.

U. S. SEN. PAGE OF VERMONT TO QUIT POLITICS

OUTLAND, Vt., Aug. 26.—United States Senator Carrol S. Page announced yesterday at his home in Hyde Park, that he will not be a candidate for re-election in 1922. His statement was as follows:

"The question has been asked me, and I should expect as the weeks multiply it would be often repeated, 'Do you intend to be a candidate in 1922 to succeed yourself as United States senator?' The question is a proper one, and in justice to my friends should be finally answered now. My answer is 'No.'"

"It is 62 years since, as representative from Hyde Park, I first entered public life. While my official service has not, of course, been continuous, I have, nevertheless, been actively interested in public affairs all these years. I shall always be proud of the generosity that has made that service possible. I have tried to give the best that was in me, according to my opportunities, for the good of the people who have called me to serve. I am today the oldest living United States senator and when my present term expires, shall have entered my 81st year. The time has come when home is the dearest spot on earth and at the end of my present term I want to spend the years remaining to me back with my old friends in Vermont."

DEATH OF EMPLOYEE IN THE CAR SHOPS

While suffering from a temporary attack of insanity, caused by despondency over ill health, Joseph Brodeur, aged 40 years, an employee of the Billerica carshops and father of eight children, hanged himself in the cellar of his home, 601 Gorham street, yesterday. The body was found late in the afternoon by a daughter of deceased, who went down stairs for wood. The remains were taken down by Lieut. Palmer and Patrolman Farley and were later viewed by Medical Examiner T. B. Smith. Deceased was last seen alive at about 8 o'clock, when he left the house, saying he was going to his work.

BAFFLED AGAIN BY OCEAN TEMPESTS

EXMOUTH, Eng., Aug. 25.—Baffled a second time by ocean tempests, the yacht Medora, of 152 tons, which first departed April 12 for the South seas, where its ship's company of 24 souls sought relief from civilization in lying in the docks here with new pages in its history of disappointed hopes. Twice the Medora has started from England and twice she has returned. The last time, the little vessel carried 14 men, seven women and three children bound for a paradise on earth where neither tax gatherers nor strikes disturb. "We had to come back because the Tahiti.

women could not stand the rough weather," one of the pioneers declared and with this the women agreed. Despite the two unsuccessful departures, the party, with only six survivors, has remained resolute and determined to complete the journey. Plans now contemplate a new start. This time, however, there will be no women on board. They will take the "overland" route across the American continent and thence to Tahiti in the Society Islands. The exact location of the colony has not yet been determined, but it is understood that T. F. Rhodes, British organizer of the expedition, has obtained an option on 1000 acres in Tahiti.

NEW FUEL CUTS COST OF RUNNING AUTO

ROME, Aug. 25.—Through the invention of a gas generating mixture composed of alcohol and a sulphur-carbon combination, the cost of operating automobiles and all internal combustion motors can be reduced one-half, according to the claims of Engineer Sestti, who after exhaustive experiments under the auspices of the Italian government has just completed a report on the possibilities of the new combustion. The use of the new gas generating mixture pre-supposes the employment of a special kind of carburetor, which Signor Sestti has evolved. The experiments have been in progress over a period of almost three years and were begun with a special view of lessening the cost of automobile fuel. The new fuel has a density greater than that of gasoline in the ratio of 925 to 730. It is urged that the adoption of the fuel will considerably lessen the importations of foreign gasoline. Practically all the raw materials necessary for the new fuel can be found in Italy. The inventor claims that the exhaust gas is less obnoxious to the lungs than the fumes of gasoline. The use of crude alcohol to the proportion of 75 per cent. is employed in the fuel while the remaining 25 per cent. is taken up by the sulphur-carbon combination.

ENORMOUS DAMAGE CAUSED BY FLOOD

LONDON, Aug. 26.—A Reuter cable from Karachi, British India, says that unprecedented floods in the Malir district, which is in the watershed of the Indus, has caused extensive damage. Entire villages have been swept away. 10 persons having been killed and many more are homeless, while cattle have been drowned and crops destroyed.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

And are making your home with your son or daughter you will add their name to the invitation to the formal affair for which you send out cards. You will have no bridesmaids at your wedding if you are married in a travelling suit. One attendant for the bride at such a wedding is all that is permissible. And are travelling with a party you will not try to show your knowledge of other localities by holding the floor with long comparisons of other things you have seen. Fires in coal mines of the Hocking Valley in Ohio have been burning for the last 37 years.

RECORD CONVICTIONS UNDER DRY LAW

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 26.—The United States district attorney's office for the district of Hawaii can boast the highest batting average in the attorney-general's department in obtaining convictions under Volstead prohibition enforcement law, according to a letter reaching the district attorney from the attorney general recently. Despite occasional whispers of widespread violations, the district attorney has a record of 55 per cent. convictions in the prohibition cases. Without wasps, fig trees would not produce fruit.

DESOLATION HOVERS OVER KIEL HARBOR

KIEL, Aug. 26.—German-Americans who frequent the lobbies of hotels in Berlin can often be heard remarking that Germany has won the war.

If they were to visit Kiel and other German naval bases they would probably get a decidedly different impression. Nothing could be more complete than the desolation which hovers over Kiel harbor, formerly the pet war harbor of the German navy and probably the best haven in all Europe.

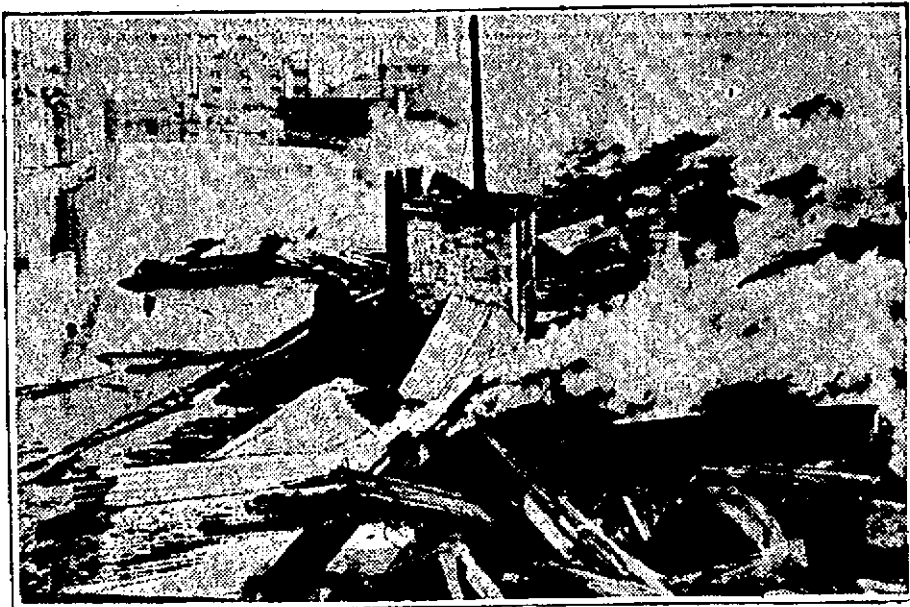

The great shipyards which created most of the craft for the German navy are silent. Rusty sheds mark the scene of former activity. Idle, deserted docks stand as sad reminders of days when Kiel was the point to which all German eyes, and in fact all the eyes of Europe were directed.

All machinery which the allied commissions regarded as useful for war purposes has been dismantled. Floating docks, cranes and other expensive equipment have been moved away to recompense Germany's enemies for the damage done by Admiral von Tirpitz's submarines.

In peacetime, Kiel had 50,000 naval officers, sailors and employees in the harbor all the time. Now the naval personnel is less than 1,000. The city which formerly had a population of 250,000 as lost all of its great government payroll and one-fifth of its population.

Fort Falkenstein and the other batteries which covered the Baltic entrance to the Kaiser William Canal have been reduced to piles of crumbled

LONDON'S UNEMPLOYMENT FIRE

"Wanted: 60 men in lumber yard." Four thousand answered this ad in London. After 60 had been accepted the gates were closed. Rioting broke out and soon the lumber yard covering 17 acres was a mass of flames. Here's a general view of the fire. Loss $5,000,000.

concrete and twisted steel. Their great guns have been saved into bits and pitched into scrap heaps.

The naval academy is closed. An empire without a navy has no use for more naval officers. The attendance at the university has dwindled. The castle of Prince Henry, overlooking the naval harbor, has been taken over by the workmen for a club, and there are no warships in the magnificent waterway where the former Emperor William used to review his navy with pomp.

It was here that the flower of the German navy lay, safe behind torpedo nets, during most of the war. At present there are only two antique cruisers lying at the Imperial naval docks. These are so far out of date that the English and French didn't think it was necessary to scrap them, and hesitated to offer such craft to any of the nations which had helped win the war.

Small commercial shipyards are operating and the commercial harbor still has a little business.

The Kiel canal is still quite active. But Kiel derives little benefit from this business passing through the canal and cannot revive materially until exchange conditions become such that it can again buy timber from the Scandinavian countries and resume its importance as a lumber depot for Central Europe.

NEW PHOTOS IN "LUCKY PENNY" MURDER CASE

MADALYNNE OBENCHAIN

This character study of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain reveals the despondent mood which has claimed her since her indictment for complicity in the ambush murder of her sweetheart, J. Belton Kennedy, Los Angeles broker. Kennedy, for whose sake she secured a divorce from Ralph Obenchain, Chicago Attorney, was shot in her presence while the two were searching for a "lucky penny" Mrs. Obenchain said she had previously buried at Kennedy's secluded summer cottage near Los Angeles. Indicted with her is Arthur C. Burch, her "platonic friend" who had come to her a short time before the murder in response to her summons.

J. BELTON KENNEDY

This is believed to be the only authentic picture in existence of J. Belton Kennedy, 28, Los Angeles broker and the man with whom Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain declared herself ardently in love prior to his murder for which she and Arthur C. Burch stand indicted. Because of Kennedy's mother's objection to a possible wedding, Mrs. Obenchain's love letters reached him through an intermediary in a Los Angeles beauty shop.

OPPOSE CHANGE IN FROZEN EGG TARIFF

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 26.—The New England Bakers' association at its annual convention yesterday, passed resolutions regarding federal legislation and appointed a committee to confer with the American Institute of Baking on the subject. Resolutions were also passed requesting that the United States senate permit the tariff on frozen eggs to remain at 4 cents, on dried eggs 12 cents.

The Western Massachusetts Bakers' association, speaking on bakers' wages, said that in 1870 bakers received $6 a week and worked 75 hours a week. The same class of bakers is now receiving $15.00 a year with a 48-hour week, he said.

POSSE HUNTING FOR ESCAPED PRISONER

WOLFBORE, N. H., Aug. 26.—A small posse of citizens headed by Deputy Sheriff Wilbur H. Gilman is searching the woods at Center Wolfboro in an attempt to find a prisoner who escaped from Ossipee jail late yesterday afternoon.

While no information will be given at the jail or at the office of the county solicitor, it was learned on good authority that the escaped man is a dangerous criminal. He is reported to have been serving a term for breaking and entering. For the past few days he had been sullen and restless.

Officer Thompson and constable Mitchell are working with a picked squad on the outskirts of Wolfboro, while at Ossipee another gang of volunteers is working toward Wolfboro. The escaped man is said to have been sentenced at the last term of the court and to have remarked at the time that he would never serve his sentence.

WOULD INCREASE STEEL BILL $24,000,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The annual steel bill of the United States will be increased nearly $24,000,000 under import taxes levied by the Fordney tariff bill on certain raw products entering into steel manufacturing, John A. Topping, chairman of the Board of the Republic Iron and Steel company, declared yesterday before the senate finance committee. Speaking in behalf of a delegation representing independent steel companies, Mr. Topping asserted that the steel industry must look to a broad market.

ket to keep its plants going, and said the expansion could be accomplished only through low production costs. He told the committee there was an exportable surplus of 20 per cent. of the output, adding that if rates on the raw materials, the industry would be able to maintain its place in world markets.

Mr. Topping said he was disposed to regard the Fordney measure as a revenue tariff and not as a protective levy insofar as the steel industry was concerned.

conditions in the steel and other industries and brought from Mr. Topping the statement that the depression now is the worst in his experience of nearly 40 years in the steel industry. He estimated that steel plants with their mines and other component factors are running less than 35 per cent. of their maximum capacity and that only about 300,000 men are employed at present, against a normal employment of 1,500,000.

Asked as to production costs, Mr. Topping declared that undoubtedly the cost of making steel is too high to create a demand.

SAVING WASHINGTON ELM

Tree surgeons are again at work to prolong the life of the famous Washington Elm in front of the Capitol. Washington is said to have frequently eaten his lunch under the tree during the construction of the Capitol. It has shown signs of decay for many years and only frequent operations prolong its life. Notice three men are at work.

NEW "BLUE SKY" LAW
EFFECTIVE TODAY

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—The new "blue sky" law, intended to prevent the sale of worthless securities, becomes operative in this state today. It will be administered by the public utilities commission.

Already the commission had received more than $13,000 in fees for the registration of brokers and salesmen. The fee for an individual or a corporation is $50 a year and that for a salesman is $2 a year.

According to data prepared by the commission, 247 applications have been received from brokers and 737 applications from salesmen. All the applicants have been registered, but should the commission, through investigation, learn facts later which warrant the act, the registration issued may be cancelled.

All persons selling securities within the commonwealth, as a broker or salesman, must be registered by the commission, under penalty of a fine of not more than $5000 or imprisonment for not more than 2½ years, or both.

BEER REGULATIONS
NOT TO BE ISSUED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Beer, as a medicine, was doomed yesterday by the treasury unless congress, after recess, should fail to enact the Willis-Campbell anti-beer bill.

In conference with Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair, Secretary Mellon decided that the regulations already drawn, which would permit physicians to prescribe a case of beer at a time, with no limit on the number of prescriptions, should be held up by the treasury pending determination of the medical beer question by congress.

In reaching this decision it was explained the treasury took the attitude that issuance of the regulations in the face of what was regarded as certain hostile legislation would be to no purpose, especially as brewers have shown no desire to have the beer rules promulgated or to begin operations before congress finally accepts or rejects the anti-beer bill.

HAVE MADE A RECORD AS GARDENERS

Elmer Clement and Thomas Boyle, two boys residing in West Fifth avenue, have made a record for fine gardens in the Pawtucketville section. Elmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred F. Clement, Miss Alice T. Lee, supervisor of school gardens, has given him high praise for his agricultural work. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyle, also of West Fifth avenue, is another young man whom Miss Lee has deemed worthy of special credit for his hard work and persistence in maintaining a splendid garden.

CRANBERRY CROPS ARE HARD HIT

WAKEFIELD, Aug. 26.—Although Thanksgiving day and Christmas cranberry season are not threatened with disaster, May and June frosts, July floods and worms have combined to reduce Massachusetts' cranberry crop to an estimated 205,000 barrels this year, V. A. Sanders, federal crop statistician and I do not think it necessary to deal with it now, particularly as we haven't got a reply from the British government.

"Our position is unchanged. We cannot change our position, because it is fundamentally sound. Just the moment we get off that fundamental rock of right and justice we have no case whatsoever. No fight can be made except on that rock, and on that rock we shall stand."

Mr. De Valera proposed Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Féin, as vice-president and minister of foreign affairs and the re-election of the other ministers, and the Dail adopted his recommendation.

British Offer Rejected

LONDON, Aug. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—The British government's peace proposals were laid before the Dail Eireann, which rejected them unanimously, but is willing to negotiate on the principle of government by consent of the governed. Eamon De Valera says in his reply to Mr. Lloyd George, the British prime minister.

The letter proposes that Great Britain and Ireland appoint representatives with plenary powers to negotiate details on this principle.

"We have not sought war nor do we seek war, but if war be made upon us we must defend ourselves, and shall do so," says Mr. De Valera's letter. "We long to end the conflict between Great Britain and Ireland," he adds.

Text of Reply

The text of the letter, which bears the date of August 24, reads:

"The anticipatory judgment I gave in my reply of August 13, has been confirmed. I laid the proposals of your government before the Dail Eireann and by a unanimous vote it has rejected them."

"From your letter of August 13 it was clear that the principle we are asked to accept was that the 'geographical propinquity' of Ireland to Great Britain imposed the condition of the subordination of Ireland's right to Great Britain's strategic interests, as she conceives them, and that the very length and persistence of the efforts made in the past to compel Ireland's acquiescence in a foreign domination imposed the condition of acceptance of that domination now."

Fatal to World's Peace

"We cannot believe that your government intended to commit itself to the principle of sheer militarism, destructive of international morality and fatal to the world's peace. If a small nation's right to independence is forfeited when a more powerful neighbor covets its territory for military or other advantages it is supposed to confer there is an end to liberty. No longer can any small nation claim the right to a separate existence. Holland and Denmark can be made subservient to Germany, Belgium to Germany or to France; Portugal to Spain."

"If nations that have been forever annexed to an empire lose thereby their title to independence there can be for them no re-birth to freedom."

Charge Fundamentally False

"In Ireland's case, to speak of her seceding from a partnership she has not accepted or from an allegiance which she has not undertaken to render, is fundamentally false, just as the claim to subordinate her independence to British strategy is fundamentally unjust. To neither can we, as representatives of the nation, lend countenance."

"If our refusal to betray our nation's honor and the trust that has been reposed in us, the necessity of war by Great Britain we deplore. We are conscious of our responsibilities to the living as we are mindful of principle or of our obligations to the heroic dead."

Not Seeking War

"We have not sought war nor do we seek war, but if war be made upon us we must defend ourselves and shall do so, confident that, whether our defense be successful or unsuccessful, no body of representative Irishmen or Irishwomen will ever propose to the nation the surrender of its birthright."

"We long to end the conflict between Great Britain and Ireland. If your government is determined to impose its will upon us by force, and antecedent to negotiations to insist upon conditions that involve a surrender of our whole national position and make negotiations a mockery, the responsibility for the continuance of the conflict rests upon you."

Points Way to Peace

"On the basis of the broad guiding principle of government by the consent of the governed, peace can be secured—a peace that will be just and honorable to all and fruitful of concord and inducing to amity."

"To negotiate such a peace the Dail Eireann is ready to appoint its representatives, if your government accepts the principle proposed, to invest them with plenary powers to meet and arrange with you for its application in detail."

"I am, sir,

"Faithfully yours,

(Signed) "EAMON DE VALERA."

The reply to Mr. De Valera's letter probably will be drawn today, the British cabinet having met and considered the communication.

Fitzalan Summoned

DUBLIN, Aug. 26.—(By Associated Press)—Viscount Fitzalan, lord lieutenant and governor general of Ireland, was summoned to London last night to confer with the cabinet.

BY MARIAN HALE

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—While extremists, as well as alarmists, are terribly concerned over the "to be or not to be" of the long, full skirt—smart New York designers go merrily on their way creating the graceful straight-lined gowns. A model of exceeding grace and chic is the Norman & Katz gown of whip-poor-will brocade with its long panel-effect back and front, the panels lined with white silk, semi-detached in the back. Chased metal buttons and a metal belt and the large sleeves are the only trimmings as the brocade speaks for itself. Chenille as a trimming is very much in evidence this fall as is shown in the Realart frock of Roshanara, crepe, worn by Helen Cunningham. While there is nothing essentially Spanish about the cut of this gown, which is showered with chenille points, the hat is decidedly Hispanic. The gown also has the broad sleeves, and revers open from a vest of lace. The narrow belt sash has long chenille fringe ends.

$150,000 Loss at Hyannisport

HYANNISPORT, Mass., Aug. 26.—Fire destroyed the summer mansion of Harry T. Dunn of New York, automobile manufacturer, early today with loss of about $150,000. The family was absent at the time but the servants were driven out by the flames. The cause of the fire is unknown. Aid was called from Hyannis and Centerville.

SISTER FROM ASSYRIA

Church Worker From Near Jerusalem is Now Visiting in Lowell

Rev. Sister Mariam Saffy, a member of the Society of Girls of Notre Dame of Saldnaya, Assyria, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Maria, of Suffolk street and Mrs. Fahame Kathrina, of 217 Fletcher street. The visiting nun is on missionary work in this country and has been in America for seven years. She expects to return to her country shortly.

Rev. Sister Saffy is connected with the Greek Orthodox church and her mission is to visit every colony of Assyrians and Greeks in this country in an endeavor to raise funds for the maintenance of the monastery of Notre Dame, which is located at Saldnaya, an institution which looks after the welfare of the orphans of Assyria. The monastery is a large stone building situated on a high elevation and is now housing 1000 girl orphans.

Turks Responsible

"These little girls, according to Sister Mariam, have been made orphans through the atrocities of the Turks. The children of the Greek Orthodox faith are being cared for by the Sisters of Notre Dame, but inasmuch as their revenues are limited they are forced to send out representatives to various countries of the world.

Six or seven years ago Sister Saffy and Sister Mariam Sabbage came to America with credentials signed by Patriarch Gregorius of Damascus and the sister who is visiting in this city reports that they have been well received wherever they went. Sister Sabbage is now in the western part of the country, but it is expected that within a few months both will again meet and embark for the voyage across.

Needs Improvements

The convent which the sisters represent is a fine institution, but the building needs considerable improvements. One of the most important is the establishment of a water system, for at present those in charge of the home are forced to carry water from a spring a distance of over a mile, and when one takes into consideration that there are nearly 1000 children in the home and 40 sisters, one gets an idea of what it means to keep the home well supplied with fresh water. The monastery is surrounded by a farm, but owing to the poor condition of the land, as the better land has been taken over by the Turks, very little grain and vegetables are being raised.

Saldnaya is located about 500 miles from Jerusalem and is a place visited by thousands of tourists every year. The peasants of the district are mostly poor and although they are willing to do their utmost in aiding the home, they are unable to meet the expenses of such a large institution so that sisters are sent out in various parts of the world to raise funds and their efforts are meeting with success. Rev. Sister Saffy will leave this city next Monday for Manchester, N. H., where she will be the guest of relatives.

Probe of Break in Mexican Petroleum

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—In its investigation of a break in Mexican Petroleum after a fall in the rate of dividend had been disseminated by a ticker service, the New York Stock Exchange today ordered its members to report their transactions in the stock yesterday, and the day before, with names of clients, prices and other details. The ticker service declared it had been deceived by a telephone message and in this connection the order of the exchange for information as to short and long commitments was regarded as significant.

Clerk Trull Laments Conditions in Present Police Building in Market St.

CELLS IN LOWELL'S ANTIQUATED POLICE COURT BUILDING

The campaign launched by The Sun, seeking to bring about the construction of a new building or rebuilding of the present one to take the place of the antiquated and unsanitary structure which houses police headquarters, the district court, the office of the clerk of court, the license commission headquarters, the probation officer's rooms, the police electricians' workshop, and sundry other branches of the local administration of justice has brought commendation from all sides.

From the public which suffers under present conditions, and from members of the local bar, who also are greatly troubled by the lack of facilities, many complaints are heard. The police, and other occupants of various parts of the venerable building, are also loud in their support of The Sun's move for immediate amelioration of the present situation. Clerk of the District Court Edward W. Trull voiced the general sentiment today, in lamenting the present conditions. "We are badly cramped here," he stated, "and are in the greatest need of more up-to-date quarters for our ever increasing work. We require

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, Aug. 26.—Regular army troops numbering 500 and 500, including 150 who arrived this morning from Columbus barracks, were held in readiness shortly before noon to leave Camp Sherman for the West Virginia coal fields. Railroad coaches were ready for entrainment were prepared to depart immediately upon receipt of orders.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The weather bureau issued the following storm warning at 10 a. m.: "Northeast storm warning, Cape Hatteras to Delaware breakwater. Falling pressure off North Carolina coast in connection with strong area of high pressure to northward will cause strong northeast winds during the next 24 hours, probably reaching gale force." Nearly 250,000 women are engaged in hair dressing in Japan.

STATE CONSTABULARY LAW NOW IN FORCE

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Massachusetts' state constabulary dates from today. The law establishing it went into effect this morning. Under the act the commissioner of public safety has organized a force of 50 men, mounted on motorcycles and enlisted for 2 years, under military discipline. The constables are not under civil service regulations. Captain George A. Barker has been assigned to command the new unit under the public safety commissioner.

DRUG STORE MEN AT BOSTON BANQUET

R. E. Donnellan and R. S. Bence, managers of Lowell's two Liggett drug stores, were among those who attended the big "get together" banquet given last evening at the Hotel Westminster, Boston, by Warren E. Swett, general manager of the Eastern division of the Liggett stores, to 26 heads of stores of the company in New England and New York. William Brennan, manager of the Worcester establishment of the concern, acted as toastmaster, while Mr. Swett presided. "Business is improving," was the general expression of opinion, as reported by the local representatives who attended as guests.

High Cost of Beans and Frankfurts

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—The average plate of beans served in arm chair lunch rooms contains 295 beans, which together with the bread and butter served with them cost the proprietor about 2½¢, the state commission on necessities of life reported today. The usual charge to the public is 15¢, the commission's investigators found. Frankfurt sandwiches, popular with those who patronize quick lunches, cost an average of 2 4-10¢, including mustard, and usually sell for 10¢, the report said.

Vice Pres. Coolidge Returns to Home

NORTHAMPTON, Aug. 26.—Vice President Calvin Coolidge with Mrs. Coolidge and their two sons, Calvin, Jr., and John, motored to their home here last night after two weeks' stay at the home of the vice president's father, Colonel John C. Coolidge, in Plymouth, Vermont. Vice President Coolidge said that he expects to remain in his home city until after the 150th anniversary celebration of the town of Williamsburg, September 4, at which he is to be a speaker.

GENERAL AT BILTMORE

Entertained by the Widow of Late George W. Vanderbilt

By Newspaper Enterprise
ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 25.—From tourists visiting Pisgah national park comes the suggestion that this great scenic preserve be renamed after General Pershing.

Pisgah national park consists of more than 50,000 acres of forest and mountain which the government a few years ago purchased from the estate of the late George W. Vanderbilt. It then was named Pisgah park.

General Pershing several times has visited this region and has expressed particular fondness for it.

Last year he inspected two government hospitals here and also was shown over the Vanderbilt estate, of which Pisgah park formerly made something less than half.

Mutual acquaintances have wondered whether the mutual appreciation which the general and Mrs. Vanderbilt have for the scenic grandeur of North Carolina may mark the beginning of a romance.

Mrs. Vanderbilt was Miss Edith Stuyvesant Dresser, the daughter of an army officer, when she was wooed and won by Vanderbilt at Newport. She always has been an active sports-woman, as well as a society leader.

Recently she and her eighteen-year-old daughter, Cornelia, raced tractors in a demonstration given at Biltmore.

EXPORT TRADE SHOWS A STEADY GAIN

BY ALBERT APPLIN
NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—America's foreign trade is reviving.

Exports from the United States hit the bottom of depression in April. Since then, they have been climbing—slowly but surely.

The gain is in physical volume—during July showed big gains over more bushels of wheat, more tons of machinery, etc.

Total money value of exports continues declining, because prices have not stopped falling.

But export tonnage began to increase in May. So say the experts, including Frederick Todd, secretary of the First Federal Foreign Banking association, 40 Wall street.

Big July Gain

Exports of agricultural products

during July showed big gains over

July, 1920. Here are some of them:

Cotton, bales ..... 527,000 211,000

Corn, bushels ..... 14,572,000 1,151,000

Cottonseed ..... 7,259,000 3,631,000

Wheat, bushels ..... 21,790,000 23,328,000

August is expected to show further increase in export volume.

Germany daily is becoming a better customer. She's steadily increasing her purchases of American-made goods.

But Europe as a whole is taking less than half of all American exports, for the first time in history.

Exported Talks

"The key to the whole situation," as one big exporter puts it, "is that the future of our foreign trade is not in Europe. Already we have a big market in China, South America and other parts of the world as we have in Europe. This means that a boom in our foreign trade is not as dependent on European recovery as most exporters thought a year or two ago."

"A lot of folks have been sitting back, saying that business can't revive until foreign trade picks up. Well, it's on the increase now. Of course, prices are down and exports are bringing us less money. But that's offset by the fact that the exporter can buy more with his dollar than he could when prices were high and foreign trade was enormous on paper."

"Take total wheat exports from the United States and Canada. They were 10,671,444 bushels in the week ended August 15. That was far bigger than the corresponding week of any previous year."

Here are the figures showing wheat exports in the week ended August 15, of various years:

1921 ..... 10,671,444 bushels

1920 ..... 8,550,045 bushels

1919 ..... 8,025,972 bushels

1918 ..... 8,874,651 bushels

1917 ..... 8,158,932 bushels

1916 ..... 8,914,919 bushels

1915 ..... 6,165,452 bushels

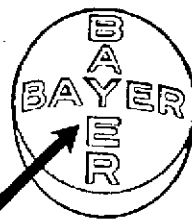

The steel industry is worse off for export trade than any other basic industry.

Iron and steel exports in January were 647,394 tons. They slumped to 119,051 tons in June, the latest reported.

But the general export business is on the mend.

SKIPPERS IN PROTEST

Staid Old Salts Resent Suspicion of Being Rum Runners

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Staid old salts aren't taking kindly to all the prohibition inspection, official and unofficial, that's going on inside and out the three-mile limit.

"Gettin' so you can't drop a mud-hook without some lubber whispering you're a rum runner," said one sun-tanned skipper who recently breezed into port with his schooner aglitter with fish scales.

According to this captain and others of his calling, numberless skippers who played the "chase-the-spy" game during the war now are bent as zealously on tracking down liquor-laden craft in post-war days.

There were spies during the war and there probably are run runners now operating off the coast, but skippers innocent of more than a strong tea breath are complaining that even their cod and halibut now are falling under suspicion and that a reflection is being cast on the ancient and honorable calling of fishermen.

Several months ago, strange fantastic tales began coming in from the Atlantic of vessels mysteriously missing and of other vessels as mysteriously sighted—the phantom craft that hopped up, out of fog, circled merchant craft and scooted away as silently as they had come. Pirates was the first verdict.

Then, in July, off Hatteras, was found a stranded schooner, so battered by the waves that even her name had been ground off her stern. She never was identified, but before she was destroyed by a coast guard cutter as a menace to navigation, there was found in her hold a cargo of rum.

This set folks thinking, and when there came from Montauk Point, on the tip of Long Island, reports of an English schooner that lay off the three-mile limit and dispensed forbidden drinks to all comers, there were persons afloat and ashore who gave credence to the story.

Atlantic City, too, contributed a tale of a liquor schooner that lay off shore, sold liquor and threateningly signalled to prohibition enforcement officers to come and get it.

TO MINIMIZE VETERANS' DIFFICULTIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Veterans are expected to be greatly minimized by the consolidation of all governmental agencies administering soldier relief under one head—the veterans' bureau. That is what Col. Chas. H. Forbes of Seattle, director of the bureau, promises. The day of dual responsibility, of divided authority in the government's dealings with former service men is ended, he says, and troubles of long standing among the veterans will rapidly disappear.

Responsibility for adjusting claims, attending to medical needs and of educating disabled veterans, is definitely fixed under the law creating the veterans' bureau. It rests squarely upon the director, rather than upon the war risk insurance bureau, the federal board for vocational training and the public health service, the three agencies that formerly administered aid independently.

The problem of providing medical facilities, including hospitals, is regarded as the most difficult of all those coming within the jurisdiction of the bureau. Plans already are underway for its solution. The bureau anticipates that the $15,000,000 appropriation for hospital construction will be supplemented by use of authority given the director to enter into contracts with state, municipal and private hospitals for the immediate accommodation of veterans in need of hospital care. The announcement says that 500 new beds will be placed in use for soldier patients by January next year.

Other duties of the director include inspection of all hospitals having soldier patients, supervision of 25,000 war risk patients now being cared for in the private and government hospitals, command of all public health service, doctors and nurses, engaged in soldier rehabilitation work, education of these former fighting men, and the management of an insurance business with 4,000 active and 25,000 term policies with a combined value of $2,500,000,250, and the average $2,000,000-a-day expenditure by the government in meeting the compensation and insurance claims and which are increasing at the rate of 500 claims a day.

bring the place "where nobody goes home."

You, Mr. Visitor, do you know whom you will meet along the great White Way?

Nine chances out of ten it will be some one like yourself.

The proof?

Fifteen names were picked at random from New York's voluminous telephone directory. Fifteen persons were called and asked as to how they spent their evenings. The results:

Mrs. Eugene Healy, 150 E. 42d st.: "With the care of six children and the house, there's nothing else to do but stay home. It's thankful I am to get to bed early."

Miss D. O'Rourke, 316 E. 18th st.: "I work all day, and at night I am too tired to go out. Once in a while I'll go to a movie."

Mrs. J. J. Patton, 2152 Valentine av.: "My husband and I generally take a walk in the evening. Once in a while we go to a theatre, but usually we are in bed by 10 o'clock."

Mrs. M. Pronas, 67 W. 10th st.: "I like to go to the theatre and to dances. Most of my evenings are spent that way."

Joe Reddy, 2 Marble Hill av.: "Generally stay at home with the wife and read my paper. Once in a while we go to the theatre."

George Walton, 164 E. 122d st.: "Usually my wife and I stay at home where we can read the paper and I can smoke in comfort. Now and then we take in a show."

Miss Frances Roset, 420 W. 130th st.: "Oh, I stay home about half the time in the evening and the rest of the time I go in a dance or to the theatre. I gussy, though. I go out more than half the time."

Joseph Hollander, 627 West End av.: "I go to a theatre once in a while, but stay home most of the time, taking a walk as a rule. I never go to dances."

Miss Anne Sutherland, 133 W. 56th st.: "As an actress my work takes me out in the evening but I come home right after the show and read books on psycho-analysis, in which I am very much interested."

Edward Schneider, 425 Irving av.: "I stay home nights, where I am out of danger, and read the stock market reports."

Miss Hilda Card, 468 W. 58th st.: "Go to theatres and dances about every chance I get. We're only young once!"

H. J. Cardozo, 25 Broadway: "I am tired nights and stay home and read detective stories. Find that they take my mind off business better than any thing else."

Armand Barr, Jr., 425 Seventh av.: "When not at home smoking and chatting with my wife, we go for an auto ride. We never go to the theatre except on Sundays."

CHAMBER MAY HAVE A REFERENDUM

According to information given out at the chamber of commerce headquarters today it is probable that the directors of the chamber will order a referendum among the members during the last part of September to see what stand the organization will take upon the new charter issue.

The directors will probably hold a meeting next Monday and among the other subjects taken up the new charter will play a prominent part. It was stated that before any action would be taken in regard to a referendum, there would probably be a number of public meetings at which competent speakers and experts would discuss the merits and defects of the new charter. This is a part of the policy of the chamber which has for its object the hearing of both sides before any decision is arrived at.

No Accident Week
Lowell, together with the other cities of the state, is to have a "No Accident Week" starting Sept. 25. The Massachusetts Safety Council has notified the local chamber of commerce of a "Massachusetts No Accident" week which is to run from September 25 to Oct. 1 inclusive and it has asked the chamber to take charge of the campaign. In Lowell, the chamber officials have signified their willingness to cooperate in every way possible for

It is their opinion that there are altogether too many preventable accidents taking place in this city. The safety campaign is to be run concurrently with the annual conference of the National safety council which will convene in Boston, Lewis 2. MacBryne, a local man, who is general manager of the state safety council, is organizing the movement and it is he who asked the chamber of commerce to take care of the local end of the campaign.

The ways in which the council expects to reduce the number of accidents throughout the state are as follows: Safety instruction in the schools, a campaign of publicity which shall reach the general public, co-operation of the police, posters in stores, garages, filling stations and on trucks, the co-operation of industries, civic organizations and churches.

STUFFED EGGPLANT IS EXCELLENT SUBSTITUTE

By SISTER MARY

Stuffed eggplant is an excellent substitute for meat. During the late summer vegetables are so plentiful that it behooves a cook to use vegetables and more vegetables in her menus. But she must keep in mind her needs for a balanced diet.

Stuffed Eggplant

One large eggplant, 1 cup soft, stale bread crumbs, 1/2 cup cooked corn (optional), 2 tablespoons bacon fat, 1/2 tablespoon minced onion, 3 tablespoons grated cheese, 1 egg, salt and pepper. Put eggplant in boiling salted water and cook until tender, about twenty minutes. Cut slice from the top and remove pulp with a big spoon, being careful not to break the skin. Chop pulp and add bread crumbs. Melt bacon fat and add onion. Cook five minutes. Add to first mixture. Cook this till thoroughly hot and add cheese. Let cool while beating the egg. Beat in egg and fill eggplant with mixture. Cover with coarse crumbs, dot with bits of butter and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven.

Exemplar With Poached Eggs
Two small eggplants, 4 eggs, 1 cup tomato pulp, 3 tablespoons chopped ham, 1/2 cup soft, stale bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, salt and pepper.
Cut eggplants in halves, pare and remove seeds. Cook fifteen minutes in boiling water. Drain well. Melt butter, stir in bread crumbs, tomato pulp, ham and cook, stirring constantly for three or four minutes. Fill eggplants with mixture. Make a little depression in each filling and put in a hot oven for ten minutes. Put a poached egg on top of each half and serve.

Breakfast Eggplant
Pare eggplant and cut in quarter-inch slices. Sprinkle each slice lightly with salt and pile one on top of the other on a plate. Put another plate on top with a weight. Let stand overnight. Dip in flour, season with pepper and fry or "saute" a nice brown in bacon fat. This makes a good Sunday morning breakfast.

X-RAY SHOWS MUMMIES HAD TEETH TROUBLE

Science has made mummies tell us many interesting things. The X-ray machine has made them complain that they, in their time, suffered from rheumatism, gout and other joint affections. They had also what is now our most common disease—dental caries—or, in plain English, rotting of the teeth. But they say it was not nearly so common with them as it is with us. Later, their carers have yielded interesting information regarding longevity of the old Egyptians. Carl Pearson, scientist, has studied the inscriptions on mummy cases as to the time of life when the owner entered upon the state of the embalmed, and, arranging the ages of the mummified mathematically, he discovered that, in the first century A.D., men lived on the average, a much shorter span of years than we of the twentieth century are allotted.

The "expectation of life," as it is called, or the time one may expect to pass on this globe, for the average Egyptian under 60 or 65 years of age, was little more than half as long as that of the average person of that age today. Beyond 60, however, the ancient was likely to live longer than the average person today. But this seemingly impossible state of affairs was due to the fact that only comparatively few especially vigorous specimens survived the earlier years—had been able to run the more severe gauntlet of disease of that day.

A hundred sexagenarians of the year 1 A.D. were of necessity more tenacious of life than a hundred of the year 1921.

SCENT THEM AT SAME TIME

She lingers her fine handkerchiefs with her own hands because she loves to keep them at their daintiest best and she fears someone who isn't quite so fond of them wouldn't be quite so careful. So she has a clever little bag in her room and instead of putting her fine bits of linen in with the remainder of the washing they go into the bag. Once a week she washes them herself. First she puts them in soapy luke warm water and leaves them about an hour and a half, after which they are rinsed in cool water and then put through the washing process. In hot water, in which there is a little borax, she puts them and rubs them very gently. Then she rinses them through many waters to be sure that the soap is all out and they'll have a sweet clean fragrance. Next she introduces a trick which ## she learned from her neighbor while she lived in Paris.

She puts just a little milk into a bowl and scents that with just a little violet water. Then one by one the handkerchiefs are put in and squeezed out. Then they are rolled in a clean dry towel and after standing a few minutes are ironed on a thick pad. The fragrant little heap of beautifully white handkerchiefs which results quite compensates for the effort.

HALIFAX, N. ## Consider Treaty Settlement

Shaping settlement of the political realignment of Europe.

By state department officials, the treaty is considered a full settlement, making possible not only a resumption of diplomatic relations but a large measure of commercial intercourse as well, through re-affirmation of the economic and financial concessions of the peace treaty of Versailles.

There was every indication today that efforts would be made by the administration to secure ratification as soon as possible after congress re-assembles after the recess, so that the long-delayed rapprochement with Germany might become an accomplished fact. Such commercial and supplemental treaties as may be found necessary can then be negotiated through the ordinary diplomatic channels.

With the treaty signed and awaiting senate action, there was a renewal of speculation here regarding a possible peace declaration to carry into effect the declarations of the congressional peace resolution. No official word indicates whether the proclamation might be expected to precede ratification.

Another question which remained unanswered from any authoritative source related to the probable duration of the American occupation of German territory. No direct mention is made in the treaty of the withdrawal of American troops from the Rhine, though there is a re-affirmation of the section of the Versailles treaty which permits the recent enemies of Germany to maintain forces on her border at her expense during the period allowed for payment of reparations.

Text of Treaty

PART ONE:

"The United States of America and Germany:

"Considering that the United States, acting in conjunction with its allies, entered into an armistice with Germany on Nov. 11, 1918, in order that a treaty of peace might be concluded:

"Considering that the Treaty of Versailles was signed on June 28, 1919, and came into force according to the terms of its Article 419, but has not been ratified by the United States:

"Considering that the congress of the United States passed a joint resolution approved by the president July 2, 1921, which reads in part as follows:

"Resolved, by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America, in congress assembled, that the state of war declared to exist between the Imperial German Government and the United States of America by the joint resolution of congress approved April 6, 1917, is hereby declared at an end.

Reservation of Rights

"Section 2. That in making this declaration, and as a part of it, there are expressly reserved to the United States of America and its Nationals any and all rights, privileges, indemnities, reparations or advantages, together with the right to enforce the same, to which it or they have become entitled under the terms of the armistice signed Nov. 11, 1918, or any extensions or modifications thereof, or which were acquired by or are in the possession of the United States of America by reason of its participation in the war or to which its Nationals have thereby become rightfully entitled; or which, under the treaty of Versailles, have been stipulated for its or their benefit; or which it is entitled as one of the principal Allied or Associated Powers; or to which it is entitled by virtue of any act or acts of congress, or otherwise.

Further Terms of Peace Resolution

"Section five. All property of the Imperial German government, or its successor or successors, and of all German Nationals, which was, on April 6, 1917, in or has since that date come into the possession or under control of, or has been the subject of a demand by the United States of America or of any of its officers, agents, or employees, from any source or by any agency whatsoever, and all property of the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian government or its successor or successors and of all Austro-Hungarian Nationals, which was, on Dec. 7, 1917, in or has since that date come into the possession or under control of, or has been the subject of a demand by the United States of America, or any of its officers, agents, or employees, from any source or by any agency whatsoever, shall be retained by the United States of America, and no disposition thereof made, except as shall have been heretofore or specifically hereafter shall be provided by law, until such time as the Imperial German government and the Imperial Royal Austro-Hungarian government, or their successor or successors, shall have respectively made suitable provision for the satisfaction of all claims against said governments, respectively, of all persons, whose property, residence, business, profession, trade, navigation, commerce and industrial property rights, and until the Imperial German government and the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian government, or their successor, or successors, shall have respectively confirmed to the United States of America all fines, forfeitures, penalties and seizures imposed or made by the United States of America during the war, whether in respect to the property of the Imperial German government or German Nationals, or the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian government or Austro-Hungarian Nationals and shall have waived any and all pecuniary claims against the United States of America."

Germany Agrees to Terms

PART TWO

"Being desirous of restoring the spect to certain provisions in the friendly relations existing between the two nations prior to the outbreak of the war;

"Have for that purpose appointed their plenipotentiaries:

"The president of the United States of America, Ellis Loring Dresel, commissioner of the United States of America to Germany, and

"The president of the German empire, Dr. Friedrich Rosen, minister of foreign affairs.

Article One:

"Germany undertakes to accord to the United States, and the United States shall have and enjoy, all the rights, privileges, indemnities, reparations or advantages specified in the aforesaid joint resolution of the congress of the United States of July 2, 1921, including all the rights and advantages stipulated for the benefit of the United States in the Treaty of Versailles, which the United States shall fully enjoy notwithstanding the fact that such treaty has not been ratified by the United States."

Rights Under Versailles Treaty

Article Two:

"With a view to defining more particularly the obligations of Germany under the foregoing articles with reference to certain provisions in the Treaty of Versailles, it is understood and agreed between the high contracting parties:

"(1) That the rights and advantages stipulated in that treaty for the benefit of the United States, which it is intended the United States shall have and enjoy, are those defined in Section one of Part four, and Parts 6, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 14 and 15. The United States, in availing itself of the provisions of that treaty mentioned in this paragraph, will do so in a manner consistent with the rights accorded to Germany under such provisions.

"(2) That the United States shall not be bound by the provisions of Part one of that treaty nor by any provisions of that treaty including those mentioned in paragraph one of this article, which relate to the covenant of the League of Nations, nor shall the United States be bound by any action taken by the League of Nations, or by the council or by the assembly thereof, unless the United States shall expressly give its assent to such action.

Reparations Commission

"(3) That the United States assume no obligations under or with respect to the provisions of Part 2, Part 3, sections 2 to 8 inclusive of Part 4, and Part 13 of that treaty.

"(4)—That, while the United States is privileged to participate in the reparations commission, according to the terms of part eight of that treaty, and in any other commission established under the treaty or under any agreement supplemental thereto, the United States is not bound to participate in any such commission unless it shall elect to do so.

"(5)—That the periods of time to which reference is made in article 410 of the Treaty of Versailles, shall run, with respect to any act or election on the part of the United States, from the date of the coming into force of the present treaty.

Article Three

"The present treaty shall be ratified in accordance with the constitutional forms of the high contracting parties and shall take effect immediately on the exchange of ratifications, which shall take place as soon as possible at Berlin.

"In witness whereof, the respective plenipotentiaries have signed this treaty and have hereunto affixed their seals.

It Was Lowell Day and Parents' Day at Camp Devens Yesterday

HURDLE RACES AT CAMP DEVENS YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

You can't convince the Lowell people who visited Camp Devens yesterday as guests of the officers of the Citizens' Military Training camp on Parents' day that the noted environment has lost any of its old-time effectiveness as a headquarters for the military training of young men of this section.

After seeing the 1200 young soldiers who volunteered to give up the month of August to the government that they might become acquainted with the fundamentals of the soldier's life, the camp visitors felt sure that there is no need for worry as to the preparedness of this country for any future war. When it was realized that the work going on at Camp Devens is but a small part of the system of citizens' camps in operation all over the country, an idea was gained of the magnitude of the preparations which the government is making to establish a trained citizen soldiery.

The Lowell Boys

The Lowell boys at Camp Devens have had one of the most interesting months of their career. Since the first of August they have learned from first-hand experience the life of the soldier and not one of them regrets the time he has given to the government. Indeed, they all feel that broadened chests, tanned bodies and the self-reliance which they have gained have been ample repayment for the time they have given.

The boys from Lowell and surrounding towns who are members of the C. M. T. C. as the camp is popularly known, are scattered all over the three battalions of the regiment. Alphonse J. Achin of 351 Fletcher street heads the

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—The financial failure of at least 48 banks and kindred institutions in the middle west would have resulted had all the operations of Charles W. French and John W. Worthington been carried to a successful conclusion. It was declared today by Assistant United States District Attorney Chinlin. The statement was made after an examination of

There will be no civil service examination for the local postmastership until Aug. 1923. Such was the information given out at the post office today. The policy of the Harding administration is to allow each first class postmaster to serve out his appointed term without examination and at the expiration of the term the office will be thrown open to civil service rules. Postmaster John P. Meehan's present term began in August, 1919, and unless there is some change in the present policy of the administration he will serve out his term without being subject to the requirements of an examination.

There has been much local discussion as to whether there would be an examination for the office of postmaster in the near future and the information received today answers the questions. In the latter part of the Wilson administration an order was issued which stated that all first class postmasterships, even of the largest cities in the country, should be subject to civil service examination. The order stated specifically that after the examination was held the man who received the highest rank should be given the office. When the administration changed and President Harding came into power the ruling was changed somewhat and now provides that the postmaster may be chosen from the three highest men on the examination list. It still states, however, that each postmaster shall be allowed to serve out his term before an examination is held.

EXPONENTS OF HIKING

Congressman Nicholas Longworth, left, and Theodore Roosevelt are often seen taking long hikes together. They take it as a serious part of the day's business. This, to keep in trim for official duties. By the by, they're brothers-in-law, you know.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT MAKES REPORT

The monthly report of the finance department for the month of July made its appearance today with its usual quota of interesting information concerning municipal expenditures. During the month of July the sum of $225 was paid to Kelt's theatre for rental of that house for high school exercises. The water department was paid $111.61 for water furnished to the school department.

Prescott Wright received $10 for ringing bells on the Fourth of July. The Thorndike Coal and Grain Co. received $10.84.31 from the water department during the month. Payments on the new high school during the month totaled $56,113.83 and on the memorial auditorium $39,106.52.

GENERAL GUINNY COUNCIL

A meeting of the General Guinny council, A.A.R.R. was held last night in the guild hall on Sixth street, with a large attendance. President Mullin was in the chair. Two communications from the state headquarters were received and read. Mr. Delehanty presented a report for the field day committee. Much enthusiasm over the Labor day event is being shown by the members of the council. Other business of routine nature was transacted before the meeting adjourned. The next meeting will be held next Thursday night Sept. 1, at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present, as business of great importance will be transacted.

Booze Sellers Pay in Cash

twice before being found guilty of illegal dealings in booze in this city, was fined $100 on a charge of illegal sale. Finkette, it was stated to the court, has already been fined $100 on two occasions for illegal keeping of liquor, and when he made his second appearance in court a jail sentence of two months was ordered in addition to the fine. Today he not only paid $150 for illegally selling, but was assessed $2 more for being present where gaming implements were found. Only the pleas of his counsel, apparently, saved him from another house of correction sentence at the hands of Judge Enright this morning. The defendant's lawyer said that the defendant has now sold out his business, and is not likely to fracture the dry laws in the future. It was also pointed out that the defendant is married and is the father of two children.

Wladislaw Taraszkiewicz, who conducted a variety store on Central street, made, but as the man emerged from the report an individual approached him by the officers, sold a bottle of Jamaica ginger to a police representative. A subsequent search of the establishment, stated Sergeant Winn, revealed additional bottles of "jake" reposing beneath a table.

Joseph Dunne, who was fined $100 for illegal sale, was arrested under unusual circumstances, according to the officers. They testified that a representative of the liquor squad entered a Middlesex street near-beer saloon in an effort to secure a sale. No sale was made, but as the man emerged from the report an individual approached him by the officers, sold a bottle of Jamaica ginger to a police representative. A subsequent search of the establishment, stated Sergeant Winn, revealed additional bottles of "jake" reposing beneath a table.

NO CAMPS BLOWN UP

Difficulties at Montague
Magnified, According to Paper Mill Officials

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 26.—Difficulties in Montague, where one of the mills of the International Paper company is located and where disturbances were reported, were not in evidence today. Sheriff Ferdinand of Penobscot county who was summoned to the vicinity to furnish protection to the property of the company stating that all is quiet. The affair has been magnified in the press accounts according to the management of the mill. There has been no camps blown up but some parties unknown on Tuesday night used dynamite in destroying two waste gates in the dam at Montague, presumably to hinder logging operations. The mill management thereupon requested protection of Sheriff Ferdinand who is now at Howland with a posse. Everything is quiet and no trouble is anticipated.

"GOO-GOOS" SEEK CANDIDATE FOR HUB MAYOR

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—The executive committee of the Good Government association met yesterday and discussed the coming mayoralty election in Boston, but did not decide on a candidate. The only visible result of the meeting was the following statement, given out after the meeting, by George H. McCaffrey, the secretary of the association.

"The Good Government association is greatly interested in the present situation of the mayoralty campaign, but believes it is too early to determine upon a candidate. It believes all the candidates should be given very careful consideration and confidently expects it will be possible, at a later date, for the various elements in the community to agree upon a candidate who will command united support."

The members of the executive committee are: George H. Nutter, Mrs. Robert Homans, Elliot N. Jones, William Minot, William B. Munro, Mrs. Charles I. Quirk and Robert D. Stone. All of the members of the committee, except Prof. Munro, who is in California, were at the meeting.

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents.)

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Some of the most magnificent and costly gowns ever created are displayed in one of the lavishly scenic "Dangerous Toys," the all-star feature playing at the Merrimack Square theatre today with a cast including William Desmond, Margaret Clayton and Frank Geraghty. Miss Clayton plays the role of Mrs. Gray, wife of the secretary of a bank president, with a passion for beautiful clothes. In order to wear gorgeous gowns and at the same time to help her husband financially, she becomes a model in a Fifth Avenue establishment and there meets the bank president. The ensuing developments make a most interesting story. Constance Binney in "The Magic Cup," the International News and a comedy complete the program.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Seats are still going well for the opening performance of the 11th season at the B. F. Keith theatre, which will open next Monday afternoon with a specially selected bill.

There seems more than the usual demand for an opportunity to witness men and women act again, after several months devoted exclusively to the silent stage. The booking managers have made more than an ordinary effort to line up acts which possess novelty and snap in their work, and it is believed that this combination has been landed.

Many persons are daily calling at the box office for a certain performance each week.

MILK CUT TO 12 CENTS A QUART

CHINTON, Aug. 26.—A considerable cut in the price of milk was announced by A. J. Poirier, one of the largest dealers in milk here. On Sept. 1 his new rates will be 12 cents a quart for one or two quarts, 11 cents a quart for three quarts, 10 cents for four quarts and 75 cents for a can. The price of cream is to be reduced to 30 cents a quart. Other dealers have not announced reductions.

STATE FIRE RULES FOR GARAGES DRAFTED

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—An all-day conference was held at the state house yesterday by Fire Marshal George C. Neal and fire chiefs from cities and towns throughout the commonwealth. Marshal Neal has drawn up uniform regulations for public and private garages and the meeting was held for the purpose of making these uniform in their application. Hereafter each community, with the exception of the Metropolitan district, has made its own rules. Several speakers offered suggestions and the tentative report will be read.

During the discussion the custom of parking automobiles "back of the house" or "in the yard or driveway" was condemned by several prominent fire-fighters.

E. L. Tierney of the Fire Prevention Bureau declared that the practice exists of parking machines under piazzas, in gardens and alleys and various other places in close proximity to houses. If this is continued, Mr. Tierney said, it is likely to result in a serious loss of life. He added that Police Commissioner Curtis had ordered a "cleanup," and that as a result about 1000 machines had to be taken

MRS. BUNDY WINS IN SEMI-FINAL ROUND

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—In the semi-final round of the women's singles at the Longwood club today Mrs. May Sutton Bundy of Los Angeles won in straight sets from Miss Edith Sigourney of Boston. The former national champion stroked her along and cleverly as at the height of her game ten years ago. She will meet the former national title holder, Miss Mary K. Browne, tomorrow in the finals.

In the junior singles, semi-final round, Arnold Jones of Providence, R. I., by defeating Morton Bernstein of New York, earned the right to meet Vincent Richards of New York in the finals.

Summaries:

to be involved, but some of the biggest financial men in the country were listed as prospects. The names of hundreds of prospective victims of the machinations of the financial wizards were found in the possession of Alva Harshman, French's secretary, according to the assistant district attorney.

Among the names listed was found that of Coleman Du Pont, United States senator from Delaware, and manufacturer of explosives. Scores of other names prominent in the financial world, were found in this "ledger" of lamb.

Operated in "Piker's Field"

In contrast to the dealings of the alleged swindlers in millions and their plans to wreck scores of banks, a picture was presented yesterday of the activities of the same group in what federal authorities termed the "piker's field" cleaning War Savings stamps.

Cashier Staub, Jr., a dealer in foreign stamps, told Mr. Clinchin that Worthington had tried to sell him some War Savings stamps and, when shown stamps seized in a raid on Worthington's office, declared they were cancelled stamps and had been cleaned by being washed in acid.

The prime object of the alleged conscience group was to dispose of millions of dollars' worth of notes through many small banks in the west and middle west, according to a statement of Owen T. Evans, made public today by Mr. Clinchin. Evans, a former national bank examiner, was arrested with Worthington in connection with mail thefts and has turned government witness.

According to Evans, all the negotiations that he handled were strictly legal and the notes he disposed of had security back of them. He placed loans in many small banks, according to his statement. Worthington, he said, hired him to examine banks that he intended to purchase for an eastern syndicate, that he represented.

LAND FOR PLAYGROUND

City Must Act Quickly if it Wants the Donovan Land in Highlands

Unless the city takes definite action toward acquiring the tract of land on the easterly side of Stevens street, which is to form a part of the proposed new Highlands playgrounds, the owners of the land, Daniel C. and Mary C. Donovan, will proceed next Monday to complete the erection of a dwelling there, according to notification received this morning by Mayor Thompson from their attorney, Thos. G. Robbins. When the city decided to acquire the tract in Stevens, B and Parker streets for the new playgrounds the Donovans had just begun the erection of a dwelling house. Upon instructions from the city solicitor that the city intended to take over the land in question, they caused the contractor who was to build the house to cease operations. That was four weeks ago, according to their attorney's letter. Since then the matter of taking over the land has been hanging fire and the family is anxious to know where its new home is to be located. By causing the erection of the house to be stopped, the Donovan family committed a breach of its contract with the contractor who was to have done the job and as a result the contractor claims payment for $1000. Accordingly, unless some indication of activity tending toward the purchase of the land is shown by the city before next Monday morning, the Donovans will proceed to erect their dwelling, not to increase the value of the land, but simply to provide themselves with a home before the winter comes, according to their attorney's letter. The mayor has referred the matter to City Solicitor William D. Regan. Before the council can take definite action toward acquiring the land it must wait for a report from the park commission on a petition of protest against the purchase of the land. This report has not yet been made. After it is made the council will have to pass an order to borrow $12,000 for the acquisition of the land. If it meets for this purpose before Sept. 1 it will not be able to combine the special election on the gas plant petition with the new charter election and will thereby lose $5000 or $6000. The situation is one that promises many interesting developments.

ANTI TOXIN IS MUCH USED IN LOWELL

The greater use of antitoxin in the treatment of diphtheria cases and gradual realization on the part of parents that medical attention should be given a child as soon as he develops any symptoms of the disease has resulted in a 35 per cent decrease in mortality from that cause in Lowell in the past quarter of a century, according to Agent Francis J. O'Hare of the board of health.

However, there is still plenty of opportunity for improvement, according to Agent O'Hare. Many parents are loath to call a doctor until the disease has reached a stage where it becomes alarming and then the administering of antitoxin is practically useless because of the vast amount of poison which has accumulated in the child's system. In order to be effective, the antitoxin should be injected within 12 hours after the infection occurs.

Many people, especially those in poor circumstances, delay calling a physician until the last minute. Mr. O'Hare says, and then they expect him to perform a miracle. As soon as a child complains of a sore throat, a doctor should be called and nine times out of ten he will be able to effect a speedy recovery. The use of antitoxin in diphtheria cases was begun in 1895. In that year 44 per cent. of the cases of diphtheria reported resulted in deaths. Last year the percentage had decreased to 7.9.

PLAYGROUND TO CLOSE
The local playgrounds will close for the season next Wednesday afternoon and the instructors on each of the playsteads are arranging individual programs to mark the windup of the season. There will be no general program as there has been in years past. In Salem yesterday an elaborate program was given by the playground children as a demonstration of their season's work. Governor Cox was one of the officials in attendance.

Malden Lane, New York, is the center of the jewelry and diamond business.

Next to Best Postmaster in America is Giving Bill Hays Some Tips

HE INSTALLED GRAPHOPHONE MUSIC TO SPEED UP THE NIGHT SHIFT OF MAIL CLERKS
E. A. PURDY

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 25.—Meet the best postmaster in America—E. A. Purdy.

Purdy runs the Minneapolis post-office. He's a democrat—plugged hard for Wilson for president in 1912 and was rewarded with the postmastership in 1914. He has done such a good job of it that not only is Postmaster General Will Hays going to retain him, if possible, but Hays has taken him to Washington to give the department pointers on how postoffices should be run.

"A postoffice ought to be more than a place to buy a postage stamp or call for a letter," said Purdy, the day he took office.

And he started out to make it so.

How He Did It

"Well, for one thing, he put a quietus on a general movement in the direction of still higher rents in Minneapolis. The rent hogs were clamoring for more; their 'wolf cry' was a 'housing shortage'."

P. M. Purdy just had the mail carriers count the empty houses and flats. They did it in two days—and found 1500. The "housing shortage" was a myth. Did rents go up? No. People found it cheaper to move than to pay higher rent.

And that isn't all of it. Purdy figured that a special parcel post service to Lake Minnetonka, the summer resort 15 miles from the city, would pay dividends in cash as well as comfort. Answer: Ten trucks carry all

Established an information bureau in the postoffice.

Organized a postal employees' band. Placed all street mail boxes in an exact line to speed collections.

Shot carriers to the start of their routes in automobiles.

Established the postoffice's own garages, thus saving money.

Invented new machinery to facilitate handling of mail.

Started 20-minute collection service in the afternoon in the business district.

Induced railroads to rearrange schedules, speeding up mail four to six hours.

Invented new machinery to facilitate handling of mail.

Started 20-minute collection service in the afternoon in the business district.

Induced railroads to rearrange schedules, speeding up mail four to six hours.

And that isn't all of it. Purdy figured that a special parcel post service to Lake Minnetonka, the summer resort 15 miles from the city, would pay dividends in cash as well as comfort. Answer: Ten trucks carry all kind of supplies from the city to the resort. Returning, they bring produce from the country to city consumers. More than that, just to overlook no opportunity for service, Purdy instructed the parcel post men to weigh babies for any mothers at whose homes they stopped. So all the babies along the routes can be weighed regularly and their mothers can know definitely whether they are gaining or losing.

Purdy's latest innovation was to install phonograph music for the night force. "They'll not only work faster, but they'll be happier," he said. "From midnight to morning are dismal hours; music will cheer the boys up a bit."

It did—and the work has speeded up 20 per cent.

WOMEN ARE GRATIFIED

Much Pleased Over Achievements of First Year of National Enfranchisement

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Representative women leaders in political organizations here expressed gratification yesterday over the achievements of women of the United States during the first year of their national enfranchisement. The 15th amendment to the constitution was officially proclaimed Aug. 26, 1920.

All agreed that during the year women voters everywhere had begun slowly but surely to find their place in the political councils and organizations of the parties. An awkward political consciousness among both men and women and a new dignity in political affairs generally were among the things accomplished by women in that short time, they said.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt of the National League of Women Voters and the National American Woman Suffrage association said that women have begun to find their place in the management of the affairs of the two dominant political parties of the country.

"While our progress in that direction has not been complete," she said, "we believe that we have accomplished much in that direction. Many women have been somewhat discouraged by the treatment they have received from the professional men politicians in their localities. While women have not been granted political equality and opportunity to take their proper place in the political life of their communities in about half the states, they have been received with sympathy and understanding and accorded full equality in the political organizations in the rest. The women who are more experienced in political matters, especially those who are engaged in suffrage work before national enfranchisement, find nothing discouraging in the situation."

Helena Varick Russell, vice president of the republican county committee of New York, said that the rapidity and ease with which women have become absorbed in the political side of life since the passage of the 15th amendment had caused amazement among the men and satisfaction among the women. In New York state the women became organized into the parties within a few weeks of the actual granting of suffrage.

"The terrific to the country and to women has been great. We feel an assurance, a power, a security in being a real citizen, with all the functions of helping to create and to maintain better government as our equipment in the political field."

Mrs. Lillian B. Fisk, president of the Women's Temperance Political League, said that the biggest achievement of the year has been the educating of women and men to a new political consciousness.

"The work of introducing woman's ideas into our political affairs is necessarily slow," she said, "but we are making progress every day and a higher standard of conduct in politics and public affairs is being set up."

"We have learned that most of the political leaders are not sincere with us. They will have to learn to take women into their confidence and consult with them more on political problems of every nature in order to get their point of view which is of value."

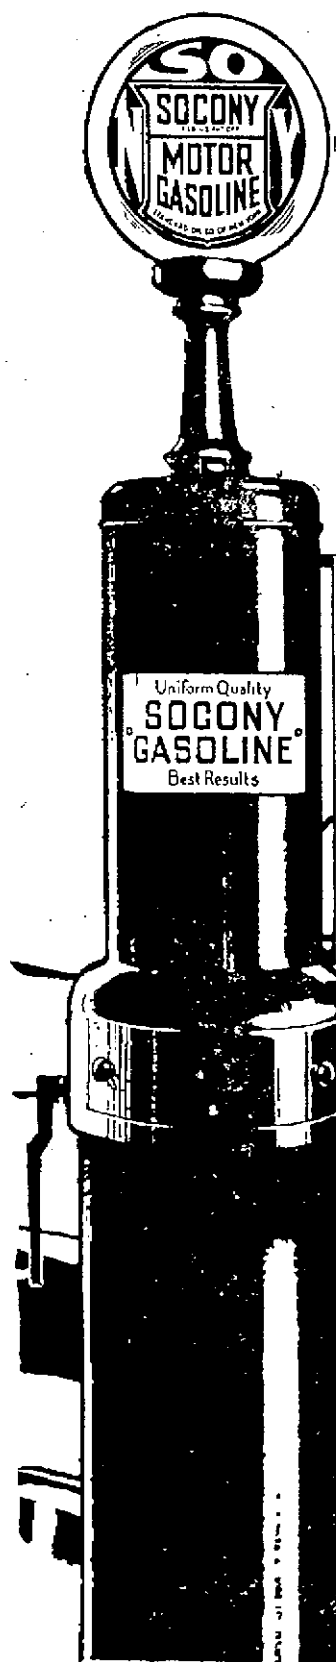

"We have not found them to be grateful either. We are given too-to-house canvasses, for which we are well fitted, and other political drudgery to do but so far there has been no sharing of other political responsibilities. After we have been of service and benefit to them they try to avoid

Mary Garrett Hay, chairman of the New York City League of Women Voters, said that it was generally conceded that the presence of women at the polls has brought order and dignity.

"Women have started a movement for better candidates," said said. "The public is hardly aware of this as yet, but women are throughout the country holding meetings, getting records, distributing questionnaires and preaching the need for more ability and more honesty in public office."

TO REMOVE SKIN BLEMISHES

Use Black and White Beauty Bleach

Skin blemishes, such as tan, sun and wind freckles, liver spots, dark, yellow, mottled blotches mar the complexion to the extent that one is apt to try a way of removing them that may result disastrously.

A safe, sure way to remove your skin blemishes is by the use of Black and White Beauty Bleach and Black and White Soap.

Black and White Beauty Bleach softens the skin, makes it clear, white and beautiful, and removes any embarrassing skin blemishes.

Black and White Beauty Bleach is a delightfully perfumed preparation and when applied it forms an invisible coating on the skin.

Clip and mail this to Black and White, Box 1567, Memphis, Tenn., for free literature and samples of Black and White Face Powder, and Incense of Flowers Talcum.

"Now I Can Walk," Says Mrs. Southcott of Medina

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson, of Buffalo. "One that I would rather have than a thousand dollars."

"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big hearted, rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to free a remedy with such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment. To sell at all drug stores for 35 cents a large box."

Read this letter, written Feb. 11, 1921, by Mrs. Albert Southcott, of Medina, N. Y. It seems like a miracle, but it is true, every word of it.

"I say it because I've written letters almost every day from people who have used my ointment for old sores, eczema and piles."

Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sirs—

I was an untold sufferer from an old running sore and piles. I had tried most everything without any relief from any. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just nine dollars worth of the salve I am cured. The ulcer was 9 inches by 6 inches, is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's again.

You may use this to recommend your ointment if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it. Yours truly, Mrs. Albert Southcott, Medina, N. Y. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

day yesterday was carried out with true military precision and promptness. The morning was given over to inspection and the bulk of visitors did not begin to arrive until after the noon hour. By 2 o'clock the grandstand on one side of the great parade field near the foreground of the cantonment was filled to capacity. Down the long sweep of the field ran an up-broken line of automobiles, often two and three deep. It was the biggest crowd at the cantonment since the day the Yankee division had its review.

There were officers and soldiers everywhere ready to assist the visitors and seldom has a more courteous and painstaking corps of military men been assembled in one camp. The officers seemed to take a just pride in the work of the young soldiers who have been under their care for the past month and they wanted parents and friends to view the results of their

Cavalry Demonstration

The afternoon's program opened with a cavalry demonstration by Troop C of the Third U. S. Cavalry. All the pranks and stunts known to the trained horsemen were demonstrated, ending in a terrific climax when the troop dashed down the field with sabres flashing in the sun and shouting the warwhoop that is supposed to strike terror in the hearts of the enemy. The cavalry were roundly applauded at the conclusion of their demonstration.

However, that was a regular army feature. The visitors were most interested in the work of their own sons and brothers, the students. Promptly at 2 o'clock the long file of khaki-clad soldiers marched on the parade ground and immediately gave an excellent exhibition of the calisthenic program which they have practised since the beginning of the month. They went through the evolutions in a snappy, enthusiastic manner and it was a pretty picture they formed for the hundreds who watched them.

An Impressive Feature

Another impressive feature was the escort to the colors given by the third battalion, in which there are a number of Lowell boys. With the 13th and 36th Infantry bands furnishing music, the members of the battalion marched about the grounds, escorting the national and state flags. Immediately following this number came the general review by the officers in command at the camp. The young soldiers marched past the mounted officers in double lines of squads and saluted snappily. Not a soldier was out of step and each one carried himself with all the poise of a veteran. Following this ceremony the next hour was given over to a series of track events just beyond the drill field and a Lowell man succeeded in landing a place in one event. Private Tsanetkos of Co. M was awarded third place in the broad jump.

Those who were not interested in the athletic events listened to a concert by the 13th Infantry band. Emil Padhora, leader. This band has a Lowell regular army man in its roster. Real Parent of 2 Dracut street, who plays the bass horn.

Informal Visits

The latter part of the afternoon was given over to informal visits between the young soldiers and their relatives and to an exhibition of motion pictures of the soldiers taken when they arrived at camp early in August. This was given in the Liberty theatre. Following the evening meal, the visitors were entertained with a concert by the Skirmishers' band of Boston. Although the young soldiers who are present at Camp Devens during the present month are kept busy every minute of the day, still there are not enough of them to give the cantonment the bustling appearance it had several years ago. Building after building is closed and unused. All of them, except the officers' quarters and special administration buildings, which were painted during the war, present a weather-beaten, desolate appearance.

The Citizens' Military Training camp will close next Wednesday, Aug. 31. At that time the 1200 soldiers who have been training there for the past four weeks will be given their discharge and will automatically become a part of a reserve on which Uncle Sam will rear his structure of constant military preparedness.

APPLES BRING A
SEASONABLE PRICE

Owing to the scarcity of apples, it is predicted that this delicious fruit will sell for between 15 and 19 a barrel in this city. If not higher, next fall. The scarcity of apples is due to the heavy frosts, which damaged the crop to a great extent in the early part of the season. Apples which are now on the market are selling very high and it is said that in some instances about 100 per cent higher than last year.

DEDHAM WOMAN WRITES TO CHAMBER

A Dedham woman has written to the local chamber of commerce asking the officials of the chamber to locate an elderly gentleman residing in this city. According to information in the letter sent by the Dedham woman she took a photograph of the gentleman together with her little girl. Since that time she has lost his name and address and since she wishes to give him a copy of the picture she wishes very much to find his whereabouts.

The letter is as follows:

"Gentlemen: On August 1, Harding Day, at Plymouth an old gentleman asked me to take a picture of him, which I did cheerfully. Then he insisted on paying me when he gave me the address to which to send it. And now I have lost name and address—remembering only 'Lowell.' Won't you help me find him? He was so very proud that he was going to have it.

I enclose the picture. I should like to insert an advertisement if you cannot find him as follows: 'Will the elderly gentleman of whom I took a snapshot together with my little girl on Harding Day in Court street, Plymouth, please give me his address once more? I know he would appreciate your help very much. I am holding the film for him.

Yours very eager to find him,
ELNA J. MAXWELL."

Information on the envelope containing the letter would seem to indicate that the sender's name in full was Mrs. E. Rollins Maxwell, Jr.

Federal Troops off for Mingo

A deputy in the office of Sheriff Don Chafin at Logan this morning told the Charleston Daily Mail over the telephone that there had been no fight between Logan county deputies and a body of armed men at Blair, as reported from Madison last night. Sheriff Chafin was not in his office, the deputy said, but he had ordered that no information be given out except that there had been no fighting.

To Halt March of Miners
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 26.—Frank Keeney, district president of the United Mine Workers, and Secretary Fred Mooney left here in a motor car today for the camp of the marching miners in Boone county with the announced intention of advising the army to abandon its march to Mingo county without delay.

Mr. Keeney, who reached Charleston early today and got into communication with Gov. Morgan, the governor, it is stated, laid the situation growing out of the march of miners before Gen. Handholtz. Later Gen. Handholtz communicated with President Keeney and Secretary Mooney and asked that they, with Harold Houston, attorney for the United Mine Workers, meet him at the capital.

Arrest Investigation
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Positive assertion that no federal troops will be sent into West Virginia coal fields until Gen. Handholtz has completed a thorough survey of conditions there and reported to Washington, was made today at the war department.

Troop movements in the middle-west were officially stated, were only of routine consequence.

Department officials said the only orders they had issued with relation to the West Virginia situation were those sent yesterday to Maj. Gen. Read, at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, directing that troops be held in readiness.

Molla's Husband Her Greatest Admirer

MRS. MOLLA BJURSTEDT MALLORY

BY BOB DORMAN
NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory's husband is a good sport.
He isn't jealous because his wife, queen of America's tennis courts, usurps all the family limelight.
Instead he's the proudest man in New York.
He's so proud of Molla that she has to suppress his enthusiasm sometimes.
Following her sweeping victory over Mary K. Browne at Forest Hills, which again crowned her as the national champion, he was the first to rush across the courts to grasp her hand and congratulate her.
Mr. Mallory is just as anxious as his wife that she should meet Suzanne Lenglen again.
Disappointed
"I was more disappointed than Molla, herself, if that was possible, when Suzanne defaulted," he says.
During the matches at Forest Hills

he sat in a box and led the cheering for his wife.
Mr. Mallory is a broker in New York, but sidetracks business when his wife is in action on the courts.
There is just one flaw in Molla's whirlwind of victories, according to the Mallorys.
It was the empty triumph over Suzanne.
Enthusiased
When asked if she wished to meet Suzanne again, Molla's eyes lit up like storm clouds as she flashed her reply: "No!"
And when asked if she thought she would beat the French marvel?
"Of course I will!"
If Suzanne accomplishes her ambition to annex this world tennis title, she'll have to conquer both the Mallorys—Molla with the power of a storm, and Molla with the power of a storm. Molla's husband, and the husband who'll be leading his wife support 100 per cent to his wife in her greatest contest.

HITTING IS WINNING
PENNA. FOR CHICKS

TOMMY McMILLAN—MAIN COG IN SOUTHERN LEAGUE LEADERS' MACHINE.

By Newspaper Enterprise
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 26.—The old saying that "hitting wins ball games" is true as far as the league-leading Memphis Chicks are concerned.
Spencer Abbott's team has led the Southern league since the second day of the 1921 schedule.
Memphis didn't take the lead the first day of the season because it rained, but they won the next day.
The Chicks boast of a "Murderers' Row" the same as the New York Yankees. Seven players are slugging over .300.

The pitching is nothing to brag over. They sling a good game now and then. The opposing team usually gets enough hits to win an ordinary ball game, but the timely bats of the Chicks work overtime and bang in enough runs to get the fat end on the scoreboard.
Upon the tiny shoulders of Tommy McMillan, diminutive shortstop, lies much of the credit for the great showing of the Chicks on the defense.
McMillan steadies the team, fields sensationally and hits timely.
The team swings around him as a pivot, much as the old Chicago Cubs did about the midget anatomy of Johnny Evers in his playing days.
McMillan is Abbott's right-hand man. He runs the team when the skipper is away scouting.
Aggressive
Abbott is an aggressive leader.
If a player doesn't fight to the last ditch to win every game he won't last long on the payroll.
The iron bar is put up against rosydom.

TWO GOOD LOCAL BALL GAMES FOR TOMORROW

Two great ball games are on the program for local fans tomorrow afternoon.
Out at Spaulding park the Lowell council, K. of C. team, which has set up a remarkable record on the diamond this season and is now in the top of the state championship, will meet one of the contenders for the title in the James Hayes team of Boston.
The Hayes council team played the locals early this season and lost a fast and bitterly fought game by the score of 1 to 0. The locals did not send across the big run until the final inning. Since that game the Hayes council has played several wonderful games with the Council of Lions, the Salem town team, and a number of other high class aggregations. They are looking forward to tomorrow's fight of creating up the score.
The Hayes council, however, are out to eliminate the Hayes club, and will put forth their strongest lineup in an endeavor to make it two in a row. Jimmy Davidson will pitch for the locals, while Hart will be in the box for the visitors. The game will start at 3:15 o'clock and Hub Keeler will umpire.

Up on the Textile campus, the Broadways and the C.M.A.C. teams, members of the Twilight league, will clash in the second game of their series of three battles, and this, too, promises to be a contest going a long way to see.
The C.M.A.C. team won the opening battle last Saturday, but victory came after a desperate struggle. The Pawtucket street outfit scored 10 runs in the opening inning and believed they had the game clinched. Many other on hand were of the same opinion. But once Bob Gantley's batting crew got busy, the picture began to change. After a flurry of hits the broadways came within one run of their opponents, the final score standing 12 to 11. It was a great old come back and the Broadways aver that they will start in where they left off when the umpire shouts "play" tomorrow afternoon.

HARRY HEILMANN IS BAD BALL HITTER

Harry Heilmann, leading batter of the American league, is a bad-ball hitter.
He goes after them on the inside, but he nails enough of them to make him the best hitter in either league for league circuit by several points above .400.
It is estimated Heilmann could have drawn at least 50 bases on balls if he were to go on to step into a ball and drive it out.
But Heilmann doesn't wait 'em out. He banks away at them. He has found that the best way to make a batter is to hit him. Most bad balls are crickets—easy to hit.
Question: Are many batters making a mistake by being too critical in looking balls over as they float past Heilmann's record shows they are.
MOLLA
Molla Bjurstedt Mallory wields the strongest racket of any woman in the world.
In one week she played her way through the national women's singles with a power that it was impossible to stop.
She broke Suzanne Lenglen's heart in a single set—like a whirlwind crushing a helpless butterfly. And she called on all her reserve power to defeat Mary K. Browne in the deciding match, that made her America's queen of the courts.
Molla has held the national title six times.
BILL
Bill Tilden will have the battle of his life to hold his national tennis honors the second week of September, against William Johnston.
These two boys have played against each other in high school, college, and have watched each other many, many times.
Each knows the other's strongest points, also the weak spots.
Tilden has gone state tennis champion, and Johnston is showing a rare streak of brilliance.
The Californian is an even money bet to pull the great Tilden off his throne just as Molla Mallory crushed the sick Suzanne Lenglen.

ABBOTT TO BE AT HELM OF MAJOR CLUB

SPENCER ABBOTT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 26.—Here is Spencer Abbott, Memphis manager, who is almost certain to be at the helm of a major league club in 1922.
Abbott has already received offers from a few clubs in the "big show," but he is waiting till the end of the present season before taking any action.
Spencer came near being the St. Louis Browns manager this season. The field narrowed down to him and Leo Kohl, and the latter was chosen. Abbott threw down offers from the Philadelphia Nationals and the Seattle club in the Pacific Coast league.
"I don't want a big league job just to have one," says Abbott.
"When I do go I will be with a club that I think I can make a winner out of."

BRIEF TRAINING PERIOD FOR DAVIS CUP TEAM

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—The preparation period of the American Davis Cup team will be brief.
The players will not get together for regulated practice and training until three days before the challenge match begins. This will be time enough, they think, because all are now playing in the national doubles championship tournament here.
The American team is to meet the challengers—either Japan or Australia, dependent upon the outcome of the play now in progress at Newport—at the end of the week.
Friday, R. Norris Williams, 2nd, said today that he and his doubles partner, W. M. Washburn, would go to Forest Hills as early as possible next week to begin their training.
Tilden remarked that he had not given much thought to the question of training for the forthcoming challenge matches. He said he tried to keep in condition constantly, that each day his mind was a day to keep fit, that he would be in the best possible condition during the present title tournament and that when the time came to settle into Davis Cup training, he would take whatever steps were necessary.

AL DIAMOND BOXES AT BIG N. J. BENEFIT

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—A boxing show, the receipts of which will be donated to the Ann May Memorial hospital of Spring Lake, N. J., will be held at the Casino Club of Spring Lake tonight.
The water level will be about two feet below the level of the ring. Boxes who are knocked through the ropes, therefore, will receive a ducking, which should be welcome and refreshing after a round or two of warm work in the ring.
Harry Ertle, referee, and Joe Humphries, announcer, at the Jack Dempsey-George Carpentier fight, will serve in their respective capacities at this show. Five contests, two for eight rounds and three for six, will be on the program. In the eight rounds, Bobby Bolan will meet Young Dundee and Murray Schwartz will box Al Diamond. The four round rounds will bring together Duck Walter and Johnny Jones, Artie Edwards, and Tommy Marks, Joe Cole and Edna Knapp has charge of the affair.

Downey Credits Scar for Great Kayo Sock

BRYAN DOWNEY—HIS SMILE AND HIS NOSE-SCAR

By DEAN SNYDER
CLEVELAND, Aug. 26.—Bryan Downey is proud of the deeply stenciled scar across the bridge of his nose. He believes it was this wound that gave him his chance to knock Johnny Wilson as colossus in the "big show," but he is waiting till the end of the present season before taking any action.
Spencer came near being the St. Louis Browns manager this season. The field narrowed down to him and Leo Kohl, and the latter was chosen. Abbott threw down offers from the Philadelphia Nationals and the Seattle club in the Pacific Coast league.
"I don't want a big league job just to have one," says Abbott.

GREYWORTHY WINS FEATURE RACE

PODGHEEFTS, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Greyworthy, owned by Sanford Small of Boston and driven by Walter Cox, was returned the winner yesterday of the $3000 stakes for 2:15 trotters, the feature of the Grand Circuit program at Hudson River Driving park. It was a duel between the gray gelding and Jeanette Rankin, the leading money winner of the season, and Greyworthy was compelled to trot in 2:03, the fastest trotting heat of the week, to win the final heat from the mare. The race was a thriller, and another upset came in the 2:05 trot, in which the Maltese mare, Milla Irwin, was beaten by the 4-year-old filly, Sister Bertha, in two of the finishes yearling standers in no uncertain manner with the decision of the judges.
Greyworthy got away absolutely last in the first heat of the 2:12 trot, but he looked like a great deal better when he came out of the back stretch. The field was bunched around the upper turn when Cox cut the mare loose, and he took the overland journey, moving in the field down one by one until at the seven-eighths he had only Jeanette Rankin to beat. The finish was a thriller, and Greyworthy won in the 2:03, the fastest trotting heat of the week, to win the final heat from the mare. The race was a thriller, and another upset came in the 2:05 trot, in which the Maltese mare, Milla Irwin, was beaten by the 4-year-old filly, Sister Bertha, in two of the finishes yearling standers in no uncertain manner with the decision of the judges.

JENNINGS PLEASED AT IRISH MEUSEL'S HITTING

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The return to hitting form of Emil "Irish" Meusel, whose heavy hitting slumped to a 250 clip, following his transfer from the Philadelphia to the Giants, has given manager McGraw something to chuckle about.
When Meusel found himself at the beginning of the present series with Pittsburgh, McGraw's right hand man, as he calls Jennings, offered an explanation.
"They didn't know what was the matter with him when he stopped hitting, but I did. I told 'em to wait and see. That slump was just natural. You'll always find that when a player comes from a tall-end club where he had the run of his own sweet will, he finds himself out of sorts taking orders from the management of a club up in the race."
"Meusel had to get acclimated. Look at that hit going to the fence. I guess he'll go along all right now."

WORCESTER MILL TEAM

Crompton & Knowles Club to Play Mass. Mills Team on South Common

The Massachusetts Cotton Mills baseball team, champions of the championship of the Lowell Textile League, and the Crompton & Knowles aggregation of Worcester will cross bats on the South common tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the game promises to be a very interesting one. The two teams recently played a game in Worcester and at that time the Lowell boys were defeated, but tomorrow they expect to put it all over their opponents.

The visitors are expected in this city at about 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon. Upon their arrival they will be taken to the clubrooms of the mill, where they will be entertained at luncheon. Later a varied entertainment program will be given by some of the best talent of the mill and at 2.30 o'clock all will journey to the South common for the game. Word has been received in this city to the effect that some of the officials of the Crompton & Knowles Co., as well as a large number of fans, will accompany the Worcester players to this city, and everything possible will be done by the Lowell players to make their guests feel at home during their brief stay in this city.

According to Manager Greenhalgh the local team will be strengthened for the game. Peterson will pitch while Riley will be behind the bat. The entire membership of the Massachusetts Athletic club will be on hand to witness the game. The committee in charge of the reception is composed of John Chaswick, president; John Hurst, vice president; Eddie Hart, treasurer; John Kearney, secretary; Robert Roxtun, George Sills, Joseph Noel and James Higgins. The luncheon will be in charge of Miss Ann Taylor, Miss Nora Cryan, Mrs. White and other girls connected with the women's club.

GOLD CUP BOAT RACES

Withdrawal of Miss America

It Causes Disappointment
at Detroit

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26.—Withdrawal of Miss America, trophy defender, from competition in the Gold Cup races, which begin in the Detroit river tomorrow, was announced by her owner today. It has been decided, Wood said, to depend upon Miss America to defend the gold cup and to save the new craft for the British International (Harmsworth) trophy races, Sept. 3-4.

To participate in this event, however, she will be obliged to enter the elimination trials Sept. 1 and 2.

Wood's announcement caused considerable disappointment among powerboat enthusiasts here for the regatta. They had expected to see the new craft, which Wood predicts will make 30 miles an hour, in action tomorrow. Her owner promises to let her out to the limit during the Harmsworth contest. He also indicated that he expected Miss America to break the world's record in the first heat of the Gold Cup event tomorrow.

Veiger, Boy IV, of Portland, Ore., has been withdrawn because of an attack, and Disurber IV, of Chicago, was not completed in time.

CYCLE TEAM SKEES RACES

The Camp Boulder Cycle team challenges any 14 or 15 year old cycle team in the city. Please answer through this paper, stating riders and name of team. The Camp Boulder includes: E. Pearl, capt.; E. McCarthy; F. Farrell, and A. Hennessey, with A. Lovett as alternate.

GAME TOMORROW

The North End will play the Hunting A.A. Saturday afternoon at the Shedd park at 2 o'clock. The following players are asked to report at one o'clock on the North common: M. Bernier, E. Bernier, S. Provillo, A. Leduc, C. Laurent, Ed. Baker, J. Boisvert, R. Asselin, E. Roy and will play the Maple Sunday at 2.30 sharp. The batline will be W. Bernier and Provillo for Saturday.

Cicero, the Latin orator, is said to have been the first authentic autograph collector.

Eski-Shehr Being Swept by Fire

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Eski-Shehr, the city in Asia Minor recently captured by the Greeks in their offensive against the Turkish nationalists, is being swept by fire, says an Athens despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. The flames have been raging several days and have destroyed the greater part of the town, it is said.

BROADWAYS WIN FROM UNDERTAKERS HAVE A JOYOUS BANQUET

The baseball team representing the International Paper Co. of Nashua tell a victim to the Broadways on the South common last evening, 7 to 4, with a large crowd on hand to witness the set.

The game was well fought until the fourth inning. Sturtevant was on the mound for the winners and had easy sailing practically the entire distance. Narkis pitched for the visiting team and kept the local club doing until the fourth stanza. Four runs in that inning and three in the fifth were enough to give the Broadways the game.

Nashua fielders relaxed a bit toward the close of the game, which went only five and a half innings, and frequent errors contributed to the Lowell victory. Connie Desmond, who was behind the bat for the locals, sustained a split thumb early in the game and Buck Freeman came in from second base to finish the game. The lineup:

TRACK MEET CLOSES PLAYGROUND SEASON

The track meet marked the close of the twilight playground at Middlesex Village last evening. A long list of juvenile sports was run off and the youngsters of the playground were furnished with ice cream, cake, candy and tongs.

This playground has had a very successful season with large crowds in attendance every evening. The playground has been under the direction of Supt. Kernan of the park department and Miss Alice Sullivan, director of the Girls' City club. The supervisors who have devoted time to the playground are as follows: Miss Laura Edmunds, Miss Della Carty, Miss Catherine Carty, Miss Alice O'Brien and Miss Mary Healey. The playground was started by an impetus given the project by Mr. and Mrs. William T. Pearsall.

BAN ON SWIMMING BY HEALTH BOARD

Swimming in the Merrimack river between the Aiken and Moody street bridges will no longer be allowed, according to orders issued by the board of health today. As a result of information received by the health department it has been found that there is danger of typhoid contagion in the water between the two bridges as well as between the Central and Aiken streets bridges. Accordingly, the prohibited area has been extended so that from now on it will be a violation of the department's orders to bathe in the Merrimack from the Central to the Moody street bridge.

WANTS WOMAN NAMED

Congresswoman Urges Selection of Mother of Sen. Hale as Member of Delegation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Selection of Mrs. Mary Chandler Hale, mother of Senator Hale, as a member of the American disarmament conference delegation has been recommended by Representative Alice M. Robertson of Oklahoma, who announced yesterday that ten days ago while at the White House she had urged President Harding to appoint Mrs. Hale.

Since then, she said, the president had written her as follows:

"I must compliment you on your extreme good sense and your wisdom. Mrs. Hale is a very York and Chester J. O'Brien of Boston, remarkable and highly typical representative of American womanhood."

Miss Robertson, however, said she did not think any woman would be appointed. Such action, she added, might be considered a seeming act of international discourtesy to delegates from countries less progressive than the United States.

GIVES SUCCESSFUL ICE CREAM PARTY

Very successful was the ice cream party conducted last evening at the C.M.A.C. hall. The affair was given by Miss Elizabeth Lachapelle for the benefit of the coming festival in aid of St. Joan of Arc church in Pawtucketville. The attendance was large and the receipts of the evening were very substantial. In the course of the evening concert, numbers were given by an orchestra and vocal and instrumental selections were rendered by Albin Ducharme, Paul Gagnon, Albert Lachapelle, Miss Yvonne Falardeau, George Labranche and others. The drawing contest held in connection with the party was brought to a close, the winner being Miss Marie Laplante.

THE DIRIGIBLE DISASTER

Our experience, like that of England, with the dirigible ship is not encouraging. Apparently the German Zeppelins, although condemned by some experts as slow and otherwise objectionable, has not yet been surpassed so far as safety and practical performance are concerned.

The disaster that overtook the R-38 in a trial trip over Hull at the mouth of the Humber near the coast of the North sea, is most unfortunate, in view of the death of so many officials and inventors.

It will cause serious misgivings as to the practical worth of the dirigible and particularly of this type intended to revolutionize aeronautics by carrying passengers or other heavy freight with safety across the Atlantic. The R-38 which crossed and recrossed the Atlantic and yet broke up in a gale soon afterward, was supposed to be as perfect as could be constructed under the attained stage of advancement in aviation. But the wreck of the R-38 will cause a loss of confidence in the dirigible as constructed in England. As a result the United States will probably decide to bid its time and build its own dirigibles, if such crafts are essential to our welfare either in peace or in war.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

The city of Chicago is preparing to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the great fire of Oct. 9, 1871. That was the greatest conflagration in the history of this country with the exception of the San Francisco fire and earthquake in 1906. The total loss was $150,000,000; over 1,450 buildings were destroyed, and 70,000 people were made homeless.

The fire was caused by Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicking over an oil lamp and setting fire to the barn. Many other great conflagrations had an equally simple origin. Sometimes a lighted cigarette thrown carelessly away or a match in the hands of a little child, will start a blaze that brings disaster to thousands of people.

The Chicago fire was not entirely without cause before the fire. The disaster of the kind stirs the people to adopt greater precautions against such dangers in the future. The first effect was to cause cities and towns to organize regular fire departments equipped for stamping out fires in the incipient state. At the time of the Chicago fire Lowell had a very primitive equipment for protection against fire. It was only nine years before the Chicago fire that the first water works plant with water mains and fire hydrants had been installed at Lockport, N. Y. Attention was also given to the installation of fire escapes, fire protection, fireproof construction and laws enforcing safeguards against fire.

A COMMENDABLE ACT

The Trades and Labor Council is to be highly commended for the good judgment and the charitable spirit shown in its decision to turn back to the city the $1200 annually appropriated for the observance of Labor day with the recommendation that the money be expended to help the poor of the city in outdoor relief.

The members of the Trades and Labor Council know perhaps better than most other people in the city, how widespread is the distress resulting from unemployment at the present time. The council has given a demonstration of the right spirit in dealing with the needs of the poor now so very pressing. This is not a time when money can be wasted in public display or pompous and hollow celebrations. Neither should money be spent unnecessarily on special elections where such expenditures can be avoided. For our part, we do not see what objection can be raised to having the new character and the gas questions passed upon on the same day. It is very seldom that any election has but two issues to be decided by the voters. Usually there is half a dozen or more. Moreover, the city charter and gas issues cannot be confounded in any way. They are so separate and distinct that we cannot see how any voter cannot pass upon both at the same time quite as well as if a special election were held for each.

In view of the demands upon the city, it is well to save $5,000 if this can be done by uniting these referenda on the same ballot. That $5,000, if so saved, can be used for a better purpose if spent for the benefit of the

THE TAX RATE

Some weeks ago it was announced from city hall that the tax rate would probably be about $30, but the assessors have fixed the figure at $31.40, which is $4.20 over the rate of last year. The rate last year would have been about $27 but for the increase in the valuation of property which was generally boosted from 15 to 25 per cent. That increase had the result of keeping the tax rate below what it otherwise would have been. The higher rate this year is due to the increase of $116,191 in the appropriations, together with a very material increase in the state, county and other charges.

This is the highest rate in the history of the city. The tax rate has been rising gradually for the past ten years as shown by the following figures: In 1911 the rate was $18.50, and the rates for the subsequent years in consecutive order were $19, $19.40, $21.30, $20.50, $21.50, $23.40, $23.50, $27.50. The valuation this year is $25,010,198, that of last year $23,503,527. The latter figures show a general increase of 15.4 per cent. on all the property of Lowell, although the increase as made by the assessors in some cases was as high as 25 per cent.

The city of Lawrence had a tax rate of over $31 last year; but this year it has been reduced to $28 (though an increase in the assessed value of property over that of last year).

WOMEN FOR DISARMAMENT

Whether or not the women of the world succeed in getting representation on the Washington disarmament conference delegations they are going to have a chance to express their desire for world peace in a way that cannot but be effective.

The National Women's Trade Union League of America has initiated a world-wide demonstration by women for disarmament, to be held on Armistice day, the day that the Washington conference opens. It is expected that millions of women in every country in the world will participate in the demonstration, the details of which are yet to be worked out.

The purpose as expressed by Mrs. Raymond Robbins, the president of the league is "to strengthen the government in their desire to disarm by giving unequivocal expression of the women of the world."

DOLLAR DAY

It is well known that business has been dull during the past few months, although the Lowell merchants have endeavored to put on the best front possible. They have expended large amounts in advertising in order to encourage buyers and to reduce their stock. To some extent they have been successful; but they have made great sacrifices for results that in prosperous times would be considered trifling. They are now determined to make a still greater effort in providing on "Dollar Day," tomorrow, bargains that must impress the people as reaching the limit in cut prices.

TO ABOLISH THE LORDS

Ever since the days of Gladstone there has been a growing sentiment in England in favor of reforming the house of lords so as to make it an elective instead of a hereditary body. A bill for this purpose was introduced last year that the upper house will be known as the "second chamber," that it will be an elective body and only half its members will be peers if the present bill passes. The peers will be elected by their fellow peers and the chamber will have much less power than the present body. The house of lords lost part of its powers some dozen years ago when an act was passed by which the commons could overrule the veto power of the upper house by passing the bill in three successive years. The bill is said to be so generally approved that the lords will hardly dare oppose it. This will overcome a great extent the influence of the aristocracy in politics and legislation.

PRICE OF GAS

A New York gas company has been turned down by the public service commission on its request to raise rates from $1.15 to $1.50 per thousand and to increase its minimum charge from 40 cents to $1 per thousand. The investigation conducted by the commission showed that the existing rates yielded 7 1/2 per cent net profit on the investment in 1920 and that the profit this year will be greater. The New York public seems to have found a way to protect itself against public utility gouging.

There is a lesson in this for the Lowell Gas company, which is showing a spirit of defiance in maintaining the high price of gas. The Fall River gas company has just announced a reduction from $1.25 to $1.15 in the price per 1000 cubic feet. The Lowell price is still $1.60.

Senator Lodge may be relied upon to guard American interests at the disarmament conference. He is not the kind of man that the foreign delegations can bamboozle by any form of diplomatic camouflage.

Poston certainly shows high appreciation for the police officers as he shows detestation for those who slunk on the job. Officer Cuneo is her latest police martyr.

Henry Sullivan has had to give up in his third attempt to swim the English channel. He made a courageous fight but the elements were against him.

SEEN AND HEARD

Took Him Anyhow
Saphead—I know I am not good enough for you.
Miss Sweet—Well, I suppose you will prove it after we are married.—New York Sun.

Dangerous Word
Friend—What's the matter? Been in a wreck?
Movie Director (all bandaged up)—No, I engaged a lot of doughboys for a battle scene. I got them all ready, and then I shouted, "Camera!" Huh! they thought I said Kamerad.—Film Fun.

Three Kinds
A teacher in a school asked the other day, "How many kinds of flowers are there?"
Three pupils held up their hands. She chose one to reply.
"Well, Jack, how many kinds of flowers are there?"
"Three, teacher."
"Indeed! And what are they?"
"Wild, tame and collie."—London Opinion.

Try This on Your Wife Friend
Three men, each with a like number of roses, met nine women. Each man gave to each woman the eighteenth part of his roses. Thus each woman had three roses, each of the three men. How many roses did each man have at first?

Answer to yesterday's: Ten trains:
One for each of the five days of your trip and one for each of the five days previous, still on their way.

Robbed Hair
Even some of Lowell's business men are said to object to bobbed hair. Yet if they, or anybody else employing girls can think of a more sensible innovation among the hundreds adopted yearly by their employees than the custom of bobbing the hair, they have been more observant of passing styles than the average citizen. The wonder is that more women have not rebelled earlier against the less sanitary and less comfortable hair styles in vogue. Bobbed hair is easy to comb, easy to wash, cooler in summer, impossible to disarrange and not disagreeable to look at. To possess it is to share with men in a degree the freedom from the necessity of protracted labor in front of a mirror which has given the male a decided advantage in commercial and industrial competition. It removes one more of the barriers to physical activity which are raised against women during the so-called age of chivalry. Even the Chinese are abandoning the practice of foot-binding. The American girl should be allowed to wear her hair the way she likes it.

Vermont Country Life
You'd rather live in your home town And know the folks who live there, I'm pretty sure, than seek renown By climbing fortune's stair.
Of chasing big game through Broadway With hail, oil on your hair.

They're all your friends, you know 'em all, There's isn't one that's cool; With some you played when you was small, With others went to school; There ain't but just one man in town You'd call a ternal fool.

You know the merchant and his clerk, You know old Side-Judge Sears, And old Aunt Oakes that's took in for work For more than thirty years; You know who's put that Morgan coil And yoke of shorthorn steers.

You know where everybody goes That slips away from home; Ed Smith has cousins in Cohoes, And she a niece in Rome; You know Ned that lost his leg And legacy at home.

You know the preacher, Elder Bean, The miller, his wife and his son, And Allie Gates that never seen Montpelier in his life, And "Doc" seems pretty mighty, clost A-sense he used his knife.

You know old Mills that sorts the mail, Although it takes him long, And Sam, that went young Lightfoot's ball.

The time he stepped in wrong; It's so long and so cold and stung, This piece would be a song.

There isn't any one in town That's setting up for king, Or killing folks to keep a crown, Nor any such a thing; If you guess that hens would hide, The spitters cease to sing.

You're all a happy, healthy band, Whose sense of right is clear; You think good thoughts and work your land And neighbor through the year; No badgers, no foxes, no fox ride, No days and night to fear.

Then prod your pride to reach your goal, Your blood is strictly pure; You have no dark, duello blight To overcome or cure; You ain't any less as long As decent folks endure.

—Daniel L. Cady, in Burlington Daily News.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

I notice that the Lawrence Telegram has the following editorial expression relative to the initiative gas petition: The staid citizens of Lowell are becoming alarmed over the possibilities that confront them when the referendum election is held. The question of taking over the Lowell Gas company and running it as a part of the municipal outfit, running it as the Lowell street department or water or poor department has been a hot topic.

"But such citizens of Lowell must run the risk that at the referendum election enough citizens of Lowell will be of the opinion that a municipality can run the gas company all right for enough Lowell voters signed the referendum petition to assure that the question will be put to a vote."

However, there is still some faint hope among the responsible citizens of Lowell that when it comes squarely before the voters enough of them will vote against it to give it its quietus for a period of years.
"Knowing the way the majority of the Lowell voters fall for every kind of scheme put over by persons who are looking for soft jobs for themselves, the Lowell people who think and who pay the freight are naturally not over confident of defeating the project. They are placing most of their reliance on the move for the taking over of a gas company by a city must be endorsed by the voters at two consecutive elections. Then they also take some confidence in the further fact that as the expenditure for such an undertaking as purchasing the Lowell Gas company would necessitate the city of Lowell borrowing more than two and one-half per cent. of the city's valuation it would have to apply to the legislature for special permission to do so."

The golf bug continues its triumphs, biting relentlessly and apparently being no respecter of persons. Here in Lowell the victims lie in swatches, and include ordinarily quiet and sane individuals in every walk in life. The talk, where business and professional men gather, is all of matches and whatnot. Serious souls who have not yet unbudged themselves of the terrible news that they, too, are golf nuts, linger on the outskirts of the groups, intruding questions which they seek to make seem casual queries of one not particularly interested. The professional and business element in the town seems as much engrossed in such things as putting as another has recently become in putting and taking.

PETER COOPER HEWITT, INVENTOR, DEAD

PARIS, Aug. 26.—Peter Cooper Hewitt, the American electrical expert and inventor, widely known in scientific circles throughout the world, died at the American hospital here last evening. He recently underwent an operation for abdominal trouble, and appeared to be recovering when he was attacked by pneumonia. Mrs. Hewitt and Mr. Hewitt's two sisters were at the bedside when he died.

Peter Cooper Hewitt, inventor, son of Abram S. Hewitt, one-time representative in congress and mayor of New York, and grandson of Peter Cooper, the philanthropist, was born in New York city on March 6, 1861. He was educated at Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N. J., and at Columbia university, graduating as a mechanical and electrical engineer. Four fundamental inventions of Mr. Hewitt—the vaporized mercury electric lamp, the static converter or rectifier used to convert alternating currents into direct currents, the electrical interrupter and the wireless receiver—were developed by him as the result of years of experimentation with electric currents passing through mercury vapor. He devised the telephone relay and electric wave amplifier, as well as apparatus for use in connection with the wireless telephone and telegraph. Ordinary incandescent lamps, at the time Mr. Hewitt announced his new method of illumination, wasted 97 per cent. of heat or energy in transforming the remaining 3 per cent. into light. Hewitt forced the current through a long glass tube containing mercury and the result was a relatively "cold" yet bright light of a bluish-green color about eight times stronger than incandescent light produced by the same amount of power.

The Hewitt rectifier, a device whose merits were recognized by Lord Kelvin, operates like a check valve in a water pipe, permitting the current of electricity to flow freely in one direction and entirely preventing its flow in the opposite. Mr. Hewitt was interested in a number of industrial corporations and was a member of numerous clubs. He was a trustee of Cooper Union, founded by his grandfather. In 1915 he was appointed a member of the United States naval consulting board, composed of scientific men in civil life who co-operated with the government in connection with problems growing out of the war. Mr. Hewitt was twice married; his first wife was Miss Lucy Work, a daughter of Frank Work of New York city, and his second Mrs. Maryon J. Brugniere.

EARLY MORNING FIRE

The roof of a large barn owned by Nicholas Kazanas, situated in the rear of 179 Suffolk street, was damaged by fire shortly before 1 o'clock this morning. Flames lashed the city for blocks and made people think that a much larger fire was in progress. The barn was vacant.

A concrete arch bridge in the south of France is said to have been in existence since 36 B. C.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem Two Sea Songs

I AM sick, sick, sick for the sea,
For a ship on the trackless trail,
And it's there, there, there I'd be,
In the rush of the salty gale;
I am sick at soul for the heave and roll
When the great waves clamber high
And the engines ring and the mast-heads swing,
It's sick for the sea am I!

Sick, sick, sick for the sea,
For once you hear the call
You'll go, go, go where the salt winds blow
And the deep sea holds its thrall.

(Later)
I AM sick, sick, sick of the sea
As I lean on the vessel's rail,
I don't care, care, care to be
Where my features are green and pale;
And you wouldn't believe what the roll and heave
Of the great waves does to a guy
Of the meals they bring I can't keep a thing
And it's sick of the sea am I!

Sick, sick, sick of the sea!
(Was that the dinner call?)
Yes, I wanted to go, but now I know
That once is enough—that's all!

NEW LAKEVIEW PARK

The Honey Boy quartet will perform at Lakeview tonight. It's some organization. If you have not heard the boys sing, just take a run out to the popular picnic ground and wax enthusiastic with the crowd. In combination with Miller-Boyle's orchestra, there is no finer feature as an adjunct to dancing. Lakeview will continue to attract people through September. The demand is such that the management has concluded to extend the season beyond Labor Day, contrary to annual custom.

The collection of the congressional library in Washington is the third largest in the world.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 24.—"If you'd be beautiful, have children. If you'd keep both youth and beauty, have many children."

This is the advice given to modern married women by Mrs. William Rothschild, a great-great-grandmother, who within a few months will celebrate her one hundredth birthday.

Mrs. Rothschild is the mother of 12 children. With a dusting of powder over her smile-winked skin, her silver-white hair smoothly combed, her blue eyes bright with interest in world and family affairs, she appears unusually distinguished and charming.

"My mother," says Mrs. Rothschild, "was considered one of the most beautiful women in the city of Newburgh, Germany. She was slender, erect, well dressed always. And she reared 12 children.

"I had five sisters, all beautiful. Yetta bore 11 children, and lived to 80. Lottie also had 11, and lived past 80. Sophia had only eight, but when she was 50 people used to wonder if she and her daughter were not sisters."

Mrs. Rothschild resides with her oldest daughter, Mrs. Beile A. Pollack, who is a great-grandmother. "It is the children who have kept my mother and myself so young," says Mrs. Pollack. "With each child, and grandchild, and great-grandchild, our own youth has been revived."

And now that the great-great-grandchild blesses them they just feel as if they can hardly wait for the sixth generation!

act of congress applicable to the District of Columbia, which treats rental property as affected with a public interest and subjects the relationship of landlord and tenant to commission regulation.

"The New York type of statute simply takes away the remedy of eviction where the contract which the landlord claims is breached is considered by the courts to be unreasonable, as, for example, where the rent demanded by the landlord is, in the opinion of the court, excessive. The New York legislature has declared as 'excessive' any rent which is more than 10 per cent. in excess of the rent of the previous year. The landlord can not evict a tenant who pays the reasonable rental."

"The act of congress authorizes the rent commission of the District of Columbia to adopt standard forms of leases, to fix reasonable rentals and terms of tenancy and to determine semi-judicially controversies between landlord and tenant. The authority of the rent commission and its procedure are analogous to that of the interstate commerce commission in the field of interstate commerce. Both types of statutes have now been upheld by the supreme court of the United States as justifiable regulation of public property in the interest of the public welfare during the abnormal housing conditions following the war."

"In the field of landlord and tenant law, we find recent examples of unusual legislation. Shortage of housing accommodations has given rise to an abnormal demand, with resultant high rentals. These in turn have been made the justifications for legislative regulation of rentals and terms and conditions of tenancy. Rent legislation has taken the form of either (1) statutes like those in New York, repealing or varying statutory rent ceilings of the landlord in such a way as to compel or induce him to accept reasonable rents, or (2) comprehensive legislation like that contained in the

WIRELESS WORDS OF BURIAL SERVICE AT SEA

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 25.—During a recent voyage of the Carmanla from America, a request was received in the ship's wireless room from another vessel asking for the transmission to her wireless of the words of the burial service.

The reason for this unusual request was that a fireman on board the Canadian steamer, Canadian Trapper, had been taken ill on the voyage and had died and the captain discovered that there was no copy of the prayer book on board.

The Carmanla operator telegraphed by wireless the whole of the burial service.

REVIVING A LOST ART

English children are reviving an art of the past—modeling in bread! Victorian women used to pride themselves on the clever little jars of flowers which they made out of bread and then colored.

English children, however, are including twigs and colorful glass beads in their work. It's good indoor fun for a rainy day.

The small dead brown hough is ornamented as the child sees fit with glass beads hanging from colored threads. Occasionally some especially enterprising youngsters cut flowers from old kid gloves and pastes gay bits of yarn on for centers.

Bread is quite often used for flowers. Worked between the fingers until it becomes plastic, perhaps dampened a little, it is shaped and then painted with water colors. Sometimes bread birds are given a tuff of real feathers.

The bread hardens and lasts for a year or more. They're clever, Japanese looking ornaments.

If you would have easily digestible eggs, don't actually boil them. Put them into boiling water, cover pan with lid, remove from fire and leave on back of stove for five minutes. The eggs will be light and thoroughly cooked.

INCREASED COST OF STUDENT LIFE

PARIS, Aug. 25.—The increased cost of student life in Paris is preventing families of moderate means from allowing their sons to take up a liberal career. The monthly budget of a student living in the Latin Quarter is given by an investigator in Excelsior as 740 francs.

At the present rate of exchange this is equivalent to about $60 a month. Before 1890 the pennut had little or no commercial value.

FINISHING HONEYMOON IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26.—A fashionably dressed couple describing themselves as Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Hoover of Montreal and Boston, are finishing their honeymoon in a police station cell here while authorities investigate their standing in Canada and New England.

Pleading that she, a graduate of a fashionable New England finishing school, was duped into marrying Hoover, the woman created a scene in the police station when she stripped off her wedding ring, other jewelry and a fur piece, after her husband had admitted stealing them.

While Mrs. Hoover explained that she thought her husband was a wealthy man, a graduate of Harvard and socially acceptable, until after they had been married and started on their honeymoon to Havana, Hoover declared she had known his past and were landed in cable baskets and lived for two days on the fantastic "Isle of Penguins," off the Mexican coast, among millions of sea fowl. They were brought to San Diego by the U. S. destroyer Farquhar.

SOLD WATER FOR BOOZE AND GOT $2300

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 26.—The group of men who were responsible for the 12 prominent Portland men parting with $2300 for seven kegs containing 95 gallons each of Sebago lake water, have been making their headquarters at Old Orchard, according to information received here from a reliable source yesterday.

The men went to Old Orchard early in the season, from a large New England city, where each hired a cottage. They have been working independently of each other, it is claimed, in or-door not to excite the suspicion of the police.

The scheme to sell a quantity of water, for choice whiskey, to Portland citizens, was concocted in an Old Orchard cottage, and a man went to Portland, where he met citizens telling them he had a quantity of liquor that he would dispose of at a reasonable figure, for the prohibition period.

The deserted house was hired at Stroudwater, and the kegs and siphon arranged for the Portland man, who was to bring the money to the cottage to pay for the "liquor."

Five gun men were engaged to come to Portland, it is said, by the fake liquor group, and they were at the cottage on the night the transfer of Sebago lake water was made for the $2300. It is stated that the gang of men behind the scheme were determined to have the $2300, and had the scheme failed to work, the money would have been taken from the man by force.

The men responsible for the deal returned to Old Orchard, where they have been located until this week, when it is reported that they went to the Bangor fair.

DECLARES THE WHOLE WORLD SHOULD KNOW WHAT A GRAND MEDICINE TANLAC IS

"At one time I thought I would never live to see the day when I could again sit down and enjoy a good meal, but Tanlac restored me, to perfect health, and I now enjoy eating as well as any of my children," said Mrs. J. B. Bergeron, a highly esteemed resident of 25 Rochelle st., Springfield, Mass., while visiting relatives in Worcester recently.

"In the past year I had so much trouble from indigestion that I could scarcely eat anything. Often the gas from my undigested food would press up against my heart so bad it palpitated until I thought it would jump out of my body, and many times I suffered until it seemed that my time had surely come. I couldn't eat anything but gruels, soups, a little toast and milk, and even these hurt me. Many times I got so dizzy and weak I couldn't stand up, and at times had such awful headaches I would be in bed for a week or so."

"After suffering so much, Tanlac has proved a god-send to me; for my troubles are all gone and life is a pleasure. I eat like a child, and nothing hurts me. I am glad to give this statement, for I think the whole world ought to know what a grand medicine Tanlac is."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's drug store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass.; A. D. Falls, Chelmsford, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

WIFE DESERTED THROUGH FUN MAKING

BY RUTH AGNES ABELING

Henry was a continuous joke to her.

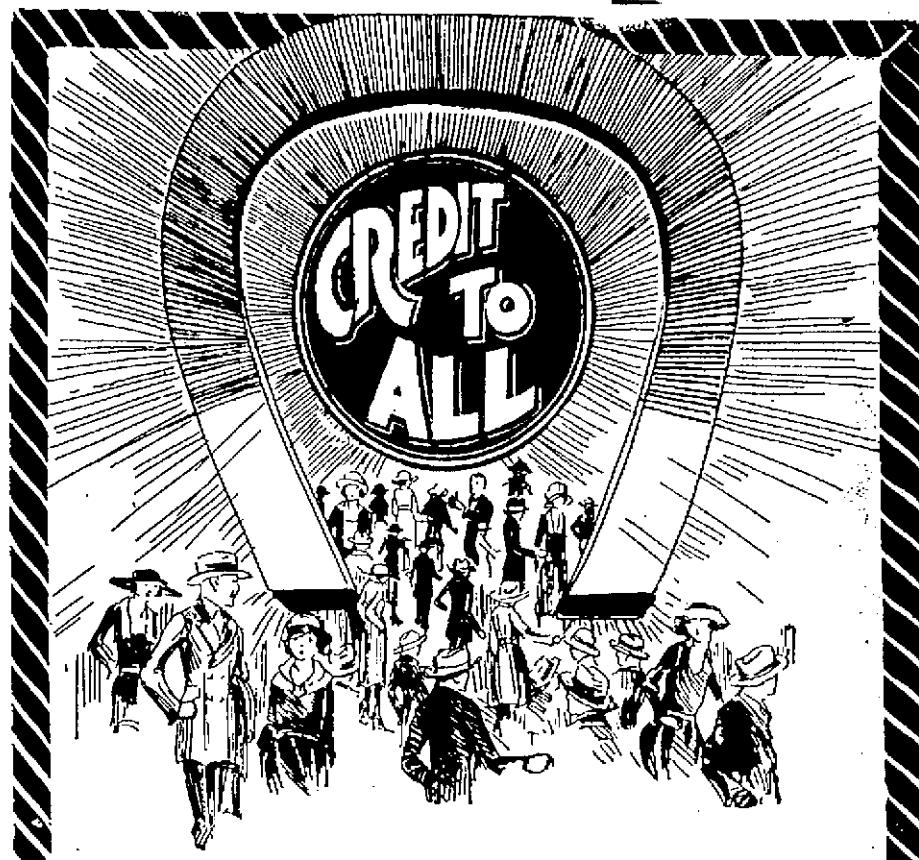

Henry had a falling for purple socks. He wasn't a bit vain or anything of that sort, but he found an unholy joy in pulling purple socks on his feet at 7 a. m. at least three days out of every week.

And Henry's wife thought purple socks were a joke. And she told Henry so with acid in the laugh which roughened her voice as she scoffed.

Then Henry liked a certain sort of collar. It wasn't the close, smart one that most men wore but something that gave his neck "room to breathe," as he said.

Henry's wife tittered over that collar and used to call the company's attention to it and poke fun at it until the part of Henry's neck which showed in the crack was purple and he stammered off up stairs on some silly pretext or sat silently in a corner of the sofa looking intently at the monstrous toes of his monstrous shoes.

And Henry's feet—they were outrageously large and, just like his hands, he didn't use them with any too much grace. His wife wouldn't dance with him and openly offered her sympathy to every woman who came back from a session of laboring over the

Camels are made for Men who Think for Themselves

Such folks know real quality—and DEMAND it.

They prefer Camels because Camels give them the smoothest, mellowest smoke they can buy—because they love the mild, rich flavor of choicest tobaccos, perfectly blended—and because Camels leave NO CIGARETTY AFTERTASTE.

Like every man who does his own thinking, you want fine tobacco in your cigarettes. You'll find it in Camels.

And, mind you, no flashy package just for show. No extra wrappers! No costly frills. These things don't improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons.

But QUALITY! Listen! That's CAMELS!

floor with Henry madly clutching the back of her gown.

It became a regular thing with Henry's wife—this laughing.

She never blessed his great big old-fashioned-in-the-rough-heart and told him that she knew he wasn't meant for a parlor ornament and that they didn't need anything like that around their neat little flat, anyhow.

She never told him that she loved him, just because he was different and made her laugh—and then took the barb out of her laugh.

And so Henry became a self-conscious, silent man, who clung with sullen tenacity to purple socks, collars which set away, and awkward ways as to feet, until one day a little butterfly swooped down and just loved the purple socks, and thought the collars made him look strong and original, and liked big, awkward hands and feet on men because they made them look so nice and sturdy.

Henry, suddenly changing all of his awkward self-consciousness for something called mastery, went slithering after the gay little butterfly and left his wife with nothing to laugh at, and a great, big, empty place in her heart, that she didn't even know was there, until she stopped laughing.

STOCK MARKET

The following is a complete report, giving high, low and closing quotations:

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Market leaders rose one or almost five points in the early dealing, on the stock exchange today, causing a hasty retreat of the shorts. Crucible Steel was the most conspicuous feature, jumping three points a single sale and soon extending its rise to 45 points. Cils also were strong, Mexican Petroleum, General Asphalt, Houston and Pierce gaining 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 points. Atlantic Gulf, American International, Standard Oil, General Electric, Baldwin, Kelly-Springfield, Cuba Cane Sugar and Sumatra Tobacco gained one to two points. Northern Pacific featured the rally at an advance of two points. Various other steels, motors, equipments and specialties trailed along at more moderate gains.

There were almost no exceptions to the further rise of the first hour. Shorts continued to cover in the oil, motors, equipments, sugars, tobacco, foodstuffs and shingles, these issues falling one to three points. Sears-Roebuck, North American, National Enameling and Pacinco, Players made considerable gains. Among the falls, Great Northern, St. Paul common and preferred, Missouri Pacific common and preferred, Rock Island, Atchafalaya, Erie, Reading and Baltimore also gained 1 to 1 1/2. Selling for profits and recurrent weakness among specialties, notably U. S. Rubber, the market closed moderate set-back before noon. Call money opened and renewed next week at 5 per cent.

U. S. Rubber, at 2 point decline and United Drug which fell 3 1/2 points were the only backward features at mid-day. Otherwise the market continued with less activity. Petroleum, Atlantic Gulf, Mercantile, Marine preferred, American Woolen, General Electric and Famous-Players about the outstanding feature.

been lured by the bait of rides in commodious limousines are brought before Mrs. Hearn and the policewomen in scores. Every energy is being bent towards saving these young girls, who are roundly lectured, warned and admonished in an effort to rescue them from a fate worse than death.

Parents to Help

Co-operation with the parents of the girls is one of the principal methods employed in an effort to stamp out vice here. After the girls have been advised by Mrs. Hearn or one of the policewomen, their parents are usually called in for consultation. It is found that in practically all instances they are only too eager to join their efforts with those of the authorities.

"Officers Moore and Cooney," said Mrs. Skilton, this morning, "have been of the utmost assistance in placing a check on conditions in Lowell. We depend upon them greatly, and cannot too highly commend their collaboration."

Both Miss Skilton and Mrs. Jeremiah Leary have visited the scene of automobile parties, and have taken the names and addresses of men and girls. The names of the men have been turned over to Officers Cooney and Moore, while every attempt has been made to get the girls in future. Many incidents have been discovered on the highways of the city, in automobiles and the offenders' names are now in the possession of the authorities.

Mrs. Leary stated that in her opinion publicity accorded to the efforts made to better conditions would be of immense value. It appears to be generally agreed that conditions here are elsewhere, are deplorable because of the increasing use of automobiles for seemingly immoral purposes.

shots in the head. Deputy Dietz also was wounded.

Mathias Erzberger, German vice premier and minister of finance, was shot and wounded January 26, 1920, as he was leaving the criminal court building in Berlin after attending a hearing in a libel suit he had brought against Dr. Karl Helfferich, the former German vice chancellor. His assailant gave his name as Otto Hirschfeld, a former cadet officer, 20 years old, a student, and son of a Berlin bank official. Von Hirschfeld was arrested and was quoted as saying he considered Erzberger dangerous to the empire. The assailant fired two shots at Erzberger as he entered his automobile. One bullet glanced off the minister's watch chain and another entered his shoulder.

Erzberger roused a storm in Germany in July, 1917, more than a year before the armistice, by proposing a resolution in the German Reichstag in favor of a peace without annexations and for parliamentary reform. Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg declared this formula unacceptable and Dr. Helfferich subsequently blamed Erzberger's peace proposal for the moral collapse of the German people. The former vice chancellor accused Erzberger of high treason, denounced him as a "menace to the purity of our public life," and invited him to bring suit for libel. He declared that Erzberger must be removed from public office, "if our political life is again to become healthy and normal." He asserted also that Erzberger's fortune had been made during the war by utilizing his political and parliamentary position.

Erzberger accepted the challenge and instituted suit for libel. The hearing was acrimonious and assumed much political importance. Dr. Helfferich delivered denunciatory speeches in court while Erzberger vigorously defended himself and his action in seeking peace in 1917.

Herr Erzberger was for many years leader of the German Center party and one of the leading figures in German public life after Germany's defeat in the war. His peace move of 1917 had made him the storm center of attack by reactionaries; but when Germany's military power collapsed he was made minister without portfolio in the cabinet of Prince Maximilian.

Sen. France Returns From Russia

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Senator France of Maryland returned today on the steamship Rotterdam after visiting Russia. He declared that there was little communism in Russia, the "constructive party" of which Lenin is the head, having forced the abandonment of extreme Marxist theories and restored sound capitalist policies. The senator said the United States should not be alarmed over a trade relationship with Russia "which obviously holds no terrors for Great Britain and Germany" and predicted that famine relief by Americans would be followed by the sending of a trade delegation under United States government auspices.

OFFICIAL PROBE OF AIR DISASTER

U. S. to be Represented by
Naval Attache at Inquiry at
Howden, Eng., Tomorrow

Workmen Employ Powerful
Cranes in Attempt to Salv-
vage Wrecked Dirigible

HULL, Aug. 26. (By the Associated Press.)—Workmen engaged in salvaging the wreckage of the ill-fated ZR-2 from the turbid waters of the Humber, where it fell with its human freight on Wednesday evening, employed powerful cranes today to lift the skeleton of the airship. It was believed that as soon as the twisted and tangled framework was raised it would be possible to recover the bodies of many of the men who died when the dreadnaught of the air collapsed and caught fire.

The work of lifting the wreckage was a herculean task, for, in addition to the great weight of the aluminum framework and the pendant gondolas carrying the driving machinery, the swift current of the river had already begun to cover the immersed ruins with deposits of sand. Divers who went down yesterday found the current so strong that their work was attended by great danger and they finally declined to take further chances because of the water.

Official inquiry into the cause of the disaster will begin tomorrow morning at Howden. The United States will be represented by a naval attache, who will sit with the court.

JAP TENNIS STARS NEED ONE MORE VICTORY

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 26.—Only one more victory was needed by the Japanese Davis cup lawn tennis team today to give it the right to meet the defending United States team at Forest Hills, next week. Ichiya Kuniyaga and Zensho Shimidzu, who yesterday defeated the Australasians, B. Hawkes and J. O. Anderson repeatedly in singles matches, teamed up today to play Anderson and Clarence W. Todd in a doubles contest. Should they win they will become challengers, irrespective of the outcome of the two remaining singles matches tomorrow.

Refuses to Suspend Tariffs

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 26.—The public utilities commission today refused to suspend the tariffs increasing fares on the Providence, Warren, Bristol and Fall River Line of the New Haven road, effective September 1, the petition of the Fall River chamber of commerce being denied. The commission says that this line was operated at a loss of $106,524.70 for the first six months of the year and that to suspend the rates would continue a loss upon the company, whose existence appears to be very seriously endangered by the condition of its financial showing.

WALTER E. GUYETTE, Auctioneer
Office 53 Central St., Lowell, Mass. Telephone 2415

The cottage property and about 1280 square feet of land at No. 7 Richardson avenue, said Richardson avenue being between Coburn and Jewett streets in Centralville, is hereby pledged to the highest bona fide bidder at unrestricted public sale, on Next Saturday, Aug. 27, 1921, at 2 O'Clock P. M.

The house is of the full 2 1/2 story cottage type, has six rooms, and toilet, and gas, city water and sewer connections. There are four rooms on the first floor, besides the toilet, and two bedrooms on the second floor, and an unfinished attic on the floor above.

The cellar is light and is high posted. The lot has a frontage of 22 feet more or less on Richardson avenue, and is all fenced. The location is convenient to the centre of the city, is within easy walking distance of several electric car lines, and in close proximity to the largest of Lowell's manufacturing industries.

With the sale of the above described property at public auction, the opportunity is here given for the party of moderate means to secure a desirable home in a handy locality with a small amount of money to pay down, and with the advantage of paying the balance on easy and reasonable terms.

Terms: $200 must be deposited with the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off. Other terms made known at sale.

PUBLIC AUCTION

SATURDAY, AUG. 27, AT 3 P. M.

I have been instructed by the owner to sell at public auction on the premises, regardless of weather conditions, Saturday, Aug. 27, the modern residence at 4 West Eleventh St., Centralville, Lowell, Mass.

This house has 11 well lighted rooms, steam heat, bath, pantry, open plumbing, set tubs, concrete cellar, screened piazzas, screened doors and windows, double doors, built-in china closet, has entrance from two streets, some fruit trees and land enough to build a garage. It is situated in an ideal neighborhood, convenient to mills, schools, churches, one minute's walk from street car line and 16 minutes' walk from Merrimack Square.

$250 must be deposited with the auctioneer as soon as property is struck off. Other terms made known at time and place of sale.

C. F. CRONIN, Auctioneer in charge.
